Detailed Notes	I attended a meeting at Lumsden Walker, which was attended by CAMHS, Lumsden walker, Dr Richard Williams- Con Paed, school Nurse, Cathy Milton-Head Teacher Wansdyke Primary School, HV. Minutes to follow. Described was a number of concerns regarding <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- [REDACTED] Curtis have a number of complex medical needs.</li> <li>- Parents present as excessively focused on childrens needs- they appear to be constantly looking for further medical concerns for both children which are potentially above and beyond the health needs the children have.</li> <li>- Children's life experiences are limited by the parents over emphasis on their medical needs.</li> <li>- Mother and father/ step father struggle to work for long periods with professionals, make frequent complaints and disengage with workers who challenge their belief as to the medical concerns regarding the children.</li> <li>- this pattern is also witnessed within education</li> </ul> [REDACTED] <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- There is no evidence that the children are being deliberately harmed in order to fabricate illness. The concern is the emotional impact and unnecessary treatment the children may have to manage due to the parents excessive preoccupation regarding their health needs.</li> <li>- There is some evidence of fabricated illness by proxy. There is no evidence of immediate harm. This needs to be investigated as part of a section 47 investigation and a strategy is required.</li> <li>- fabricated illness requires a Con Paed diagnosis. Prior to this a clear assessment of the childrens health needs are required and a medical chronology is necessary.</li> <li>- Concern was expressed that the family may disengage or their anxieties may increase, which will have an impact on the childrens welfare, once they are advised of the CP process. It was agreed that the family should not be informed of the concerns until a strategy meeting has been held. This does not need to include the schools, which will avoid compromising their relationship with the family, but will need to include all health professionals and the starting point is the need for an agreed medical chronology.</li> <li>- I agreed to set up a strategy meeting, including police and health, but that we would wait three weeks to allow Dr Williams time to put together a health chronology. I agreed to allocate a SW who will contact the schools and keep them updated. The strategy will be attended by</li> <li>- Lumsden Walker</li> <li>-CAMHS</li> <li>-Dr Williams</li> <li>- GP- Dr Gibbs- St Johns Lane [REDACTED]</li> <li>-HV</li> <li>-School Nurse</li> <li>- CAIT</li> </ul> [REDACTED]

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	[REDACTED] Visit to family. Myself and TM, James Arthure visited Rebecca and Lee. Both children were there and seen briefly but not part of the meeting. Parents solicitor, Beverley Watkins present. James began by explaining we were invited to meeting by Lumsden Walker and felt there were issues that needed enquiring into so strategy was held. James told the parents who attended and that the prevailing view shared by professionals present was that there was concern that the parents over medicalisation of the children was inhibiting their natural development and could be having a negative effect on them emotionally. Beverley explained a statement had been recently issued but they weren't happy with it and are appealing. James pointed out that this highlighted the differences between professionals and parents. Rebecca expressed dissatisfaction with a number of the professionals present at the strategy and that the CAF process was not meeting Curtis's needs. The parents accepted that Curtis doesn't have ADHA, ASD or mental health issues. I explained the view was that Curtis had an insecure attachment to Rebecca and attempted to explain what this was. Rebecca felt this may have occurred due to the amount of hospitalisation he had when younger and seemed to accept this. [REDACTED] I raised concern that the parents may share letters and their views about professionals with Curtis and possibly blame him for some of the problems. The parents thought there was one instance of this when at Lumsden Walker but were critical of LW and said Curtis has been better since they had stopped going and they were not going to take him anymore. When I said GP thought they might be using Curtis's blue inhaler inappropriately they said they used as advised such as in the morning or before PE. [REDACTED] Rebecca said she felt Curtis was anxious because he is worried about losing Kaytlin. They said he was aware of concerns because he had overheard staff talking about this in hospital and denied they talked to him about this. [REDACTED] James said any of the concerns in isolation would not warrant our involvement but together they painted a worrying scenario. James observed that the parents seemed to distrust a lot of professionals and wondered if this was a mindset which the parents did not think it was but they did feel let down by a lot of the professionals. Beverley pointed out that given the complexities you would expect a lot of professionals to be involved. The parents asked for an instance when they had gone against professional advice to the detriment of the children. [REDACTED] [REDACTED] The parents said they wanted Curtis to have opportunities to socialise and asked at CAF but nothing had been forthcoming. Rebecca said Curtis wasn't as clever as the other children in the area and she didn't let him out the front of the house to play. It was pointed out that school thought Curtis was bright and Beverley suggested Rebecca had meant streetwise rather than clever.

[REDACTED]

James then explained I would complete an assessment which would be likely to take some time, that Dr Williams and I would visit on 15th Jan so Dr Williams could talk to them about him completing a health and developmental assessment/update of the children. James also said we would be required to talk to Curtis's Dad, Christopher D'Alaway. The parents said they had just ended a court process as he had applied for contact with Curtis. Beverley said the judge had given 6 months for indirect contact to take place which hadn't happened and Mr D'Alaway did not turn up for the last hearing so matter was closed. Apparently Curtis has said he doesn't want contact. The parents were very upset that we have to contact Mr D'Alaway. Beverley confirmed to them this is procedure and that we are required to. Both parents became more agitated. They said we would ruin Curtis's life. We said he doesn't have to know unless they were to tell him and we attempted to point this out but it seemed that the parents didn't feel they were able not to tell him. We tried a number of times to say that parents can protect their children from things and that parents protect their children from all sorts of information etc. However, neither parent seemed to feel that the fact we needed to speak to his father could be kept from him. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] It felt that there was not anything more constructive to be gained by continuing and the children were in the next room hearing the parents raised and emotional tones. James agreed we would not contact Mr D'Alaway until we had completed our other enquiries. Beverley is to write to us outlining parents views about why they feel we shouldn't contact him. BC.

14.01.10 - TCT Gus Grimshaw at Bridge Learning Campus - msg left advising of follow up strategy on Weds 20th Jan 12pm at Broadwalk office. dje

15-1-10 Rebecca rang. She wanted to know who was visiting today. I said it was Dr Williams and myself. [REDACTED] However, Rebecca happy to see me and Richard Williams. Rebecca says she has arranged for the children to be elsewhere as they were upset after our last visit. She implied she had information etc that would challenge our concerns. BC.

15-1-10 Visit today with Richard. We began by Richard explaining certain medical terms such as disability, impairment and handicap so all were clear about what was meant and also how environment can affect these conditions. We then went over what we could all agree on in terms of medical issues. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

We had a further conversation about Curtis having an anxious attachment, due to him witnessing DV until age of 7 and having hospitalisations in his early years. The parents accept this.

I feel this meeting has improved our understanding of the situation and the parents, although disputing the need/reasons for our involvement, are more compliant.

Positives are:

Parents have agreed for me to speak with Curtis in school.

Parents [REDACTED] will agree a plan and purpose for future appts [REDACTED]

Parents agree to involvement of CAMHS for Curtis.

Parents agree the children need more socialisation and they are accepting input for Curtis [REDACTED]

20-1-10 Strategy meeting today. See notes on doc details. BC.

20.01.10 - notes of previous strategy distributed and copies posted to those not attending today. dje

26-1-10 I rang parents and discussed the CAF panel today and that they are likely to close CAF we are involved. They understand but want the Connexions worker to remain who saw Curtis last night and will engage him in activities and socialising. Curtis was positive about this. BC.

At CAF school portrayed Curtis as bright, polite, calm but with underlying anger and peer interaction limited. School have offered Curtis opportunity to discuss things if he wants but he hasn't taken this offer up. The parents view was that school don't offer him opportunity to talk and say he is being bullied. They say they have photos on their phone of bruising from bullying and threatened to take them to the police.

Parents were very agitated at CAF being very critical of professionals. Although CAF closed due to our involvement Connexions will continue to engage Curtis in activities and socialising.

Curtis's head of year, Tom Mackie will chase up support in school such as after school activities and support around anger.

CAMHS are still open for Curtis and parents have said they will contact to make an appt.

Tom said when Curtis started school the parents gave an extensive list of medical issues and support they felt he needed but school have not seen evidence of these. I will get more detail from Tom.

Parents also said they have spoken to GP about when Curtis should use his blue inhaler. BC.

28-1-10 I spoke to CAF/CASS. There was not a Guardian allocated for the most recent hearings. This indicates issues resolved some other way. We did not have any involvement. Last Guardian was Jim Lawson in 2007 when this was previously in court and he is now retired. I have asked for someone to get back re details of previous involvement.

I spoke to Curtis's head of year, Tom Mackie. I have arranged to meet with him at 10pm on 2/2 and then to see Curtis at 10.50. I left a message on Rebecca's phone letting her know. BC.

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	2-2-10 I saw Curtis's head of year, Tom Mackie, support worker Ray and Curtis at Bridge Learning Campus school today. Tom said he saw Mum at the induction day before Curtis came to BLC. She gave a list of Curtis's medical conditions and other problems as asthma ( needing pump before PE ), excema, serious mega-colon chronic constipation ( so he would need a toilet pass ), that she suspected he has ADHD or autism, dyslexia, dyspraxia, anger problems, forgetfulness, unable to manage time, untrustworthy, can't go out by himself, problem with feet and she apparently said he was a 'bit of a loser'. She also said she was involved in a really serious court case with Curtis's Dad but didn't say what about.. Tom Mum was so negative about Curtis saying all this in front of him that Tom found a reason to send Curtis off as he felt it was too much for him to be hearing this. Mum requested school do a health plan. Tom gave an appt to do this, Mum didn't attend then made a formal complaint about Tom. School have seen no evidence that Curtis has anger problems although he seems anxious and stressed and has a level of difficulty in social relationships although he does have friends and does socialise in school, chats in class and is not a loner. They have seen no evidence of dyspraxia, dyslexia ( and he has had CATS tests ). There has been no evidence of toilet problems. Curtis has been specially observed in class and no concerns arose. Curtis seems stressed about being organised and has lots of bags and is always last to leave class as he checks all his stuff anxiously. This can lead to him appearing a bit forgetful. When he lost a sock on cmap he became extremely anxious almost wanting everyones belongings to be searched and wanted to ring his mum. Ray has seen Curtis 8 times even though Mum was highly critical at CAF panel recently that Curtis hadn't been seen. Curtis recently got bruised on legs from incident in drama involving another boy kicking him through some curtains. School have resolved this but mum had been to school with photos and accused them of not dealing with it. Schools overview; That Curtis is an overuse of resources as his real needs are far less than those that mum says he has, that Curtis has significant emotional needs due to his relationship with his mum, the issues she promotes and his anxiety around this. Ray will continue to see him and offer time to talk etc. I then spoke to Curtis. He says he likes school and likes PE and IT but is not so keen on English and maths although he says he is good at maths. He says he likes seeing Ray and wants this to continue as he chats about life at home and Ray is getting him a guitar to use at home. Curtis stays on at school 4X a week to do computer club. Curtis went out with Neil who is a Connexions worker recently and liked this and wants to continue. Next week Neil is taking him to scouts and he would like this as it will be an opportunity to make new friends. Curtis says he has friends in school but not outside of school. Curtis says he gets angry at home but not at school.. He says that this may be because he is occupied at school but bored at home and so he is up for joining clubs etc. He says he directs his anger at Mum, that it comes from nowhere. Curtis told me about the bullying incident but it is resolved now. He suffered some bullying a week or so ago and told someone and this is sorted now. I asked Curtis about his medical conditions. He says he has asthma and needs a pump before PE-before bed and in the morning but it doesn't stop him doing anything. He has an excema tablet every night which works, he has a nasal spray for rionitis, has a headache tablet every night for 'tension headaches' and homeopathic drops to help him relax and not be aggressive to mum which he says are not working. He says the court case with his 'biological dad' stressed him out ( he calls Lee dad ). His dad was meant to have indirect contact to show his commitment but only got one letter when he wrote one which he says blamed everything on his mum. He says he knows it was not his mums fault as his mum let him listen in on phone calls. He feels let down by his dad and doesn't want contact and is glad it is all over. Curtis came across as insightful, bright, able and conversed well. BC [REDACTED] 9-2-10 I have requested a summary from CAFCASS regarding their involvement. Rebecca rang. She wondered what was happening with the investigation. I said I was waiting to hear from some of the Drs and would be writing a report. Rebecca says this is all putting a strain on her and Lee's relationship. I said I was trying to progress things as quickly as possible. BC. 11-2-10 [REDACTED] [REDACTED] Curtis went to scouts yesterday with Connexions worker. He came back at 9ish and was moody and a bit aggressive this morning so Rebecca feels he would be better going to a motor bike project at the Park. I suggested that it may be premature to discount scouts after just one visit and he mat settle into it. Curtis is going out with other young people with Cionnexions worker to cinema and ice-skating to get him socialising with peers. BC.

Detailed Notes	7-4-10 Letter sent to Rebecca advising her we will be making contact with Curtis's Dad, Christopher D'Allaway. See ex docs.
	9-4-10 Lee Drew rang. I updated him as to where I was with the Sec 47 report. I said I would try to complete it as soon as I could. I discussed what I would be asking Curtis's Dad.
	Lee says when he and Rebecca talk to agencies who have told us they have concerns they are not telling them the same thing and minimising their concerns ( Curtis's school and Lumsden Walker ). I don't know if this is correct but suggested to Lee that he contact them for more detail about what they have told us. BC.
	I rang [REDACTED] which is number for Christopher Allaway. Had to leave a message asking him to contact me.
	Mr Allaway called back and I have arranged for him to come to the office at 1.30 on Mon 19th. BC.
	19-4-10 James and myself met with Chris Allaway. We said we were looking into a matter which we would explain in a bit but first we asked if he had any information or concerns that he thought we might need to know. [REDACTED]
	[REDACTED]
	Chris said he was still going through court to gain contact with Curtis. He said he is waiting for a date for the situation to be reviewed. ( Solicitor from South West Law ).
	Chris said in terms of physical care Rebecca was a good Mum. He did say that his concerns were around his emotional well-being as she did not protect him from things such as physically fighting with her mother a few xmas's ago in front of Curtis and that she would row with people and not shield him from conflict. [REDACTED]
	Chris said he hadn't seen Curtis for 3 years. He said Rebecca would often not turn up for court and felt she had 'poisoned' Curtis against him. When they split up he used to see Curtis several times a week and when Rebecca was in hospital for 3 months after having Kaylin he had Curtis every night. Chris says when he got together with his current partner who had a child Rebecca stopped all contact. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED] Chris and his partner now have another child, a girl called Lexi.
We explained to Chris why we are involved. He said Rebecca would look for problems and over dramatise things or exaggerate. [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED] He said Rebecca had never protected Curtis from details of illnesses or the court case he has been going through.
Chris said the only health issues he is aware of for Curtis were very bad exzema when he was younger and asthma which is controlled now. Otherwise he said apart from being shy he felt Curtis could get on with things normally.
Chris came up from working in Southampton to see us and presented as appropriately concerned. He had some positive things to say about Rebecca and seemed balanced in what he told us and did not seem to want to be overly critical of her. BC.

Detailed Notes	12-5-10 Info recieved from Neil Light from Connexions who works with Curtis.
	Here are the details that I have logged onto our system about my work with Curtis and the family over the last week. I think Rebecca's Mums funeral is on Friday. I will speak to her later and say that I have spoken with you and that you will be in touch. I hope this is ok.
	29/4/10 - Telephone contact

11 of 404

Spoke to Curtis' mum to arrange picking up Curtis tomorrow. She said things had got worse. He had threatened her with a screw driver and had tried to hang himself. She told school this and Curtis admitted this in front of a Teacher and they have let Social services know. She does not want him taken away. His Mum wants counselling for Curtis and I spoke about Camhs help and to re-refer him. I spoke to Curtis about these events on the phone but he said nothing to me. He said everything was fine and would not say anything else. I arranged to pick him up from School tomorrow at 2:35 to go and play golf.

30/4/10 - Telephone contact

spoke to Curtis's Mum about the exact details of what had happened. She said the school know about Curtis trying to hang himself and she wanted Curtis to tell them himself as she feels no one ever believes her about his behaviour at home. I asked if social services knew and she said the school let the duty team know as Ben Crang, their social worker is on leave until 12th May. She is afraid his Manager will have Curtis taken away and does not trust him. She said she had also spoken to her GP and counsellor and they have informed social services as well. Her Gp is also going to see if her counsellor can work with Curtis as well. She was also given other agencies such as rainbows in Withywood. I spoke about off the record as well and supporting Curtis with his counselling sessions. She also has their number.

It was agreed to wait to see if the gp can find a suitable counsellor for Curtis before we spoke to off the record but I would speak to Curtis about counselling today. His Mum said there are a lot of issues around him - his Dad not being around and his sister who is disabled. She also asked if I could reassure Curtis he would not be taken away as he is scared about this. I said I would do this as well.

Met Curtis at the end of his school day and had a chat with him about what had happened. He said he had threatened his Mum with a screwdriver. He did not mention trying to hang himself. I spoke to him about this and he said he had but told me this was a year or 2 ago and not a few days ago. He also said he was scared of being taken away by social services. I explained this won't happen as he enjoys living at home. I also noticed mud down his trouser leg and he said he had been pushed down a hill by some other kids. I asked if he had told anyone he said he had not because he did not want to make things worse. I said I would tell Ray Cockram, learning mentor to speak to him discreetly about it. He said this was ok to do.

After this we went to play mini golf with another young person and Curtis enjoyed this. Afterwards went home and spoke with him with his Mum and step dad about how counselling could help to talk about his feelings and also anger management. He said this was a good idea. When we were having this conversation his Mum and step dad were negative to Curtis right in front of him. I spoke about maybe Curtis wanting to go out more and that is why he is getting angry. But they said that he has no common sense and is easily led. Curtis seemed to get more angry at this. Curtis also spoke about a friend's house he could go round but his Mum said that was not going to happen as she did not like the family. Curtis also spoke about Revvs motorcycle project and fencing and I said I would see what I could find out.

Spoke to Curtis's Mum on phone to see how things were. Curtis was still at school. She has spoken with her own counsellor and they are going to try and refer Curtis to Southmead hospital for counselling and anger management. Mum also said she wants Curtis to move school and she believes he is easily led and this is causing problems at home as he is now swearing. I said it might happen in the new school but she believed the bridge campus is not a good school. I asked if he wanted to go out more and how this might help with his anger. She said to him he can go out if he wants but he said he did not want to. Mum thinks he is attention seeking but in the wrong way and is using this. Mum said that things had begun to settle down after court case but believes because social services are involved things have gotten worse. I asked about court case - his Dad was trying to get contact as he has not seen Curtis since the age of 7. Curtis does not want to see him. I said I would try and see Curtis this week and let her know.

7/5/10

Phone call received from stepdad Lee. Explained Curtis had 'kicked off' again and said he was going round his friends house, Nicky Smith whether he likes it or not and stay there all weekend. He said that I gave him bus passes so he could do this. I said this was not true. Also been saying things like his step dad gave him a chinese burn which he says he didn't. His step dad feels he is lying all over the place. I said i would speak to Curtis when I saw him later on that day.

Met Curtis at school and asked how things were at home. He said things were not good and he had been fighting with his Mum and Stepdad. He explained he only wants more freedom so he can go round his friends house and he doesn't want to just roam the streets like his Mum says. We spoke about maybe if he was good he could go round his friends house on monday but he would need to speak to his Mum about this. We went on the water taxi which Curtis enjoyed and I took him home afterwards.

When we got back to his house Curtis said he had arranged to go round his friends house Josh Bradbury on Monday. he did not say anything about being good over the weekend. His Mum and step dad became annoyed because he had arranged something behind there back. Curtis got very angry very quickly. He started being abusive and said he was doing it anyway. He spoke about wanting his own freedom. Mum blamed Curtis for a lot of things in argument - her mother has recently died and she could not see her before she died because curtis had misbehaved. She also said that he will end up worst than her sister who she said became a 'drug addict' because she hung around Hartcliffe. His step dad was also angry with Curtis saying it was always 'take, take,take' with Curtis. His Mum spoke about moving school so he was around different people. They did not listen to Curtis. I spoke to Curtis about needing to also be good if he wants to go out. In the end, they agreed that if Curtis behaved over the weekend she would speak to Josh's Mum on Monday about Curtis going round. I said to Mum I would speak to Ben Crang when he returns about anger management for Curtis.

Met Curtis at lifecycle to see how things were, he had invited a friend, Robin Spicer to lifecycle. He said he had been arguing all weekend with parents and he didn't care he was going up his friends tommorow even if they said no. I advised him this would be a bad thing to do as they would not let him come to lifecycle or come out with me. He asked me to speak with his Mum afterwards but they left really quickly.

Phone call recieved shortly after from Step dad and Mum who said Curtis was out of control and was angry, threatening them with knives and physical violence. Saying his step dad is hitting him when he isn't. I explained i would speak to ben crang tommorow about what i have seen but i did say to mum that curtis would be less angry if he was allowed to go round his friends house but she did not like his friends or the school he is at and said that after he moves school she would allow him to go out with his friends. I said i would call her when i have spoken to Ben Crang - social worker.

25-5-10 I have written to Rebecca and Lee updating them about the strategy etc and copied it to their solicitor. See doc details. BC.

27-5-10 Call from Neil at Connexions. He phoned family yesterday and Lee told him Curtis had been 'kicking off' as he couldn't get his own way. Curtis came to the phone and said his parents were being 'idiots' and then Rebecca shouted at him saying if he said things we would take Kaytlin away. Lee said they were going to allow Curtis's friend in but he wouldn't tidy his room. Curtis has also been banned from the computers at school for 2 months for inputting something rude about a teacher. Neil is seeing Curtis late to do an activity with another boy. BC.

Detailed Notes	7-6-10 I visited Rebecca and Lee with colleague Cassie Knight. I explained decision of strategy was to have a case conference and who would be there and what decisions a conference could make (CP plan, CIN plan or nothing). I explained that I would visit before the conference to share my report with them. When I raised about inviting Curtis's Dad to the conference Rebecca strongly objected on the grounds that he has not been part of Curtis's life, [REDACTED] I have e-mailed the chair of the conference as to her view about inviting Mr Allaway given Rebecca's views. [REDACTED]
	17-6-10 CP conference today. See reoprt on PARIS. Children registered under potential emotional abuse. I have referred to C&FST for parenting support etc. I have advised Richard Williams of core group meeting date on 2/7 at 1.pm. Richard is to offer the parents an appt as was an outcome of the conference to discuss the childrens conditions, clarify any issues that need it and to support the parents in promoting a positive and 'can do' attitude towards their medical conditions. [REDACTED]
	24-6-10 Call from Paul Anthony at CAMHS. GP has made a recent referral which he wanted to discuss with me. I followed this with the following e-mail as I want input and discussion with whoever takes this on at CAMHS.  Hi Paul, as discussed. At the recent case conference Curtis and his sister, Kaytlin were made the subject of child protection plans under the category of potential emotional abuse. Among a number of recommendations was a referral to CAMHS. I was unaware the GP had already made one but the conference felt it would be helpful for CAMHS to offer the family support around the following issues:  Referral to CAMHS for work between Ms Osborne and Curtis focusing on the insecure attachment and also to focus on increasing Ms Osborne and Mr Drew's understanding of the effect that talking about the children negatively in front of them will have on them. Also to increase the parent's understanding of how over-promotion of the children's illnesses will cause them to develop a self-image of themselves as being more limited and medicalised than they actually are. Also to increase their understanding of the effect that not protecting the children from, or actively involving them in, conflictual relationships with professionals will have on them. Also to assess whether Curtis would benefit from anger management.
	I hope this is helpful. I would support the family being seen by a new team so as to maximise the chances of getting the parents co-operation and to help them see this as a new episode now the children are on CP plans. Please contact me if I can be of further help.
	30-6-10 Call from Lou at C&FST. She cannot allocate and it may be some months before she can. Lou will let me know when she can give me a date.

Detailed Notes	Initial referral came from Lumsden Walker CAMHS service inviting C&amp;YPS to a meeting on 24/11/09 as they had concerns that Ms Osborne was presenting Curtis (and Kaytlin) with a significant number of emotional and medical issues. It was felt that although Curtis does have some medical conditions and Kaytlin does have complex medical conditions Ms Osborne may be presenting an exaggerated picture of these, possibly stating conditions that have not been diagnosed and also presenting a generally negative picture of Curtis and talking negatively about Curtis in front of him. There was concern as to whether over medicalisation of the children was having a detrimental effect on their emotional, social and developmental well-being. As a result of this meeting an initial sit down strategy meeting was held on 16/12/09. Attending professionals included consultant paediatrician, education, C&amp;YPS, CAMHS, OT, GP, with further information provided by Illminster nursery. It was agreed that a joint Section 47 investigation would be undertaken by myself and the children's consultant paediatrician, Dr Richard Williams. Enquiries and meetings with family and involved agencies would be undertaken for this. Consideration would be given as to whether fabricated or induced illness was a factor. It was also agreed that a medical chronology on both children would be completed, a chronology of CAMHS involvement would be completed and a further sit down strategy meeting was arranged for 20/1/10. Sec 47 enquiries raised similar concerns from other agencies such as Curtis's school, [REDACTED] CAMHS and health. Sec 47 substantiated the concerns and an initial CP conference was held on 17/6/10. The children were registered under emotional abuse. See conference report for detailed info. There is a comprehensive CP plan. Core group meeting to be held on 2/7/10 at 1pm. This would be an ideal handover opportunity. The review conference is to be held on 8/9/10 at 1.30pm planned to be held at Broadwalk but this to be confirmed.

Detailed Notes	19-7-10 C&amp;FST now can allocate this case. Worker will be Sarah Gay. I have informed her manager that I will arrange a meeting with the new SW and Sarah in next couple of weeks. BC. Info from advocate who spoke to Curtis after requested by case conference. 22nd June 2010 Curtis Osborne – where quoted are his own words These words are following a conversation with his advocate, to talk about whether he would like contact with his birth father Christopher Alloway; and to help him understand about the cp plan and the outcome of the initial cp conference on 17th June 2010. We met at school and Curtis immediately asked me:- “Is it bad to be on child protection, they’re not going to take us off’ve Mum and Dad are they, I knew someone once who that happened to.” I reassured him by exploring this and looked at the positives, he said he was ok. He was also worried about who would know; again I put his mind at rest that not everyone knew at school or anywhere especially the other students. He is of course worried about bullying. Since the conference he has experienced another bullying incident outside school, he says he doesn’t know why. I asked him about whether he would like to see his real dad, and if so his Mum and Lee were fine with this, he responded by saying “that’s true I knew that, Mum and Dad said I could before, but no, I’m more than happy not to see him, I last saw him when I was about 6 or 7, he used to see me every now and then, he would come one day and then say he would come again but he didn’t, it felt like he didn’t care about me. Sometimes he would fall asleep when he was playing with me and one time the pizza caught fire, when he opened the oven all black smoke came out, he wasn’t much of a good dad. When I was in contact with him, Mum went to court and I was only allowed indirect contact like by letter, and I did write him a letter, mum didn’t help me, she said write what you want and I can post it for you, I said in the letter “why was you never there for me?” he wrote back saying it was all mum’s fault that she never let him see me. But I knew it was him ‘cos I over heard a phone call with Mum, I was really close up with my ear, he was saying to her that he was going to get his hair cut and then he was going to a football match so I’m not seeing Curt. They’re not going to make me see him are they (referring to social services), ‘cos I don’t want to”. I explained that social services ‘had a duty to tell his dad that there had been a meeting, but that they understood from his Mum and Dad that it might make it really difficult for Curtis and the family and would not be in Curtis’s best interests for his Dad (who had been absent for many years) to know that it had resulted in a child protection plan and it was agreed that social services would explain to Mr Alloway that there had been a meeting and as a result the family they would get some extra support from social services. Curtis was clearly worried and said that “I don’t think he should know at all ‘cos it might make him take mum back to court”. We then talked about whether he sometimes gets angry at home and he said “yes and sometimes violent”. It does bother me and I think about it quite a lot, but I seriously don’t understand why I do it”. We talked about it and he told me that he doesn’t do it at school. He said he doesn’t sleep well, “I’ve never been a good sleeper”, again he doesn’t know why says he doesn’t think about anything much he just can’t sleep. I asked if he would like to talk to someone about his feelings and he said yes, he said he could also talk to Neil his connexions worker, he got on well with him. I asked him if he worried about Kaytlin, he said “no”. I asked him if he was ok with me sharing his words with the social work team, as it was really important that they knew his thoughts and wishes particularly if they are going to support and help him, he said yes it’s ok.

Detailed Notes	05/10/10 TCF Rebecca. She said that Curtis came home from school yesterday in a really bad way with a problem with his eyes. He had been targetted by some boys at school who had strangled him round the throat, then shoved berries down his throat before throwing stones in his eyes. Rebecca has spoken to the school but Curtis really did not want to go back there today. Rebecca is not wanting to take him there again tomorrow and doesn't know what to do. - Curtis said that he had been told by one of the boys that they were "even" now after he told teachers on them once before. Rebecca is now worried about further retaliation because he has told the teachers and her again. - Curtis swallowed a couple of berries but managed to spit most of them out. - Rebecca said that if Curtis goes to St Bernadettes school it probably won't sort everything out. She thinks that he has always had a problem with social interaction. She said that he has had these problems since he was at primary school and even at nursery. when he was at nursery he had really sore skin and he had to be wrapped in cloths to bandage him, and the children used to throw sand in his cuts to bully him. She thinks that when he goes to St Bernadettes things will be just as bad. She is also worried that he will struggle to keep up with the other children academically. When he was at primary school he was behind by two years and then when he went to BLC there were no problems apparently.
	- I said that i would speak with Tom Mackie at BLC and try and find out what was going to happen. She said that she was waiting for a call back from Tom Mackie this afternoon. She is very unhappy with the response the school have given but is waiting to hear more. She is thinking about going to the police but will wait and see. ED

He will explain to Curtis about it today when he sees him. He will then see him another 2 or 3 times before christmas, and finish with a nice fun activity. - There is a film-making class at the Knowle West Media Centre that he thinks Curtis could acces, on Wednesday at 6pm. He will give the info to Rebecca. I explained that Rebecca had asked me about Reys coming to an end in January and that I had told her that it might be possible for Curtis to continue going if his attendance was good. I asked Neil to confirm this to rebecca as i thought she was getting worried about it. He said that he will. TCT Tom Mackie, Bridge Learning Campus. No answer. Email sent to Tom Mackie, BLC: Hi Tom, I have heard that Curtis Osborne has been given a place at St Bernadette's school, and will be starting there next Monday!? It would be great if we could have a chat about the handover of info to the new school. I wonder if you could let me know what the procedure is for passing on information between schools when a child moves like this, in relation to his educational attainment etc, and also in relation to any pastoral or external/environmental concerns. I will ultimately have a proper conversation with the new school, but would really appreciate the opportunity to have a catch up with you asap. Will you still be coming to the Child in Need meeting on Tuesday next week? It's probably going to be useful if you can come still, as we will be reviewing the whole situation over the last 3 months. I'll look forward to hearing from you. Regards, Elliot

Detailed Notes	04/01/2011-Time; 12.35-1.30pm Present; Lee(Father), Rebecca(Mother) and Kaytlin Home Visit [REDACTED] Curtis Rebecca says that Curtis is happier at his new School and although still stays awake late at night, he doesnt complain of Stomach ache the nights before School. She says he is 'coming back with the same things' (issues at School). Rebecca concerned as she feels Curtis is not responding to situations as he should be, for example when in shop recently Curtis was complaining to Rebecca that a woman was staring at him, but she had just been looking for particular item in shop. Rebecca says that she has tried to contact Mr Miles at the School 3 times, as she has not had any feedback from them as yet since he started there in December. She says that she is going to go into the School instead of phoning as next step. I enquired about friendships, Rebecca says that Curtis has one particular friend, I suggested this was positive.(Rebecca said that he is mixed race, but she doesnt mind). Curtis did not hear from his Father at Christmas. Rebecca said that Curtis had been causing arguments at home over the Christmas. [REDACTED] General Rebecca has been granted Â£70 clothing Grant for Curtis's School uniform. She was pleased with this and now wishes to get the Family Funding application sent off. I reminded her about the Bristol Charity Form that could be sent off also. Rebecca says that her Washing machine is now leaking. I suggested that Rebecca and I go out next week together, she appeared keen to do this. - (Sarah Gay, 06/01/2011: 14.25) 06/01/2011-Visit cancelled by CFST due to emergency arising in Team. - (Sarah Gay, 06/01/2011: 16.25) 11/01/2011-No Visit today Curtis has Cahms appointment. Rebecca felt that the School had not dealt with this appropriately. Curtis was quiet during visit, it was opinion/observation that he looked sad in his eyes and face. He asked if he could watch some music videos on the TV, Rebecca said no at first without explanation but she allowed him after further questions. I enquired as to the reason that Curtis could not watch asking if they were chargeable but did not get to the bottom of it. Mr Miles rang and spoke with Lee during visit, Curtis will attend School tommorow. Lee appropriately explained the situation to Curtis, Rebecca was negative about what was said by Mr Miles. We discussed some activites Curtis may like to get involved in(trampolining) Near end of visit Curtis and Kaytlin danced together, Curtis was smiling at this point, appearing to really enjoy this activity. [REDACTED] They were both asking for Chocolate, they were allowed to have one particular type each. [REDACTED] Rebecca talked about the various appointments she has coming up for the children. Arranged to take Rebecca out next Tuesday.

19/01/11-Time; 4.00-5.35pm

Present; Rebecca(Mother), Lee(Father), Kaytlin and Curtis

Purpose of visit; One to one session with Curtis (visit Media centre to research after School interests)

Curtis

Curtis and I drove to Media Centre and found out about what he was interested in, this being Photography and Music Mainly.

Curtis needs to be aged 13 for Photography class, the Film making class is currently full, but the one to one DJ sessions were available. Jagos the DJ came and talked to Curtis about the sessions and provisionally booked him an hour's free slot next week. pending on parents consent.

The Youth Worker Sandra introduced herself to Curtis, he was given an application form.

Curtis also keen to attend the Music and Lyric Group following the DJ session, which runs weekly 5.30-7.30pm.

Curtis confidently engaged with various workers at centre and asked relevant questions he wished to know.

We had a look around the centre for some time before leaving.

I observed that Curtis's face 'lit up' when Jagos talked about the sessions and offered him a slot.

Curtis was very polite and considerate during visit. We talked about his new School, he said that he enjoys it now as the bullying has stopped and is glad he changed Schools.

We returned to the house to relay the information to parents.

Rebecca responded by saying that she thought it was strange that the hour long free sessions were available and questioned it with suspicion. I suggested that it was possibly not very well advertised and that i thought it was a great opportunity for Curtis. In my opinion, Rebecca appeared to be putting a barrier to the activity rather than expressing pleasure for Curtis, however said that it was ok for him to go and Lee could take him as she has Hospital in morning with Kaytlin.

(I said that the appointment could be cancelled or changed if they did not wish Curtis to attend. I suggested that pop into centre to have a look around and meet the staff who said this was possibel without appointment.)

Rebecca and I went through the application form for Curtis to take along next week.

Relayed information about Cadets in area for Curtis to possibly attend.

Rebecca saw me out, I reminded her that whilst I am on leave for next 2 weeks, that she can contact my Office or the SW should she need any support.

Curtis and Kaytlin were dancing together in lounge when i left.

Detailed Notes	04/01/11 Email received from Neil Light, Connexions Worker: Hi Elliot and Sarah Hope you had a great break. It went way too quick. I finished working with Curtis just before Christmas. We went ice skating and went for some food afterwards which he enjoyed. However I am going to visit Curtis in school next week and another time to see how he is doing. I will let Rebecca know this and also talk to her about the youth club that Connexions runs on a Tuesday afternoon for 9 -12's which Curtis is more than welcome to attend. I help run it, so Curtis would still be able to see me. We mostly do arts and crafts and cooking and the young people enjoy it. If you could mention this to Rebecca it would be great. It's not perfect there but the kids are friendly. I know she did have some reservations about it not being a positive place for Curtis so it might not happen. Curtis is also on the waiting list for the film making club at Knowle West Media Centre which runs on Wednesdays from 6 - 8. It is called Digital Fish and there is a long waiting list. The contact is Sandra Mason and I have asked her to contact me when there is a space and I am happy to take Curtis along for his first session. Rebecca also mentioned a Scout group in Hartcliffe a while ago which could be great for Curtis now that Revvs has finished. If there is anything else I can do, please contact me. I hope some progress is made with the family. It has been great working with you. Elliot - I have attached a referral evaluation form. I know you did not make the original referral but if you could comment it would be great. If not do not worry about it. Thanks Neil Light EWP Engagement Worker

Detailed Notes	01/01/11-No visit this week worker on leave - (Sarah Gay, 11/02/2011: 16.17) 08/02/11-Time; 12.10-1.10pm Present; Lee(Father), Rebecca and Curtis Home Visit for General Update Curtis Curtis was upstairs, he is currently not attending School after the bullying incident (Reported to SW). Rebecca says that Curtis is refusing to go back to School and that she has not heard from them asking why he is not attending. She says she will await their phone call. They want the bully to be dealt with before they send Curtis back. Rebecca showed me the appropriate home tutoring books she had purchased for Curtis. She hasnt used them as yet due to being busy with various appointments. Curtis came down at one point to tell Rebecca something about a computer. I talked to him briefly. He told me about the bullying episode and how he is not going back to School until child is removed. He appeared strong in his views on this. Rebecca appeared supportive of Curtis hitting the child and hurting him. I asked Curtis if he attended the DJ session i had organised for him, he said he had and also the music and lyric session after. He is due to attend another one to one session this week but isnt going to attend the Music and Lyrics as one of the bully's friends attends so he is concerned that he may turn up there. Curtis said that his DJ session is on Utube(internet site) I asked to see it, Rebecca said that Lee may tell Curtis off if he sees him using the Computer as he is off School. I suggested that i would just look quickly at it as i had been discussing this with Curtis, Rebecca agreed. I asked Rebecca if she had visited the Media centre before Curtis attended she said she had not but Lee had. Curtis disagreed saying that Lee stayed in the car. We talked about other activites for Curtis, Rebecca asked if i could find out about Swimming lessons for Curtis.
Thursday's visit is cancelled due to Kaytlin being in Hospital, will visit family next Tuesday at 10am. - (Sarah Gay, 11/02/2011: 11.43)

15/02/11-Time; 10.15-11.15am

Present; Lee(Father), Rebecca(Mother) and Kaytlin

Home Visit; Update funding applications and deliver information regarding Swimming lessons.

Curtis

Curtis has returned to School today following a meeting with Mr Miles and Mr Simmonds at the School Monday. Rebecca said that they had suggested that Curtis moved tutor Groups in order to solve the bullying issue. Rebecca said that she challenged this and stated that the bully should be the one to be moved and that Curtis should remain in his Tutor Group.

The Staff said that although they cannot completely be certain of Curtis's safety in School, they will be keeping a very close eye on him. I asked how Curtis was feeling about going back to School, Rebecca said that he was not happy and was awake late the night before. She said that she has told the School that should an incident happen again, Curtis will stay home until it is resolved.

Curtis continuing to attend Music sessions at the Media centre after School. Lee spoke to Jagos(DJ) about the situation with bullying at School and about this crossing over at centre, he was reassured and offered suggestion by him, encouraging Curtis to attend.

I gave Rebecca the relevant information she requested for Swimming lessons for Curtis, she will need to book up for him.

I asked if i could be of any further assistance before leaving, none was identified.

- (Sarah Gay, 16/02/2011: 10.46)

17/02/11-Time; 4.20-5.30pm

Present; Rebecca(Mother), Lee(Father), Curtis and kaytlin

Home Visit; To see Curtis and Kaytlin and to visit Knowle Media Centre

Curtis

Curtis was upstairs for first part of visit. I enquired as to how he got on at School following his return there, Rebecca said that he is still experiencing bullying problems and it hasn't been good for him. She talked about a situation between a friend and the friend's girlfriend that he had got involved in and ended up with it 'coming back on him'.

When Curtis joined us he was texting one of the friends mentioned (Jodie) and arranging to go to a School play with her tonight. Curtis told us that she had asked him out but it later transpired that it was actually Curtis who had asked her. Rebecca and Lee were appropriate in their responses around honesty and dealing with this.

Curtis was allowed to go to the play and they arranged to transport him both ways, they did not choose to go with him.

I asked Curtis how School had been, he said it was ok, Rebecca challenged this and he responded saying that he had told her that is what he had said, she argued this with him.

Curtis said that Mr Simmonds had asked him how he was today and that Neil (Connexions Worker) had been to see him at School today.

Rebecca immediately became angry about this and said that she was going to complain as Neil should not be doing this now he has finished working with Curtis.

Curtis appeared reasonably happy during visit, he was focused on his text conversation with Jodie but shared some humour with Rebecca and Lee.

Rebecca showed me a letter for another appointment for Curtis to see Psychologist in March.

Curtis not booked in for DJ session today, he said he plans to book in for another. He isn't going to Music and Lyrics today as he is going to the School play. It was mentioned that Kieran's (child bullying Curtis) friend had been asking Curtis if he was going to Media Centre today, he is concerned that they are trying to find out if he's going so that they can find him there. I urged that this should not stop him going explaining that they may just of been asking him.

Rebecca and Lee are transporting Curtis to and from School and parking nearby to avoid any bullying outside school.

- (Sarah Gay, 18/02/2011: 12.40)

22/02/11-Time: 10.00-12.00pm

Present; Rebecca(Mother) and myself (Saw Lee(Father)and Kaytlin briefly at house)

Purpose of Visit to take Rebecca out and to discuss plan of work with Curtis and to do any paperwork that Rebecca had ready

I collected Rebecca from home, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Curtis was in bed (Half term holiday)

Curtis

I enquired about how School was going, Rebecca talked about how Mr Simmonds has been monitoring Curtis's welfare.

Curtis went to the School play last week and Jodie is now his girlfriend.

Rebecca said that Curtis has been very aggressive with them at home, she still feels that he may have ADHD diagnosis or similar. He has been saying things like he is going to stab various people, including SW Elliot.

Rebecca talked about an incident at School where Curtis was pushed around by a group of pupils outside and that Mr Simmonds has allocated another pupil to keep an eye on him and gave him advise on how to stay safe.

Rebecca feels that it would benefit Curtis if Lee did more with him, she feels he needs a Fatherly role and to do some Physical activities together and have bonding time. Will look into things that may help with this.

Rebecca and I put together a 4 week plan of work for both herself and Curtis.(Rebecca is going to book the one to one DJ sessions up for Curtis)

I returned Rebecca home after visit, she thanked me for today.

Gave Rebecca a CFST evaluation form to fill out.

Family going to Caravan so no visit Thursday 24th February and no visit next Tuesday as I am Training, next visit Thursday 3rd March.

He said that his Mum is a "dirty slut" and his Dad (I confirmed he meant Lee) is a "bastard". He said that they are horrible to him and that they treat him like a child. He said that they don't give him any freedom and that it is like a 'prison' in his house. He is 12 and he has to be picked up from school. He wants to be able to walk home from school like all the other children. He said that other pupils live near to the police station (Broadbury Rd) so they walk there, and he didn't think it was too far. He said that he isn't ever allowed out and there is nowhere to go and nothing to do in his house, apart from go between two rooms. He said that his parents say he's allowed out lots, but he said that this is only to groups and that they drive him there and pick him up afterwards. He wants to be able to go to the skate park at Hengrove Park with his mates (he has made friends with Chris, Nick and Alex/Alec - he sits next to one of them in tutor and has been introduced to the others by them). He doesn't want to be going down to town or anything, but just on one or two nights after school to be able to go out for an hour or two. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- He said he would like to be able to walk home from school as well but his Mum says that he has the common sense of a 4-year-old. I explained that his Mum would be worried about him, and that a lot of other children are collected from school. I explained that I was picked up from school all the way through school until I was about 15/16.</li> <li>- Curtis spoke about his problems in school as well. He said that other kids picked on him and that they took the piss when they saw him being picked up. He said that there were some kids who saw him walking along with his Mum in town, and were saying "f-ing this and f-ing that", and laughing when they saw him. He said that he didn't know them, but it was embarrassing.</li> <li>- He said that there is one child in particular who is picking on him, who punches him and attacks him. (Kieron / Ciaran.) He is in the same tutor group and bullies other children as well.</li> <li>- Curtis said that he has a girlfriend now as well - Shannon. She said that Kieron has picked on her and punched her since they were in year 7.</li> </ul> Curtis said that he has punched Kieron a couple of times when he has said something or touched Shannon, but that Kieron just "takes it" and punches him back around the head. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Curtis said that what he is going to do is bring a knife in to school, hold it against Kieron's neck and say that next time he will slit his throat. I asked Curtis what he thought might happen if he did this. He said that he thought Kieron would back off, but that he would tell a teacher. I asked what he thought might happen then. He said that he would get in trouble, but that he doesn't care. I said that i thought it was a very bad idea bringing the knife in to school, as the police might get involved and then he would be in serious trouble.</li> <li>- Curtis said he was planning on walking home after school today and just prove to his Mum that he can do it, when they get home from collecting Kaytlin and find him there. I said that i thought perhaps he could negotiate with his Mum some way of allowing him to do this. He said that she won't because she thinks he is like a 4-year-old and will get knocked over by a car. He said that she won't let him out at all, but that he's not like this at all and would be absolutely fine.</li> <li>- He said that he has been getting in trouble at school, with detentions. He said that he called his Art teacher, Miss James, "a cow". I asked what had happened. He said that she had come to him when every one else was talking and said to him he was being "mouthy". I asked what he did then. He said that he called her a cow. She had said to him that she knew he was 'new' and so wouldn't do anything about it now, but that pupils didn't speak to teachers "like that in this school". Curtis said that he had then stuck his middle finger up at her through the window afterwards.</li> <li>- I explained that I thought part of the problem was that his parents hear stories like this and think that he is in a lot of trouble all the time. I said that i was meeting with them and Mr Haveron afterwards and that I would be asking Mr Haveron to try and set up a book that teachers can write positive and negative things in it about what happens in classes. He said that this would be ok.</li> <li>- We spoke about his lessons and how he was doing. He said he was doing ok and was being moved up some sets in maths. I spoke about the importance of doing well in school, and how he would be making his choices for GCSEs next year. I asked what he thought he would be doing. He said maths, english, science and IT. I asked about art, music etc. He said he was good at music and that he makes his own music in his own time when he can, and had learnt about it at the Knowle Media Centre. He showed me a Youtube clip that he had made which remixed some electronic music. He had it under DJ Titian / Titain (his dog is called "Titan").</li> </ul> Elliot Davis 2.30pm Meeting with Paul Haveron (SENCo), Lee and Becky. Put in place a plan for a communications book. Explained to parents about the Planner that Curtis has that he should be writing his homework in. Parents will try and keep an eye on this. All staff will be given a briefing about the importance of staff writing in the comms book. CP coordinator will contact me about the knife incident. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Parents not happy about giving Curtis more 'Freedom', as they don't think he can be trusted and his actions in school have proven this.</li> </ul> Opinion - a vicious circle here, with Curtis getting angry at not being allowed any freedom, and parents thinking that his anger is proof that he can't be trusted and allowed any more freedom. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Curtis came into room at end of school. He was told about the importance of putting his homework down in his planner, and about the comms book. I said that we would be seeing how this goes before we look at giving him more chances of going out and about, but that we had talked about it. I thanked him for coming to find his parents today and not walking home.</li> </ul> After parents had gone, had a brief conversation with the Assistant-Head, Aleisha Woodley. She was given brief overview of problems. She said that some of the boys have been playing a game of 'manhunt' when they go round the school looking for one individual, and will literally scour the school grounds trying to attack a child, and that Curtis has been involved in this, and also on teh receiving end once or twice. She also said that Kieron, the boy in Curtis' tutor group has been excluded, and his mother will need to be spoken to before he can come back in, and that she is fully on board. She said that this was because of three incidents when Curtis has been the victim. I advised her that Rebecca and Lee would need to maintain trust in the school so that Curtis does not have to be moved again, and that the school would need to ensure they return phone calls when they come in. The school have a policy of returning calls within 24 hours of them coming in, and she said that she would be looking to try and remind staff of that. ED

Curtis displaying aggression towards people at the moment. Next meeting in 3 months time. - (Sarah Gay, 07/03/2011: 16.35) 10/03/2011-Time; 3.50-5.30pm Present; Rebecca(Mother), Lee (Father) Curtis and Kaytlin Home Visit; Take Curtis for Meal/one to one session and then to Media Centre Arrived to collect Curtis,who was having his Teeth cleaned by Rebecca. Rebecca appeared angry and talked about how she had asked CYPs for help with Curtis and it was not possible and that she wont be asking again. I explained the reasoning behind what she had told me but she was not happy still. I asked if she still wished to have my ongoing Support also, she said it depends on what help is offered. Rebecca also talked about how Curtis had been self harming, scraping his wrists with an earring stem. She says he is depressed and relating behaviuor to Asperger's traits. I then left with Curtis who was happy to come with me and Rebecca for him to go. He and Kaytlin not at School today as unwell. I allowed Curtis to choose where we ate, he chose KFC at Hengrove. Curtis was extremely polite and co operative and engaged fully with me on a mature level.Curtis appeared concerned whenn getting out of my car, that he had slammed the door. I assured him he had not. He received constant texts from his girlfriend Jodie during session. She was planning to meet him at the Media Centre for Music and Lyrics. Curtis talked about the Rap songs he has made up and what he plans to do at today's session. He says he continues to attend the one to one DJ sessions and Music and Lyrics despite that Kieran's friend attends and has been asking if Curtis is to attend. Curtis talked about how he doesnt eat breakfast and lunch on School days as he doesnt feel hungry. He said that Rebecca encourages him to eat. He also said that Jodie is buying him 4 energy drinks for tonight and that he drinks these a lot. I suggested that this could be what is keeping him awake at night. He says he is urinating a lot also. Curtis chose Chicken and Chip Meal plus milkshake, he sprinkled a lot of salt on his meal and told me that he likes to have 6 sachets of salt on a burger. (Relayed this information to Rebecca. She says that she discourgages energy drinks.) Curtis complained that his Stomach hurt and appeared in discomfort. He said that this was the most he had eaten in a week at teatime.

We talked about Curtis's welfare, from what he says he is happy at School currently and that the bully is leaving him alone, although he had trouble with a group of children one day.

We also talked about homelife, he quietly told me, holding his head down, that he had hit his Mum. I expanded on this, he says that he 'cant help it' and that he feels bad afterwards. He said the arguments tend to be with himself and Lee about silly things. He said he also hit Lee. Curtis says that he feels abd afterwards. We talked about ways to avoid arguments and to deal with differently.

Curtis says that he doesnt start fights and how he doesnt get Sarcasm and from what he described cannot accept criticism and boundaries well and will respond by 'kicking off'. He says that he also gets angry with the Teachers when they do this.

After the meal i took Curtis to the Media centre, he checked what time his DJ session is next week before he confidently joined the Group. (Rebecca gave me £5 for Curtis to buy memory band at centre, i forgot to leave with him so gave it to Rebecca on 11/3) - (Sarah Gay, 21/03/2011: 11.26)

11/03/2011-Time; 1.30-2.10pm

Present; Rebecca (Mother) and Kaytlin

Home Visit; Paperwork with Rebecca

Rebecca said that Curtis had been worse the last few days. I suggested this could be linked to the consumption of the energy drinks affecting him.

I left and arranged to see Rebecca at my Office.

3.00pm-Accompanied Rebecca and Kaytlin to collect Curtis from School;

Rebecca talked about booking an activity holiday at Butlins so encourage bonding between Curtis and Lee. I advsied this was a good idea but advised that she should not put themsleves under financial pressure as a result.

Rebecca said that she had text Curtis today to say that she would take him to phone shop to gethis phone fixed after School but he had not got the text. She was hoping this would stop him 'kicking off' again.

Curtis happily got into the car. Rebecca talked about taking him to get phone fixed in Bristol, he argued that he didnt want to and could fix it himself if he is allowed to go on the Internet. He is currently banned due to his agresive behaviour at home.

Rebecca sought my assistance. We were firm about what was happening. It was agreed that Curtis is allowed to fix his phone at home via internet but that he was not to go on it otherwise. Curtis appeared to understand and accepted this but looked unhappy about it.

It is my opinion that Rebecca did not appear to be able to as firm with her boundaries as i have observed she can be at home.

This is possibly because Rebecca is nervous of going out anyway and maybe unconfident that she could discipline Curtis in this environment.

Rebecca dropped me back to Office afterwards.

15/03/11-Time; 10.30-12.00pm

Present; Rebecca(Mother)

Visit to take Rebecca out to build confidence and fill out paperwork

I drove Rebecca to Bowmead Bungalow to do the paperwork and have a Coffee together in a different environment to home. (The Dog at the house can also cause Rebecca stress when there are visitors.)

Curtis

I relayed my observations of Rebecca's dealing of Curtis last week and her boundaries applied. I suggested that it was my opinion that Rebecca used appropriate strategies and sanctions but appeared less firm about applying them outside of the home. Rebecca did not feel this was the case and talked about how she tries to avoid Curtis really 'kicking off' at times.

Curtis still not sleeping, Rebecca says he has not had energy drinks.

Rebecca concerned that Curtis may get very down and try and harm himself should his relationship with Jodie end. They are doing everything together now. I suggested that Curtis needs something that is just his to do, Rebecca agreed.

Identified he likes Art and Craft. I reminded Rebecca about Swimming lessons and gave her the information about Bike maintenance in Bristol.

Discussed Supportpossibilities for Curtis's mental Health. (Cahms, Rainbow and Butterfly.)

Rebecca was positive about Mr Simmond's communication with her about Curtis.

No communications book has been given by School as yet.

Advised Rebecca of change to a visit and noted it on plan for her.

17/03/2011-Time; 4.00-5.30pm

Present; Rebecca(Mother), Lee(Father), Kaytlin and Curtis
Home Visit to see Kaytlin

Curtis

Curtis was quiet during visit, he was using his mobile phone for a while. Lee told him off for being rude when he continued to use the phone when i spoke to him. Lee and Curtis bickered during visit about his sanction he had been given regarding use of his Memory stick wristband. Curtis was loving towards Kaytlin during visit and happily watched and helped her with her activity.

I took Curtis to the Media centre for Music and Lyrics session, he was meeting his girlfriend there.

During journey Curtis told me that he had been sleeping better and that he had cut down the energy drinks a little. He said that School is going ok, although had got into another fight, explaining he had hit somebody hard in his friend's defense.

Curtis had been sanctioned for his behaviour yesterday. He had been abusive to both Rebecca and Lee, calling them names such as 'Slag' and 'Prick' and saying that Jodie was not to be left alone with one of them as they 'may rape her'. Rebecca says that she has seen on Curtis's Bluetooth that he had written that he 'wants to kill himself' and that 'no one likes him'.

Rebecca said that Curtis's Teacher Mr Simmond's says that he is not coping with School well and agrees with her that views.

Parenting

Curtis was saying that he had to take the memory stick band with him to Music and Lyrics as his song was on there that he was finishing today. This caused an argument between Rebecca and Lee when Rebecca said that he would have to copy the song onto another memory stick and take it, which meant Curtis going on computer, which he was not allowed to do currently.

Rebecca talked about how sometimes you have to be flexible about what is considered to be really bad and weigh things up. I made my suggestions.

Rebecca not wanting to stop Curtis from going to Media centre as it is a hobby he enjoys. Lee agreed he didnt want to either. Curtis was allowed the memory stick band to take but would have it confiscated once he came back.

General

Rebecca and Lee still awaiting the furniture to be delivered for Curtis's bedroom. The Carpenter has had ongoing issues and appears to be avoiding them. Suggested they find receipt for Furniture and try calling him again.

3rd Party

29/03/2011-Time; 4.00-5.40pm

Present; Curtis, Kaytlin, Lee(Father) and Rebecca(Mother)

Home Visit and one to one session with Curtis

(TCT Rebecca to check she was expecting me at 4.00pm and that i was taking Curtis out. She said that she had told Kaytlin that she was seeing me today. I said that I could come in the house and see her for a bit.)

Curtis

Rebecca asked Curtis to show me his Communication book from School, she is complaining that the School are not helping. There were two entries in the book. Rebecca says that he is supposed to have feedback from all lessons in there. I asked whose responsibility the book is, she said that the Teachers are informed that they need to fill it in. Curtis says that he gives them the book at the end of the lesson but that the Teachers do not have time to fill it in. I suggested that he gave the book in at the beginning of the lessons.

Curtis was happy to come out with me for a game of Snooker at Vowell Close.

Once in the car Curtis excitedly told me about how he has broadcast his song on a radio station on Internet and expanded on his Music work he has been doing. I asked what his parents thought of his songs, he said that he has not played them to his Mum and talked about her watching TV. He still attending Music and Lyrics and DJ sessions. Curtis talked about Rebecca's concern shown around the Radio station. He also said that Rebecca is wondering if she would get into trouble if he went onto Facebook. I said that he has to be 13 years of age to go on there and that Rebecca and I have been talking about Internet safety.

When we arrived the Snooker table was occupied, I suggested we could use the Art room instead and that Curtis could make a Mothers Day Card instead, he happily adapted to the situation without any resistance.

Curtis spent a while concentrating on the activity. We talked in general whilst he was doing this.

Curtis said that he is eating better now and the reason being that he watched a programme that 'freaked him out'. He says he has cut down on the energy drinks and is having one every three days now but his Mum doesn't know about it. I asked how he is sleeping now, he said much better and going to sleep around 10pm.

I enquired about School, Curtis appeared in my opinion confident about it and said it was fine. I asked why he had pen over his face and neck, he talked about how he drew on the other's child's face in retaliation and laughed. I asked if Kieran has been bullying him, he said that he was the one who drew over him and again smiled about this. I asked if he has made any new friends, he says no and that he is friends with Jodie and Cassie, which he is happy with.

Curtis says that there has been improvements at home regarding the arguments. I enquired further as to why he thought this was, he says he is thinking before he reacts and speaks.

Curtis and I discussed what else he would like to do with me, he said he would like to do some Cooking. He also asked if I could find out about 'Freerunning' as an activity for him to do.

Returned Curtis home after visit. He said he was having Curry for Tea, then talking to Jodie and Cassie on Webcam.

General

Rebecca says that Curtis's bedroom Furniture is arriving Friday.

Gave Rebecca list of dates for future visits and asked her to check they were convenient and to think of what she would like to do in each session.

Detailed Notes	01/03/11            9.25am TCT Becky and Lee.            I asked how things had gone last night.            Becky said that it was awful. Curtis went "absolutely psycho, literally". He was hitting Lee on the arm, and get going until about midnight. He was calling them paedophiles and child abusers, and was calling me and Sarah (Gay - Child and family Support Worker) paedophiles as well. I asked about what had happened from school. She said that Mr Simmons (Assistant Head for Year 8) was a bit more understanding. Becky said that she doesn't think the homeopathic medicine Curtis is taking is working and that he needs something to calm him down. I said that i didn't think that he had seemed particularly hyper when i had been there, and that he had been sitting on the sofa very calmly, albeit interspersed with rude comments to Lee and her.            Becky said that it is too long between appointments with the psychiatrist - 5/6 weeks, and that they can't wait until 14th March for the next appt. She has not seen CAMHS for a little while either.            Becky said that there has been nothing further with the communications book from school, and is frustrated about why this has not happened. She also said that Social Services are not helping. She said that all of their problems at the moment are because of social services, as any time they go to see a Doctor or the hospital, they are "black listed".            She also asked me to make sure i contact Dr Beaumont, homeopathic doctor, who would be able to offer me her view on things.            Curtis said to her last night that he wants to go to a school "where people are like me". Becky said that she thinks Curtis is now seeing taht he is different. She said that he was upset because he was last to be picked for a team at sports, and ended up going on an all-girls team.            Becky doesn't think that people are taking things seriously, and that Ms Milton (Head Teacher at Wansdyke Primary) said that at this point in time for Curtis it is crucial that he gets a good start at a new school.            Becky said that Curtis is not communciating and that other family members are seeing a difference in him as well. They went to Lee's mum's house where Lee's nephews were, and Curtis just sat in a corner not talking.            I asked Becky if she thought Curtis was depressed. She said that he probably was, She said that she wasn't sure if it was because of the way he is that's making him depressed.            Confirmed monday morning's meeting, although becky said that she doesn't see what the point is of all these meetings, and might be going back to her solicitor about social services. Curtis

Rebecca says that Curtis continues to be abusive towards her. I asked if he had given her the Mother's Day Gift he made with myself, she said that he had ripped it up and put it in the bin in front of her saying that he hated her.

I asked what had triggered him into this, Rebecca said that it had come from nowhere and there was no trigger.

Rebecca communicating with the School about Curtis(Mr Simmons)

I suggested that Rebecca could write in Curtis's communication book if she found it helpful to relay information.

Rebecca talked about how she was washing Curtis's hair and noticed he had blue nipples and a bruise on his arm. Curtis says that other pupils are twisting his nipples and hurting him in the changing rooms. He doesn't want Rebecca to name the pupils when she talks to his Teacher about this.

Rebecca concerned about Curtis relying on girlfriend Jodie too much and how she now attending his Music and Lyrics sessions with him.

I dropped Rebecca home after discussing visits for April.

I collected Curtis from home. I went to see Kaylin before we left, she was on back Garden with Rebecca, Lee and friend Mandy, she appeared pleased to see me and hugged me. She gave Curtis a hug before he left with me.

Detailed Notes	07/06/2011-2.00PM PROFESSIONALS MEETING @ BROADWALK  Update shared with attendees and concerns for [REDACTED] Curtis discussed.

Ongoing support discussed. CIN meeting next week on 13/06/11 at 10.00am

- (Sarah Gay, 08/06/2011: 16.14)

07/06/11-Time; 4.00-5.15pm

Present; Rebecca(Mother), Lee(Father), Curtis and Kaytlin

Visit to take Curtis out for a one to one session

Venue; Vowell Close

Arrived to collect Curtis, Lee said that he thought I was there to see Kaytlin today, I asked if he was happy for me to take Curtis out, he agreed. Rebecca and Kaytlin arrived home as we left, Rebecca said the same as Lee. I said I would come into house when I returned Curtis to see Kaytlin.

Curtis

Curtis made the decision to go to Vowell Close and play a game of Pool.

Curtis did not smile when he responded to my arrival but when we were in the car he thanked me for taking him out, saying that he would of only been on his Computer.

Curtis mentioned the meeting at the School today and relayed the options for his education that were discussed.

He said that he did not want to stay at school 24 hours and be at home weekend but he liked the option of going to Hospital School with a small class of around 5 pupils. I enquired as to what he likes about a small group, he said that they can be more 'chilled' and at his 'previous school' (St Bernadette's) the classmates swear and cause trouble all the time.

Curtis told me how Rebecca has talked to him about his Computer and applied restriction on his internet access and a condition of him not watching age inappropriate films goes in hand with his internet usage. (I believe this follows my discussion with Rebecca about my concern over what Curtis is watching on his PC. He says he is ok with this.

Curtis told me that he has decided to not bother with 'Facebook' now as some of his friends have been putting negative comments on about him about him not attending School. We talked about friendships and doing things that make him happy instead. He said that he has deleted most of the people that are not being nice to him. (He later told Rebecca what he had told me about Facebook, she acknowledged this).

Curtis said that he is not currently attending the Music and Lyrics group at the Media Centre as Shay from his School is going there and he wants to avoid him for now.

He said that he hasnt had any one to one DJ sessions for a while but is going to ask Rebecca to book one up for him.

Curtis went on to talk about their break in Breene at the caravan. He said they went Swimming, Kaytlin did not swim, he rode his Bike in site and looked at the Horses behind their site. He said he had a good time.

I warned Curtis that I could not guarantee that we would be able to use the Pool table, he said this was fine and not a problem.

We were able to play a game, Curtis appeared to enjoy the interaction and smiled and engaged appropriately. He talked about playing with Lee whilst they were away.

I informed Curtis that I would see him again in 2 weeks time and asked what he may like to do. he suggested that we take Kaytlin out with us. He was also keen for me to see Kaytlin today.

We talked in general as we played a game, Curtis also taking interest in myself and displaying a caring attitude towards me.

Curtis told me that he is sleeping and eating better at the moment. He asked to take a snack with him today and was talking about wanting his evening meal on way back.

I enquired as to how things have been for him at home, he says that they have only had one argument, this happened whilst they were at the Caravan. I asked what the argument was about, he smiled and said that it was over nothing.

He went on to say that since he has not been at School things have been better as he 'does not come home and take out his anger on his parents about what has happened in the day at school'.

I asked how Curtis spends his days at home, he says he watches 'Jeremy Kyle' show whilst eating a whole packet of Biscuits and watches films. He explained that he is not allowed on his PC during the day as Rebecca says this is not fair as he is not at School. I asked if he does any work from his Books that Rebecca purchased, he said no he doesnt as he is on unauthorised absence from School.

We returned to the house after the game, Curtis keen to show me the progress in his bedroom with the new Furniture, Rebecca did not want him to show me as she said it is not finished.

Lee cooked a Pizza for himself and Curtis, I was offered some also.

Curtis had gone to his bedroom when i left, he said goodbye in response to me.

13/06/11-CIN Meeting at Broadwalk

Time; 10.00am

Curtis also attended part of the meeting today as he is still not attending School.

Curtis does not wish to return to St Bernadettes so other options available were discussed.

CFST continues until 5/7/11 and will then close. - (Sarah Gay, 17/06/2011: 10.06)

21/06/2011-Time; 2.30-3.45pm
Present; Curtis
Venue; Vowell Close
One to one session

I collected Curtis from home, he happily came with me.

(Rebecca had asked Curtis what he would like to do today, he said go to KFC, I said that I would be happy to take Curtis there but would not be able to fund it myself. Rebecca said that she would give Curtis lunch at home and we agreed that I would take him to Vowell Close for game of Pool)

As we drove away Curtis asked me if I liked Elliot (Social Worker), I said that I did and that he is a very nice person who has everyone's best interests at heart including his. Curtis responded by saying that he is not listening to him, as he is trying to encourage him to go back to St Bernadettes School. We talked further about why it would be good to return to mainstream School. Curtis appears to have his mind made up that he is going to attend the Hospital School, again saying about the small classes and how the other pupils will be 'chilled' there. He mentioned the option of a smaller class at St Bernadettes that Elliot had suggested but said that he does not want to do this.

Curtis talked about a concern he has around attending the Hospital School, this being going in a Taxi. I enquired further as to what exactly his concern was. He was cautious to say at first, but said that he is not being racist at all but he was worried about getting a Taxi with a driver who may be Black or Indian. He went on to say that when he has seen incidents involving Taxi drivers on the News, they are always Black or Indian. He also said that he was worried about being able to understand their accent properly and being with someone who is unfamiliar to him but said that once he got to know them he would be ok with this.

We had a talk about safety and I relayed this information to Lee (S.Father).

He mentioned sharing a Taxi with another child and appeared happy with this idea.

He also said that he talks to Miss Nash from School although said that he had not mentioned the Taxi concern to her as he is worried about her reaction, I suggested that she would be able to listen to what he is concerned about and understand what he has told me and offer her advice.

I explained to Curtis that we would not be guaranteed a game of Pool if the centre was occupied, he said this was fine with him.

We arrived and spoke to worker who allowed us to use the Pool table. Curtis engaged in conversation with two of the workers at the centre, who were unfamiliar to him, he smiled and appeared to enjoy the interaction.

He told me that he had closed down his Facebook account now and feels better for doing this.

We played a game of Pool together, Curtis laughing, talking and smiling throughout. Ray (Social Worker) joined us at one point to watch, Curtis again engaged with him and shared a joke. Curtis helping me with some of the shots.

Observation; Curtis appeared much more relaxed, happy and confident than of the last few times I have seen him. He appeared to have a 'mature' and sensible attitude, talking openly with me.

I asked Curtis if he was happy to still go out with me for the one to one sessions and gave him the choice of not doing it, assuring him that I would not be in any way offended if he said no. He appeared positive that he wants to continue going out with me and said that it 'gets him out of the house'.

Curtis said that he is planning for Jodie to come around for Tea tomorrow night and is looking forward to this.

He also talked about how he and Rebecca are cooking a Pasta dish for tonight's meal.

Curtis says that he is now receiving Schoolwork to do at home and that he is able to complete by himself.

When Curtis and I finished the game, he happily left, talking to Luke SW on the way about the game.

During journey back Curtis continued talking as he had done throughout visit, he said that he now has booked up a one to one DJ session for July and has been attending the Music and Lyrics group again, he said that Shay the child he was avoiding is currently not attending.

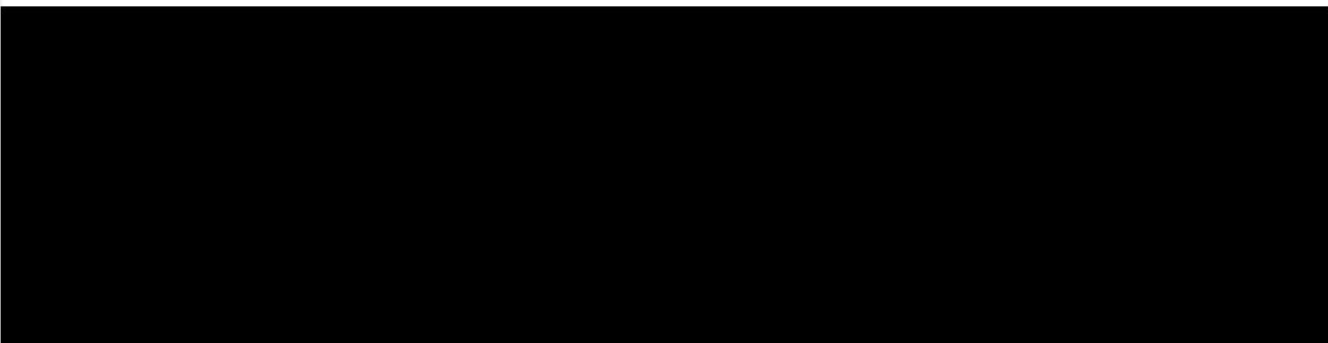

Curtis said that he felt better for writing the letter that he handed in at the CIN meeting. We talked about him writing his thoughts down again in various ways as discussed at meeting, he appeared keen to do this.

Rebecca and Lee not at home when we returned as they were collecting Kaytlin from School, I talked to Curtis about my visits finishing in July, he questioned as to why they are finishing, I explained as best as I could for him to understand. He appeared accepting.

Rebecca, Lee and Kaytlin arrived, Kaytlin was smiling and came over and hugged Curtis saying 'I love you', Curtis hugged her back.

I gave Rebecca the list of my next visits including the final date in July.

Agreed to do home visit next time so that Kaytlin can see me. - (Sarah Gay, 23/06/2011: 15.19)

Detailed Notes	 05/07/11-Time; 3.55-5.00pm Present; Rebecca(Mother), Lee(Father), Kaytlin and Curtis Home Visit to see Kaytlin and Curtis Curtis Curtis was upstairs initially but came and joined us for a while. Curtis spoke in response to me politely but did not give me any contact for a while. He and kaytlin interacted, warmth shared between them. Curtis asked Rebecca if he could watch a music channel on TV, she agreed saying as long as it wasnt too loud, he responded well to this. Curtis sat on the floor, Rebecca suggested that there was room for him to sit on sofa inbetween Lee and myself, he then moved. Curtis talked to Lee during visit, he was smiling and appeared to be close to be enjoying the interaction with him, they shared humour and 'banter' both laughing. We had a discussion about some possible activities for Curtis, he is interested in Archery. He does not want to go to Scouts, he feels it is 'boring'. and they just kick a Football around. Rebecca said that they had initiated the enrolling process but Curtis did not wish to go, she was encouraging of him to consider the option during the conversation. (Lee and Curtis talked about a venue that did this activity but it was only for adults.Rebecca mentioned the Bike Club at Windmill Hill and wondered if it was open again, I suggested she call them and reminded that I had given her the number recently. Rebecca did not recall this but says she will and also mentioned a friend called Marty she can contact, who works at the Parc in Knowle. Curtis still keen to do the one to one DJ sessions but they are becoming difficult to book up due to demand. Rebecca has been offered extra sessions at a cost of Â£15 per hour at the media centre, she said she felt this was a bit too expensive. I suggested that Curtis ensures he books up the free sessions as soon as he is able to. When i announced I was leaving and was on my way out, Curtis got up and held my arm with his and rested his head on my shoulder, he smiled and said 'see you sar' then went back upstairs. Rebecca gestured to me shock, Lee said 'thats happiness'. Rebecca said that Curtis has been a lot more affectionate lately.

Curtis was sat on sofa when I arrived, he said hello to me. He interacted with Kaytlin during visit, showing her warmth.

Curtis said something under his breath about today's visit from SW Elliot Davis, I could hear exactly what he said, but Rebecca had and explained to him that if he wanted to talk to me in private in his bedroom he could. He chose to do this.

Curtis and I went to see his new Furniture as we had suggested previously, he happily showed me around the room and various toys appearing pleased with his room. He says his room is cosy as it is small and talked about the last piece of Furniture that is due to arrive soon.

Curtis and I talked in general about his room for a while, then he said 'I cant believe Elliot today'.

He then continued to talk about what Elliot had told him and how he felt.

He showed me a leaflet that Elliot had given him about children going into care, he said that he had screwed this up and thrown it away when he was given it. He talked about some of the information in it. Two of the things being that he can attend Court if he wishes to, he says he wants to attend Friday(Rebecca told me that she does not want him there as it would not be nice for him) He also mentioned the number of children that go into care and said that that was going to be him also. I explained that nothing has been decided as yet and that this will be talked about Friday and who would make a decision.

We talked about the GAL visiting tomorrow. I explained what their role is and how he can talk to her about his feelings and also ask her questions. I suggested that he could write down any questions today if he felt it would help, he said that he did not want to do this as 'people would think that he had been told to do this'. I assured him that this was ok to do if he so wished and reminded him of the letter he had taken to CIN meeting. (Relayed this to Lee, he said that they worry about telling him to do this being the wrong thing to do).

Curtis saying that Elliot had told him that he would not be taken into care but he had lied. He said he is happy at home and does not want to go into care, he. He talked about what he has at home ie all his Toys/equipment and his nice bedroom saying 'look at what I've got Sarah'. He says that he is safe and cared for at home with his parents and has got everything he wants. He says 'why is Elliot doing this?'.

Curtis expressing his concern for Kaytlin if she is taken from her parents, he said it would 'break her little heart' to be away from them. He became tearful at this point but then appeared to take control of this and stopped.

He asked if they could go to their Grandparents.

Curtis asked me if I could write a report for Court. I explained that Elliot's report contains information from my visit recordings. Curtis saying that Elliot just writes 'bad things' I explained that professionals write positives as well as concerns in their notes.

Curtis asked 'my opinion' about the current circumstances. I explained that I could not give an opinion about the court process and why.

I explained to Curtis that I knew he was wanting me make him feel better and reiterated that he will have an opportunity to speak to the GAL about his feelings.

Curtis said that he is never allowing SW Elliot Davis into the house again, from what he is saying he is angry with him but remained calm and talked and listened to me with maturity in my opinion.

Lee asked if we had finished talking as Kaytlin was keen to show me her room also. Curtis agreed that we could do this.

I gave family the information on Archery for Curtis as promised and relayed that I was awaiting the information about the Windmill Hill Bike club on email, I was thanked for this.

It is my opinion that the atmosphere in the home was relaxed and positive today, with positive interaction between the children. I commented on this to Rebecca. She talked about Curtis being strong for Kaytlin's sake today.

She asked my advised around supporting Curtis as she is very worried about him in view of how he will be feeling. We talked through her being there for him to listen and talk to, Rebecca also said that she is doing her best to distract him with activities as an example.

Curtis and Rebecca gave me a hug at my request as I was saying my goodbyes.
Rebecca gave me a box of chocolates as a gift.

Rebecca saw me out and talked to me outside.

Rebecca asked that I call her on Monday.

Curtis

Rebecca fetched Curtis down from upstairs to see me. He appeared relaxed and happy and smiled at us all during visit. He sat close to Lee on the sofa and interacted with him, this appeared to be positive and with humour. He talked about how he beat Lee at Go Karting when at the caravan.

Interaction

I observed both Lee and Rebecca to talk to both children in a positive tone of voice and giving smiles as they did. Interaction appearing relaxed between the family.

The family were welcoming and engaging despite the fact that they were unhappy with the content of my recordings.

Rebecca saw me out at end of visit.

Home Visit to see children

Curtis

Curtis appeared happy and relaxed during visit, he showed Kaylin affection, rubbing her head and kissing it.

Rebecca relayed that the Dentist had advised that Curtis needs to have his teeth cleaned 4 times a day following food. Rebecca concerned that she will 'get in trouble' if she cleans them for him. I enquired as to the reason he is not cleaning them, Rebecca said that he says he can't do it. He does tell her that he has cleaned them and when she checks the brush is dry.

Rebecca said that Curtis's eating is now the opposite and he is eating too much. Rebecca concerned that she does not wish Curtis to become obese. She says that he is eating lots in particular when they are at the caravan.

We briefly talked about appropriate foods and snacks for Curtis and exercise and also availability of foods. Rebecca went onto another subject during this conversation, about how her and Lee had found out that Curtis had used 'Grand theft auto' game at her Sister's house and related the content of this age inappropriate game to his recent aggressive behaviour. She said that he had gone on this without their knowledge.

During visit Curtis asked for Biscuits for his breakfast, Rebecca encouraged him to have a piece of Toast first, saying Biscuits would not fill him up. He made himself some Toast and compromised with Rebecca to have biscuits afterwards. He was told not to eat all the biscuits in the packet.

Curtis informed me that there are no one to one DJ sessions during the holiday period. He says that he communicates with DJ through Facebook now.

Rebecca talked about the tension in the home previously, she says that this was due to Curtis's behaviour and other factors such as school and issues around his birth Father. Rebecca said that Curtis has been much better since he knew that he did not have to go back to mainstream school.

I observed Curtis to be shown warmth by Rebecca during visit and referring to him as 'love'. I shared my observation that the atmosphere in the home continues to be relaxed and positive.

Detailed Notes	Visit to Brean. Lee met me at the gates and we drove to the caravan. Both children happy to show me round the caravan and Becky in a relaxed mood also. Positive visit overall. I spent time with them in the bar and entertainments area, where Kaytlin took part in a children's entertainment programme. Curtis sat with the adults at the table and we all watched Kaytlin. [REDACTED] I spent time with Curtis cycling round the caravan park. He took me to see the horse that he liked stroking and feeding. It was the same horse he'd shown me a video clip of on his phone recently. He was relaxed cycling round and said that he enjoyed having the freedom of going where he wanted when they were on the caravan park. He showed me the funfair rides, the swimming pool and took me on his favourite routes round the park. Before I left I was able to sit in the caravan with the whole family having a cup of tea and chatting. The two children were both asked by Becky to take a seat with me on the sofa so she could have a photo taken of us, which Kaytlin was very keen on, Curtis less so.

Detailed Notes	26/08/11 TCT Becky to arrange visit for 1.30pm. Home visit. [REDACTED] Curtis has got an English teacher coming on 5th September at dinner time, in preparation for the Hosp Education school. The plan is for Curtis to go 4 mornings a week and Friday all day. There will then also be an activity afternoon on Tuesday or Thursday. Somebody will be calling to arrange music education. They have been down to the caravan again. They are planning on going again tomorrow, Curtis' birthday. For Curtis' birthday gift Kaytlin plans to take him on the caterpillar ride. I saw both Curtis and Kaytlin and they were engaging well together. Curtis rolled his eyes a little about the idea of going on the caterpillar ride, but in a jokey way, and he and Kaytlin appeared close. There was a better atmosphere in the house than on some visits, and the interactions between Curtis and his Mum was positive. Becky didn't leave the room but encouraged Curtis, in her presence, to ask me some questions. Curtis wanted to ask about his Dad, who had sent a card for him. He said he wanted to know the answer to some questions, which I wrote down: "Why is he sending presents now but didn't send them for a few years. On a few birthdays I didn't even get a card." Becky interjected "too many". She then pointed out to me that he had got him a gift worth £280 (iPod). Kaytlin remained in the room during these conversations, playing with some toys on the floor. Curtis wanted to know if Chris had a son, as on his facebook profile there was a picture of him with a little child on his shoulders. I said that I would try and get the answers to these if possible. Becky and Lee asked about the last court hearing, which they were not present at. I confirmed that Chris had been there. They were unhappy about him being there when they weren't, and do not want it to reflect badly on them. Curtis left the room, and we held a conversation about what to say to Curtis. I encouraged both Becky and Lee to be as positive as possible about Chris. I advised them to remind him that they love him. I also said to Lee that he should just be as much of a Dad as possible to Curtis, and not to withdraw at all. They also wanted to know what the meeting on 8th October was for. I explained the purpose of an advocates meeting and the planning for the paediatric assessment. Becky wanted it to be agreed that only private assessments are to be shown to the paediatrician. I did not agree to this.

Detailed Notes	02/09/2011-2.15pm-Joint visit with SW Elliot Davis to discuss support plan - (Sarah Gay, 09/09/2011: 13.13)

06/09/11-Time; 12.00-1.05pm

Present; Rebecca(mother), Lee(father) and Curtis

Home visit; Plan to take Curtis to Media centre or otherwise to research Photography course

(TCT Rebecca 05/09 to advise i was now unable to visit at original time of 4pm due to staff sickness and asked that i visit at lunchtime Tuesday instead. [REDACTED])

Curtis

Curtis came down from his bedroom and spoke to me, he did not appear happy, not smiling and not very talkative. Rebecca told him to clean his teeth, he went to bathroom to do this.

(Rebecca says that Curtis is still not doing it and just pretending to I said that he would get Gum disease, she said that he already has start of it. She said that he is not using shower gel to wash with either. Rebecca still saying she wont clean teeth for him.)Will do some work around this with Curtis.

Curtis fetched himself a cereal bar before we went out to Media Centre. Rebecca told him to fetch a jacket before going out.

I asked Curtis how he was, he said he was fine, I commented that he he didnt appear happy, he said he was a bit tired.

He talked about his new hobby during journey to Media centre, this being 'black magic'. I asked how he knows about this, he said from magazines and books. Relayed this to Rebecca when we returned to house, she was firm with Curtis about the subject, expressing her displeasure of it and that she would not discuss it with him, appearing that she does not want him doing this. I suggested if he was interested in magic he could learn some magic tricks, Curtis not keen saying they are just illusions.

Curtis wanted to book a session in the recording studio/DJ booth today, he was able to confidently do this himself. As they was uncertainty over the families activities this afternoon, Rebecca possibly having to pick up family member Ashley, he arranged it for Wednesday afternoon as he was wanting to play with ashley if he came to their house.

I enquired about the photography course, this takes place Tuesdays 6-8pm at the Media centre and there is no waiting list, it is just a matter of 'first come first serve'. Relayed this information to parents, they encouraging of him to attend.

Curtis expressed they he wants to play with Ashley out of preference today but is confident about attending otherwise.

Curtis booked a 3 hour slot Wednesday afternoon for his DJ work.

I also gave the family the booklet of activities on at Knowle Health park, drawing their attention to the Boxing Class for 8-14 year olds at a cost of 80pence, relaying that Curtis was interested. Rebecca and Lee showing interest in other activites, Rebecca herself interested in an exercise class. I left the leaflet with the family.

I also showed and left a leaflet with Rebecca on the drop in session on Monday's at the media centre for Curtis to work on Computers and any other media.

Curtis and I relayed to parents that worker 'Sandra' at media centre had suggested that Curtis can go there in the day to do his schoolwork and use their resources when he told he was currently home schooling. Suggested to Lee and Rebecca that they go and speak to Sandra for further information.

Rebecca took time to explain to Curtis how this would work, saying that he could take his work with him to do firstly and then once completed he can use other Media such as the recording studio and decks.

This lead to a discussion about the structure of Curtis's work, this being that currently Rebecca and Lee are relaying on Curtis to take control of his work he has to complete. We discussed that parents need to be aware of what work he has to do and set a time to do it and they have to check he has done it afterwards.(Rebecca says that at the moment he does it upstairs, so they do not get to see what he is doing). Rebecca supported Curtis attending media centre so that he gets his own space to work in and get out of the house also.

Curtis has his English Teacher visiting him today, Rebecca says that they are hoping to get things moving on now with regards to Curtis's schooling.

Curtis showed me his new Camera before I left.

Interaction

I observed Rebecca show Curtis warmth, talking with smiles to him and calling him 'darling'. Both Rebecca and Lee interacting positively with Curtis.

Confirmed my next visit 14/09 at 4.00pm to see both children.

- (Sarah Gay, 09/09/2011: 10.32)

14/09/11-Time; 4.00-5.00pm

Present; Lee(Father), Curtis and Kaytlin

Home Visit; To see Kaytlin and Curtis/Assist with Fanmily Funding application to be sent off for new washing machine

(Rebecca was leaving house as I arrived, [REDACTED] I offered to come back when she was present, she said she wouldnt be long and the children were expecting me so to go on in as planned)

Lee, Curtis and Kaytlin were watching a new Yogi Bear DVD together.

Curtis

Curtis appeared happy, smiling during visit and relaxed. He sat with Kaytlin and asked to play the Wii game with her after a while, they happily sat together to play. Curtis also offered me a cup of tea and food during visit.

Curtis is gradually being introduced to the Hospital Schooling. He is attending sessions on a Tuesday morning and activities on a Tuesday afternoon. He talked enthusiastically about the Rock climbing he attended this week and movement session, appearing to of enjoyed this. Curtis has sessions with Teachers from Hospital School during week under the 'moving on' programme. (They see Curtis at media centre also.) The plan is for Curtis to attend Hospital school 2 days and 3 mornings following half term in October.

Lee said that he visited the Media centre as I had suggested and talked to Sandra about Curtis attending the centre in the daytime also. Sandra explained how they can support Curtis there with his work. Parents have to ring the centre on the morning to confirm attendance is possible, Wednesday's are not suitable to attend.

Lee said that Curtis has started to go there to do his work and it seems to be going well.

Curtis attended to Photography Group 2 weeks ago, (this weeks was cancelled by the Media centre) he plans to continue with this, telling me what they are doing in next session. He said that there were only 4 Or 5 people at group (girls) I asked if he had made friends with any of them, he said he had not. I suggested that in time friendships will build between them Curtis did not respond further.

Curtis attended the DJ session also that week.

I enquired about the monitoring of Curtis's work from St Bernadette's. Lee said that he has currently run out of it now but that Miss Nash has requested further work for him.

I will visit Curtis at the Media centre for my session with him. He said that this was ok with him and that he would show me around the recording studio.

Gave Lee copy of partnership agreement to sign.

Lee saw me out at end of visit. He talked about how well things are going with Curtis now that the pressure is off, being away from the bullying at school. This followed my observation of how things are appearing to be positive in the home during my visits.

I shared that my recent visits are being observed as positive and I was reflecting this.

- (Sarah Gay, 16/09/2011: 10.38)

20/09/11-Time; 10.45-11.45am

Visit to Knowle West Media Centre to see Curtis

(TCT Lee to check that Curtis was there today, he confirmed this)

Lee says that things are still going well with Curtis and that he now has a routine of getting up the same time as everyone else and attends the Media centre on a regular basis to do his work, he also gets help from staff there. Lee was very positive about the Media Centre, saying it has been a great help to Curtis.

He talked about how he hope that Cahms will help to build on Curtis's self confidence also.

Lee said that Curtis leaving school has changed things for the better for Curtis. He said that he had a talk with him last night about it and Curtis relayed that he was getting bullied every day at St Bernadette's.

We discussed my focus of self care for Curtis (around Teeth cleaning and washing). Lee talked about the various appropriate strategies they had tried with Curtis and also about how they need to allow him his privacy also at his age. He said that he hope to get further ideas around this from the parenting group he and Rebecca attend. Lee explained that he has told Curtis why he needs to clean his Teeth, he said he goes along with what he says and agrees but does not always clean his Teeth, although says he does. Agreed that I would approach the subject also.

Media Centre;

Curtis appeared pleased to see me when I arrived.

He was sat with a member of staff who was trying to fix his Laptop he had brought in from home. He and Curtis had a discussion about what he has to do next with the Computer. I observed Curtis to have good listening skills and understanding and was socially appropriate with him.

Curtis showed me the Maths work he had been doing today that was set by the Maths Teacher. He was accessing this on the PC and being monitored by the Teacher. He also had a box of workbooks to use from home. (Rebecca had purchased in WhSmith).

Curtis took me to the recording studio after to show me what he does in there. He was very knowledgeable and appeared to be enthusiastic and passionate about his interest. I asked if his parents had been there to see what he does as yet, he said that Lee has expressed an interest in going there to have a look.

Curtis attending photography group tonight at Media centre and one to one DJ session with Jagos Thursday.

I enquired as to what Curtis does for lunch, as he says he stays at media centre until 3.15pm. He said that he microwaved a burger today at 10.30am for his lunch. I asked what else he has, he said that was all he had today apart from a fizzy drink. He said that he sometimes goes to shop over road to buy lunch, Rebecca gives him money. I asked if he brought any snack such as fruit with him, he said that he does not like fruit. I urged that he try and eat a healthy snack, explaining what this consisted of and drink water instead of fizzy drinks where possible. Curtis said that he had eaten 3 chocolate bars this morning, one for breakfast, one on the way there and one more.

Curtis and I had a discussion about his Teeth cleaning. He listened and answered but did not appear to want to talk about the subject. I asked why he does not always clean them, he says it hurts him. I offered suggestions. He talked about how he dislikes the dentist after a recent filling got infected and 'went green'. Offered suggestions to support Curtis.

Jagos and colleague came to studio and asked for Curtis's help with something they were doing, he appeared keen to help. I then left.

Curtis asked if i would tell Rebecca about what he has to do with the laptop now as it would come 'better from an adult'. I suggested her told her the technicalities as he is more aware and understanding than myself but agreed I would call her tomorrow as well.

Informed Curtis i would see him at home next week.

Observation; Curtis appeared confident and relaxed in the environment today.

- (Sarah Gay, 20/09/2011: 14.42)

21/09/11-TCT Rebecca

Relayed information to Rebecca about Curtis's laptop repair as promised to Curtis. Rebecca said that Curtis doesn't appear to tell a full story about things. Made suggestions and advised around what she needed to do.

Rebecca talked about Curtis practising the self defense techniques on her last night that he had learned with Hospital school. We also discussed at some length Curtis's self care, in particular the teeth cleaning. I offered many suggestions and advise. Rebecca relayed that she had tried all the ideas I mentioned and nothing works. I suggested perseverance and repetition and being firmer with him. Rebecca said that he will 'kick off' if pushed into it and they are avoiding this behaviour. Rebecca plans to seek advise at parenting group also.

Detailed Notes	02/11/2011-Visit to Curtis at Knowle West Media Centre Time; 3.10pm-4.40pm Present; Curtis I met Curtis at the Media Centre where he had just arrived and was booked in the editing studio. Curtis appeared happy and relaxed and we talked about his interests and School, which he says is good. Curtis now attending Hospital School 4 days a week, he says he comes to Media centre on the other day. Curtis had been rock climbing today and enjoyed it. He is still attending the Photography group and talked about how they have been asked to take photos for the new South Bristol Hospital. He attends DJ sessions ongoing and books in the recording studio to do his own music. Curtis showed me in depth what he can do and what programmes he uses and the work he has done around music. He said that his parents are planning to visit the media centre to take a look soon. The family went to their caravan last week, Curtis talked about visiting the arcades and how he enjoyed his time there. Curtis was socially appropriate with myself and members of staff. Curtis asking how i was and what i had been doing, taking interest in me. I reminded Curtis that this was my last visit, he asked why and accepted my explanation. He said it was a shame i wont be visiting anymore. I enquired as to what Curtis enjoyed about my visits, he said he enjoyed my company. We discussed if he wanted me to do anything else to help him, he said that he was fine and doing plenty of activities at the moment and is happy. I said that he would still have Elliot's support and that if he needed me to find out any information for him I can be contacted by phone, he appeared happy with this. Curtis tidied the studio and prepared to leave, aware that he and the family were going to Lee's parents for Tea tonight, he appeared to be looking forward to this. I returned Curtis home where the family were waiting to leave. [REDACTED] I said that i needed to give the family some more information so arranged to do another final visit next Tuesday at 5pm instead. SARAH GAY CFSW 08/11/11-TCF Lee to rearrange today's final visit. Rearranged for 10/11/11 after parenting group at 1.30pm 10/11/11-TCF Lee to rearrange today's visit as they were still at parenting group having a discussion. I said that this was not a problem and will change visit to next week instead. SARAH GAY CFSW 16/11/11-Time; 10.00-10.40am Present; Lee(father), Rebecca(mother) and Kaytlin Home Visit to give Lee and Rebecca latest information aquired [REDACTED] New Information on Windmill Hill City Farm's new adventure playground and various activities for 8-14 year olds, which I believe Curtis would be interested in. Suggested if he is currently too busy this could be a school holiday activity source. Also for parents to use with Curtis, various links to Dental hygiene information, Rebecca appeared keen to use this. [REDACTED]

22/11/2011-FINAL VISIT

Time; 5.00-5.30pm

Present; Lee(father), Rebecca(mother), Curtis and Kaytlin

Lee answered the door and appeared to of forgotten i was visiting, he said that they were about to have their tea, i said that i would return another time but Lee said i could come in.

Lee, Kaytlin and Curtis ate Pizza for their tea.

[REDACTED]

Curtis joined us from upstairs to eat his Pizza, he appeared relaxed and happy and involved himself in a conversation about cars with Lee. He planned to go to Photography group later.

I updated with Curtis and Rebecca about him walking to the Media centre, Rebecca told me to speak to Curtis about this.

Curtis said that he 'is not ready yet' to do this, I enquired as to why not, he said 'it doesnt feel safe'. Lee said that he had walked with him once. I made suggestions on how they could gradually do this by walking so far with Curtis initially and then building up to it.

At end of visit I said my goodbyes. Rebecca said that she would probably see me again, saying that it seems that following Court my involvement starts again. [REDACTED] Lee saw me out.

Detailed Notes	06/03/12 Home visit. Saw Kaytlin and Curtis. Spent time discussing Curtis' school. He says he is happy there and getting on well. He is now in every day and spending three days a week there full time. When asked about friends he said he isn't friends with Elliot, a boy in his class, any more and he (Curtis) punched him (Elliot) when he said something about him, winding him up. Curtis spoke about this without prompting but I observed him looking quite regularly at his mother, who was sitting on the sofa, the only other person in the room, and speaking more to her than to me. - No other concerns about school. He still attends the Knowle West Media Centre. - I saw Curtis' room which was appropriate. He has a number of pieces of electronic gadgets and equipment in there and lots of books, DVDs and games. His room and the parents' room had new doors on, which fold in the middle to increase space. - I asked Curtis about contact with his birth father, Chris. Curtis' mother was present in the room when I asked about this. Curtis said that he doesn't want to have any contact with him. He said it was because in the past his Dad didn't bother writing to him. - Curtis wanted to know why Chris had not bothered to tell him when he had another daughter. Becky said that Curtis had seen his picture on Facebook and seen there was a little girl. I said that we had discussed this before, but could not remember clearly the process and reasoning that had happened. I said I would try and find out. - Curtis said that he wasn't happy that when he had asked Chris before about why he hadn't continued writing or replying to letters, Chris had blamed Becky for it. Curtis didn't think this was very good of Chris and is not bothered about having contact with him, he said. - I talked a little with Becky and Lee about Dr Robinson's expert report. It was agreed that I would call them to arrange another visit when we had received his secondary report with answers to the questions in relation to his initial report. - Becky was quite dismissive of the whole process, saying that it had gone on too long now. ED

Email received from Beverley Watkins, Parents' solicitor:

Obviously it needs to be this week !

Email forwarded to Simon Bird, CAMHS:

Hi Simon,

Please could you let me know if you think you are able to offer any advice regarding the email below? Curtis is meant to be going to a new school from next week and the family's solicitor would like CAMHS to offer some assistance. I would be grateful if you could reply and let me know your thoughts.

Many thanks

Elliot

Email received from Simon Bird, CAMHS:
Hi Elliott

This is very quick, I am surprised by the timescales. I had assumed that reintegration would take place gradually over the final term of the year. For the record I would rather see a more considered integration than throwing a somewhat token CAMHS response at the situation.

Realistically there is little that will make a big difference to his anxiety in such a short timeframe, and in some ways it would be actively unhelpful to suggest that we can do anything meaningful in this time. If it would help to contain the anxiety around Curtis I could meet with him next week but it is extremely unlikely that anyone could meet him this week.

I am in London tomorrow (Thursday) but will be able to pick up my mail in the afternoon so do get back to me. I was supposed to meet with Anna Kalin today to discuss Curtis and her thoughts following the internal world assessment, but she was off sick. Provisional feedback is that he appeared defensive and tended to introduce topics for Anna to solve rather than engaging with the sessions in a more open way. Anna had some difficulties with Becky who appeared to find it difficult to allow Curtis his individual time and warned her that he could not be trusted.

Anyway, let me know what you think.

Thanks,

Simon

08/06/12

TCT Becky. Discussed Curtis starting at Cathedral School next week. She is buying uniform on Saturday.

Gave her advice about how to talk to him about it, encouraging her to remain positive about the school, and reassured her that I thought it was a very good school and that many parents would want their children to be going there, and looking at the positives of how he's got on at Hosp Ed, trying to encourage her to believe it was going to go well.

She said that Curtis was out at a friends now

Becky felt that nobody had been offering Curtis or them any support. She said that "people" who should be helping aren't doing anything. I explained that I'd emailed Simon Bird about CAMHS offering support, and asking if she and Lee would like Simon to try and offer some advice next week if that was the earliest he could do anything. She said yes, but she was frustrated about why he'd gone through the social worker and not spoken directly to the family.

Overall in the conversation Becky began with one word answers and was fairly reserved, but then spoke more as it progressed. She was slightly annoyed and irritable with me on the phone and it was not an easy conversation. I tried to offer her some positives such as by saying how I was pleased and impressed with her for talking to Curtis to encourage him to go to the Cathedral School.

TCF Jim Bowyer, BHospEdS. I gave him a full background of the court process and where we were at with plans.

He said that he should have a written re-integration plan completed by the end of the day if he could get through to Emily, the integration support worker who was with Curtis at C School.

He is still very clear that Curtis should succeed well in mainstream school. They hope to do some ongoing meetings with him to help him reframe his experiences and transition into Cathedral Sch.

ED

Email received, from Beverley Watkins, Parents' sol:

This is to let everyone know that Curtis was somewhat reluctant to go to school this morning because he was uncertain as to what support he would have, if any. He was aware that Emily would not be there. However the parents persuaded him to go to school and Curtis himself has reported back that he had 'quite a good day.'

Curtis himself has requested that he repeat Year 9, so that he would go into Year 9 next September and possibly drop to Year 8 for the rest of this term. This appears very sensible. I have spoken to Jim Bowyer and he will speak to the Cathedral School tomorrow about whether they would support this.

Mr Bowyer has also agreed to put something in writing about what support Curtis will receive so that Curtis and indeed his parents know what is to happen.

BEVERLEY WATKINS

14/06/12

Email received from Jim Bowyer, hosp ed., addressed to Cathedral Sch staff:

Dear Mavis and Mrs Morgan

Thanks for all your help and the welcome that your students and staff have given to Curtis.

Now that we know the first three days have gone ok, I've met with Emily today and put together a draft support plan outlining what BHES are proposing for the remainder of the year.

If you could add any more details of the support that Cathedral staff will provide Curtis's parents would be grateful to have a copy of the plan to provide them with reassurance and help them to support Curtis.

Emily has I believe passed on to you Curtis's concerns about his working level being behind the other students in his classes. Beverley has passed on to me that he has talked to his parents about dropping a year and starting year 9 in September. Obviously this is an issue that they will have to discuss with yourselves, however if this is an option it would seem to make some sense to plan for this sooner rather than later.

I believe that your year ends before that of other Bristol schools, if you haven't yet set a date for a review before the end of the year if you could set one with Emily I'd be most grateful.

Thanks

regards

Jim

(See document details above for transition plan)

TCT Simon Bird, CAMHS. Discussed current situation and he agreed that he would try and make some contact with the family. I explained what had happened with schooling and suggested that if possible he could liaise with Jim Bowyer at Hosp Ed. He explained that he could offer some advice to the family about Curtis entering Cathedral School but that offering crisis intervention support was not really CAMHS' role. We spoke about what was likely to go ahead in the coming weeks and months, and he said that he was writing a letter to me about the CAMHS involvement and what they would be recommending as a way forward now, from the perspective of CAMHS as if social care were not involved. He hopes to have that to me by next week.

TCT Lee. Curtis has been going to school every day and seems to be enjoying it but is finding the work quite hard.

Lee said he picks up Curtis from near the hotel on Prince Street at about 4pm, after Curtis walks up there from school. Then home by 4.15pm. Sometimes Curtis will get the bus or walk back but this takes longer.

I arranged to visit next Tuesday afternoon. Becky suggested in the background that I visit separately to talk to them about the situation without the children present. I thought this was sensible and agreed to visit earlier in the day.

ED

2pm Home visit with just Lee and Becky.

4.30pm Home visit and saw Curtis and Kaytlin also. Curtis spoke about his new school and felt very positive about it. He said it is good and we discussed the music dept and the opportunities for him. He also said he has asked to see his Dad, Chris Allaway. He said he wanted to ask him questions directly about why he hadn't replied to messages etc. He was looking at youtube videos on his laptop which we spoke about and watched. Lee showed some interest and came to watch over his shoulder as well and this seemed very warm and genuine. He had to guide Curtis a couple of times not to watch things that might scare Kaytlin, who did seem to get a little anxious when Curtis spoke about one or two of the magician videos he wanted to show me.

When I was leaving Becky spoke to me in private about Curtis seeing his dad. She said that they weren't sure yet who else was going to be there. She said that she had thought she might go there as well and had spoken to Curtis about this possibility. It was unclear who had initially said this, but she mentioned that this would mean that Chris would be unlikely to tell lies to Curtis if she was sitting in the corner quietly, as afterwards she would be able to say to Curtis "this wasn't true, or that wasn't true".

Louise hasn't passed on to Becky the concerns that Chris has raised yet, but will have a conversation with her tomorrow hopefully when Curtis isn't present. Becky had tried to cancel the meeting tomorrow with Louise due to some difficult-to-follow story about Lee having difficulties with his ears. Louise gently insisted on it going ahead. I agreed to phone Chris Allaway and try to see him with Curtis tomorrow, and to then speak to Louise afterwards. ED 4.35pm Missed call from Christopher Allaway. 5.20pm TCT Christopher. No answer. Left message saying I wanted to come and see him and Curtis tomorrow. 03/08/12 Home visit to see Becky and Lee.... Saw Curtis Notes to be completed. 5.30pm Visit to see Curtis at his birth father's home in Shirehampton. Met Chris' wife, her daughter, Kacey, aged 10 and Chris and Kelly's daughter, Lexi, aged 2. Curtis and Chris arrived after me, as Chris had only picked him up on his way back from work in London. Curtis showed me the loft room where he has been sleeping, and I spent time talking to him alone and then with Chris. Curtis said that he feels happy that he is with his family here. He likes having another place to go to. He said that there is a lot of tension when he goes home to his Mum's. I explained to him about the court case again, and why we were persisting, as he said he felt like we were continuing with it to blackmail his parents. I admitted that it was a bit like this, but that we were doing it to try and make sure there were some changes, and that I wanted to make sure I did everything I could to help him be able to stay with his Dad at times. Chris agreed with Curtis and with what Becky and Lee had said earlier, about there being a set timetable about when Curtis would be at his and when he would stay at Becky's. The best plan for him would be that Curtis comes to his on a Friday afternoon and then stays until Monday, as Chris works during the week. Curtis enjoys going to Kelly's nursery as he can go on the computers there and he is happy doing this. I asked Curtis about the difference that Becky was observing in the way he responds to instructions and boundaries at Chris' home. He said that his Dad and Kelly are calm when they ask him to do things and therefore he can be calm back to them, but it isn't like this at his house. I spoke to Mr Allaway outside the home before leaving, alone. He spoke really positively about Curtis, and we watched him help his little sister, Lexi, walk around outside the back garden. Detailed Notes	Hi Elliott, Just to let you know that I spoke to Paul Anthony today and the family have missed their first two appointments so no family therapy meeting have yet taken place. He will offer a third appointment and I have explained that the first one was due to a clash with court, but they will look to discharge if the third is not attended in accordance with standard procedures. Also to say that after my first, apparently successful meeting with Curtis back in August I have yet to see him again. He had appeared open and receptive to the idea of coming again and had actively opted in when given the option, so I was a little surprised but have no idea what dynamics might have affected this decision. Hope that's useful, I have received notification that I will be required in Court so i dare say i will see you then if not before! Best wishes, Simon

Regarding Assessment
-----------------------------

Detailed Notes	Hi Simon, Thanks for the update. That's a shame about the family not attending. I was aware of the clash with the first appointment but, from what the family tell me, they've been trying to contact CAMHS and arrange another one without success. I wonder if you could let me know when the date is for the new appointment so that I can make sure they come along? That would be really helpful. In relation to Curtis, he's been continuing to see his Father, Chris Allaway, and the contact with him has increased gradually so that he's now there every Wednesday after school overnight and every other weekend. The relationship seems to be good between them. However, there's been a deterioration in the ability of Becky and Chris to work together, Becky and Lee have mentioned Chris Allaway becoming involved in the family therapy process. I've suggested they go on their own to begin with and raise this with the therapists to see what their views are. I would be interested in your thoughts about this. Yes, I'm very sad to say that despite our best attempts to work cooperatively, we've been forced to go ahead with the contested threshold hearing in January 2013, so you may be called to give evidence at this! Hopefully we'll speak again before then, but best of luck with your work with the family in the meantime. Regards          Elliot          Elliot Davis          Senior Practitioner          Team B22          Bristol City Council          Children and Young People's Services          4th Floor, Broadwalk Shopping Centre          Knowle          Bristol          BS4 2QY

Reason for Contact	Picked up Curtis from school and took him to Knowle West Media Centre
Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Collected Curtis from school, near the Bristol Hotel, Prince's Street. Curtis 10 minutes later than arranged. He was relaxed, just finishing a phone call when he walked up to the car. I had a social work student with me and confirmed with him that this was ok and that everything we said was confidential. He said school was going very well. He said he'd rate this as the best secondary school he's been to out of the 4 he's attended. He said he'd got some respect from the other students, since he punched one boy who was saying things to one of his mates, and this boy fell on his backside. I asked about the DJ-ing he'd been doing when he met Tinchy Strider (singer - R&amp;B). He said this was really good and he had spoken to him afterwards and had been complimented by Tinchy Strider. He said lots of people had come from school. He'd been in the top 'rave' room and had controlled the lights and multi-media stuff going on in there as well. It had been a good night overall. We spoke about things with his Dad and how this was going. He felt that it was all going well and he enjoyed seeing his Dad. He confirmed that there was a party tomorrow night he was going to for Kelly's daughter. He said that a friend of his had managed to get some vodka that he was going to sneak in to the party. I asked if he'd had some before. he said that he had and he was going to be fine with it as there wasn't very much and he'd cope with this amount. He confirmed there was going to be a bottle that they'd share. I advised him to be careful as with spirits a "not much" can still have a major impact on him. I joked, asking if this was a test of me to see if I was going to say anything to his parents. I said that I would be telling them and he didn't mind too much. I asked about how things were between his mum and his dad. He said that this was ok, because they didn't speak to each other any more. I asked about this change and how he felt about it, since at the beginning things were good when they were talking to each other. He said he didn't mind. Overall on this journey to KWMC he was not particularly communicative, with some one-word answers. He was also distracted by his mobile phone, getting texts and one brief phone call. At the media centre he agreed for me and the student to come with him and look around the centre. He showed us the rooms he normally worked in and spoke to a few of the staff members there. He clearly had a good relationship with them all, and when I spoke to them they were very complimentary about Curtis, his enthusiasm and his skills as a DJ. He was confident, chatty and able to talk freely and politely to all, including the student who was asking a few questions. I gave Curtis my mobile phone number and he gave me his, and I said he could text or contact me directly if he ever needed to. He went off happily to the DJ (Music &amp; Lyrics) session.

Detailed Notes	Kelly has texted her last night. Curtis will go over to his Dad's on 24th at lunchtime, and returning on boxing day. Picking up again on 28th, bringing back on 1st. Becky said she's not happy with it, but she doesn't want any arguing or rowing and she'll do whatever Curtis wants to do. Becky said she's worried about January and she and Kelly got on well, and it's not worth arguing. I asked about the proposal about Curtis going from Wednesday to Sunday. Becky said she can't say yes or no to that at the moment as it's too far ahead and with the hearing coming up she can't get her head around anything at the moment. Becky ok with it if they can commit to something - but they have to stick with it and not changing the rules and not sticking to things. CAMHS yesterday. Curtis in bad mood and kicked off at CAMHS because he couldn't get his own way. He wanted his girlfriend to come round but she said that he was meant to be asking them first. He's been hanging around at Avonmouth - Jagos at the media centre thought it was good for him - it's like a group of boys, where they talk and share things. It's not specially for kids with problems, but for kids who might not be able to open up much. They do activities, bonfires etc. They talk and chat and "stuff like that". Curtis enjoys it. Curtis brought another boy round from the media centre, but Curtis' behaviour was bad - swearing etc. He wanted to then bring his girlfriend, but Becky said he'd trashed his room, and he needed to learn to speak to them properly and to keep to his side of the bargain first. He didn't like it and was in a bad mood at CAMHS. I asked how she thought things were going with CAMHS. Becky said she was shocked about the ways Curtis acted. She said if he's going to tell more lies then it's not worth going. Curtis said he'd just tell them he was in a bad mood. Becky thinks he doesn't understand he can't do that. Becky said that Paul is really nice. Curtis opened up, but what he was saying didn't add up. Paul saw this and asked him what he wanted to do with his life. Curtis said he wanted to stay at home. Paul asked him if it was that bad, it didn't add up - ie he was saying lots of allegations, yet he wanted to stay there - so Becky thinks it was obvious that he was just saying it. Agreed I'd pop out tomorrow afternoon at about 4.30pm, and if this isn't possible due to Curtis not being there, I'd pop out on Christmas Eve morning before Curtis goes to his Dad's.

Detailed Notes	Curtis has a detention tonight and won't be back until late tonight. Lee asked if I could come out on Monday morning instead. I agreed to go at 9.30am. I asked what Curtis' detention was for - he asked Becky in the background but they didn't know for sure. They thought it was probably for homework, not doing it properly. He said they try and get him to do things but he still doesn't. I told them to let me know if there was going to be a problem with me coming out on Christmas eve, but that I really needed to see the kids before I went off for the Christmas break.

Detailed Notes	Louise has spoken to Chris Allaway and he has agreed to meet with Becky along with me and Louise. Louise will try and speak to Becky this morning about this and suggested we arrange a date when we meet on 7th January at court. I told Louise I was going out on Monday morning and will say this to Becky if Louise hasn't managed to get through to her. I told Louise I'd spoken to Kelly Allaway on the same day she'd spoken to Chris. Louise said she is slightly frustrated by Chris' actions regarding contact and not being able to commit to the dates he has promised. Chris has assured Louise that when he cancels he always tells Becky. I said that Kelly had intimated to me that he doesn't always do this and goes direct to Curtis. Louise was told by Chris that when he does text Curtis he gets a relaxed and accepting response and Curtis doesn't seem to be upset about it.

Detailed Notes

Text from Curtis:

"Hi Elliot. When you go to get my stuff is it possible you could collect these things and then drop them to me at the media centre at 6.00 and onwards. Pair of jeans, a hoodie I bought that's grey, my laptop with lead, phone chargere under bed, laser keyboard and any school books they can find along with my series of unfortunate events books. Many thanks, Curtis"

Text to Curtis:

"Hi Curt, that should be fine to get that stuff. I'm not going to be able to get it to u after 6 as I've got to finish work and get home at 5 today, but i could drop it off to you before then. Of if Lee is going to pick you up i could ask him to put that stuff in the car for you. I'll check with lee if he'd mind and text u back. Elliot"

TCT Cathedral School, left message asking them to call.

TCT Becky. She will get things together and Lee will put them in the car so they can go with Curtis to his Dad's. I agreed to send her a text with the list. She said that the jeans are already at Chris' and the books are not there, but at his cousin's probably. She said that she had a call from Curtis' school about his behaviour and detention yesterday.

She was not happy about speaking to me about this and it was a tense phone call. I asked her if I could come to talk to her and Lee next week before the court hearing on Wednesday. She was frustrated about this saying I only visit when it comes up to the court date, and that she has been asking for help for three years but hasn't been given any. I agreed to visit on Monday at 1.15pm.

Text to Curtis about Lee bringing stuff with him tonight:

"Hi Curt, I've spoken to your mum. Lee will pick you up as planned after the media centre. He'll put it all in the car and you can take it with you when u get to your dad's. Your mum said she thinks you've got your jeans at your dad's and the books are at your aunt's. Speak to u soon, Elliot"

TCF Cathedral School. Spoke to Jeremy Srokosz, Head of House for Curtis. Explained more about the history of our involvement and the ongoing concerns. He will speak to Learning Support Coordinator who Curtis should be able to approach if needed. I asked him about the difficulties Curtis said he had been having, and about him swearing at a teacher [Curtis told me yesterday he'd told a teacher to "fuck off"]. He said that this is not true, and that Curtis has actually been trying to keep a low profile and been quite quiet, staying on his phone a lot. The problem they have is with him not doing homework. I gave him the contact details for Kelly and suggested he speak to Chris Allaway. He will do that.

TCF Chris Allaway. He wanted to know what is happening with Curtis' things today. I told him Lee will bring them later with Curtis. He has heard from the school, but has previously not known about the difficulties Curtis has been having with homework. He'll help him with the homework and be stricter with him.

TCT Louise Eden, Guardian, in response to her message asking me to call. No answer. Left a message for her.

3rd Party

4pm Text from Curtis:

"My aunt's?"

Text to Curtis:

"I think she meant Jade's? Is that her name? Not sure why she thinks that but that's what she said. Maybe you could ask Lee for her. how's school been today? U going to your detention now? Hope it goes ok."

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes

TCT Cathedral School. Jeremy Srocosz called back. No problem to rearrange the meeting at 1pm. I updated him with the current difficulties.

TCT Curtis. He said he'd spoken to his Mum on the phone. He sounded quite upbeat. He said he needs to control his anger, and he talked to her about doing more things that are in line with his interests rather than Kaytlin's. He hoped that this might help them understand him more. He has agreed with his Mum to go to a gig at the Bristol O2 Academy on Tuesday next week. His Mum's ok with this.

He said he's missed them a lot since he left to stay with his Dad. We discussed the idea of having a plan of what to do if he gets angry. He listens to music, go to bedrom, chill out on facebook. He could put his phone in the bottom drawer which is squeaky so his Mum would know if he got it out. He would go to his bedroom at 9.30ish and would put the phone and TV off by 10.30pm on a school night. We discussed the agreements on his Mum and Lee's side as well; they would need to agree not to raise voices and give him space. He said that he would not put his music on loudly, only listening to it through headphones. He said he'd like to go to his Mum's this weekend and then return to his Dad's after the gig on Tuesday, or after school on Wednesday. We agreed that perhaps I could pick him up from school on Thursday and go to his Mum's before the Knowle West Media Centre.

4.30pm Visit to Curtis at Kelly's nursery. Spent a bit of time with him alone. Walked up to the shops and spoke about what is going on. He feels that the smoking issue is a major problem. He said he's smoked since Year 6 and he's always managed to hide it from his Dad. He's been told by his Dad that he has to hand over the cigarettes and he doesn't know what to do about it. He was worried that he'd not be able to stay calm if his dad got angry and he'd end up punching his dad. We discussed breathing techniques and anger control. We practiced how he might talk to his Dad and how he would try and discuss it with him in a mature way. Curtis was very responsive to this and wanted to ask advice about how he might deal with the problem. He was saying he'd never hand his cigarettes over and his dad would have to physically take them off him. He suggested hiding them in Lexi's room or Kacey's room (his half-sister and step-sister). I discouraged him from this. He said he smokes three cigarettes a day - one on the way to school, one after school and one in the evening. He dismissed some of the ideas of it being dangerous and causing cancer. He said he gets someone to buy them for him from tesco, sitting outside for ages and asking lots of people until someone says yes. He said he makes the money from doing other people's homework for £1 a time, or writing musical tracks for people to sing over for £5 a time. He said it took him ages to save up the money to buy the cigarettes and this annoyed him about his dad taking his things off him.

I went in to speak to Kelly afterwards with Curtis but she was quite busy. I asked Curtis if he wanted me to talk to Kelly about what we'd been discussing, but he was nervous and wanted to speak to me on his own. We went upstairs into the staff room to talk and Curtis was a little nervous about how things were going to go with his Dad. While i was there Chris texted Curtis to say that he expected his cigarettes to be in his trainer in the porch by the time he got home. Curtis immediately replied to say "no way". Chris texted back "your kidding". I talked to Curtis about how to construct the next text to his Dad, suggesting he say that he wants to talk to him later about it to explain. Chris replied to say that he's going to be taking Curtis "home tonight" and to "get his stuff ready". Curtis appeared shocked and wasn't sure what to do about this. We breathed together slowly to try and calm him down but he was shaking physically and worried about things clearly. I agreed to talk to his Dad and see if I could explain things to him. Before I went i insisted on Kelly coming up to the room to talk to us and I explained to her about what was going on. She said that it was Chris' decisions and that she didn't want to have a go at Curtis as well, since there was enough of that going on.

5.56pm Text from Chris: " I'm taking Curtis home can u tell Becky please I call u in bit"

Text from Becky and Lee: " wots goin on just had a tex off Chris sayin bringin curt back not a good idea want this sorted 2mor"

TCT Chris from my car outside the nursery. He sounded quite angry and evidently not happy at all with Curtis' texts. He said that he felt like Curtis was taking the piss and that he had texted him, refusing to give back the cigarettes, which meant Chris couldn't have him dictating things in his house. He said that I probably would think him an awful Dad but he couldn't have Curtis creating rows in the house when Lexi and Kacey were there. I spoke to Chris for some time but he was not willing to have Curtis stay in his house if he didn't give him the cigarettes. I asked him to try and stay calm when he spoke to Curtis and when he got home, and to have a discussion with Curtis in another room away from the others. He said he would be calm and he doesn't get angry, but he would insist that Curtis gives him the cigarettes as he's 14 and isn't allowed to smoke them. I explained that Curtis believes they're his as he earned them, and that he says he didn't steal the money. Chris said that he didn't believe this, as he doesn't even do his own homework, let alone other people's for money. I agreed that smoking wasn't acceptable at his age but that I didn't think it was going to be ok for Curtis to be thrown out of the house whenever things got tough. I said that I felt it was really important that Chris models to Curtis a way of dealing with conflict that doesn't resort to either violence of physical conflict, or of somebody "washing their hands of him". Chris said he wasn't washing his hands of him and he could come back and stay in the future but he won't be dictated to like this. I explained that this was going to be a stand off between him and Curtis, therefore, and that I really hoped he wouldn't just drop Curtis back to Becky's without any warning, as this would do Curtis no good. I explained my concerns about the risk of violence occurring again if Curtis returned to Becky's without any changes having been made. I said that I thought it would deteriorate again in quite a short period of time as nothing fundamentally is different.

TCT Becky and Lee. Explained what had happened above. Said that they might expect Curtis tonight, but I wasn't sure.

6.53pm Text from Chris: " Sorry for bothering u Elliot I'm not home yet but I will not take curt home i respect wot u said we gonna work it out but he's agree to compromise. I'm not Becky I will always make sure I look after him I've missed too much already"

Reason for Contact	Becky and Lee meeting with foster carer Visit to Curtis after school at placement
Regarding Assessment

Detailed Notes	12.30pm Becky and Lee met with Lyn and myself at Broadwalk. They brought up some clothes for Curtis, although they were very annoyed as they said Chris had a lot of clothes for Curtis. Meeting went positively and they went through all of Curtis' medical needs, including details of his inhaler and nasal sprays, and creams for eczema should it flare up. They said at the end of the meeting that they were worried as Curtis may have razor blades with him and that he has started self-harming. Chris and Kelly apparently knew about this and had told Becky and Lee not to tell CYPs, and to try and deal with it themselves, but Becky said she was not going to keep secrets like that any more. Lyn will check if there are any in his room and we will follow this up. Becky has arranged with Curtis to meet up in town on Saturday to go shopping. I agreed that direct contact is fine with me as long as it is planned and there are no overnights. After picking up Lyn on the way to the meeting she'd told me that Curtis had been fine last night and things had gone well. He stayed up quite late playing on the Xbox with the other two boys in placement. He went to bed in the end at about 11pm. He had breakfast this morning and went off ok to school. Tom, another foster child there (16) walked him up the road to show him the way to the buses. TCT Cathedral School - Karen Morgan, Assistant Head. Curtis has been fine in school today. He has been good in his lessons and spoken to staff. He spent time with Mr Srocosz this morning and there are no worries. I told her about the worries about the razor blade and they will alert us if there are any concerns. 4.45pm Dropped off the bag of clothes from Curtis' mum to him at the placement. He was in his room on the computer. He'd got a little bit lost on his way back through town but Lyn had gone to meet him and he was fine. I spoke about how things have been for him there and he seemed positive and ok. We talked about the Colston Hall performance tomorrow, as he's decided not to go to the Knowle West Media Centre tonight, but will go again next week. He showed us an email confirming that he was invited to the performance event with "Reflex" and the timings of it etc. Lyn will give him some sandwiches to take so he eats before the performance. His friend Niamh will bring more clothes with her to school, which he'd left at hers over the weekend, so he can get changed before the event. I spoke about me being off for three weeks and how I'd like him to be staying with Lyn until i'm back, so at least three weeks, but that he could still see his family. He said this is fine, and he's going to leave it for a bit before seeing his Dad after how difficult stuff was this week. We talked about him seeing Kaytlin again as he hasn't seen her for a while. I suggested he talk to his Mum about Skype. He said he'd talk her through the set-up of it so that she knew how to do it and then he could Skype the family with Kaytlin.

Detailed Notes	8.45am Placement planning meeting with foster carer and foster carer supporting social worker.
	1.10pm TCF Curtis to say that he'd been speaking to his Nan who wanted to speak to me and wanted to know that he's ok. And also as he'd quite like to be able to go and stay with her rather than be in foster care, as it would feel more like home and he'd be able to sleep better. He said that he hasn't been able to get to sleep until 5am the last couple of nights. I agreed to speak to his Nan but couldn't guarantee that this would mean he could go there straight away. He asked if it would be ok for his aunt Jade (16) to go to his foster placement with him. I said that he should check it with Lyn but it was likely ok as long as she didn't stay overnight or really late.
	1.35pm TCT Debbie Allaway3rd Party She is Chris Allaway's step-mother, married to Chris' father (Curtis' grandfather Steve Allaway). She wanted to know that Curtis was ok. I didn't give her too much info about the situation but confirmed he was fine. She said that she isn't in fact able to have him live with her at the moment as he daughter, Jade (Curtis' aunt) is 16 and she doesn't think it would be sustainable to have two teenagers in the house, withher and Steve's health concerns and the fact that she didn't think it was fair for Curtis to go to hers and then by Monday have it all fall apart and him have to go elsewhere. She was reluctant to explain this to Curtis, as I requested her tell him this, seeing as he has hopes he will be able to go and stay with her. I encouraged her to therefore tell him that although he couldn't come straight away, she would be part of all the discussions about how the family might look after him in the future. I also asked her to support the idea of the foster placement so that he didn't run off. She said she would. I confirmed it was fine for him to go and see her over the weekend, but not for overnights.

Detailed Notes	TCF Karen Morgan, Cathedral School - Karen is trying to organise a PEP. It needs to be held before 28th Feb, Elliot is on leave until 25th. They could hold it on the 25th, so asked if I could enter this into Elliot's diary. Explained we are unable to do this. She wanted to know what she should do then, and asked if another social worker could attend while he is away as they have other available dates before the 25th. I advised that I felt it would be more beneficial for Elliot to be there as he knows Curtis and the case, but that as I cannot access his diary I am limited to what I can do. She stated that Elliot said another social worker could attend in his place. We agreed I would look into it and get back to her. E-mail to TM - enquiring whether we should attempt to contact Elliot, or arrange for another SW to go in his place - reply stating Elliot can attend before 3pm on 25th. TCT Cathedral school - Karen not available. Message left stating if the meeting can be before 3pm on 25th, Elliot can be there, and please could she call to confirm with us so that we can let the foster carer know.

	Curtis and I had a discussion about how things are going before his solicitor Chris arrived as planned. Curtis reported that things are ok but he wants to know how long he is to remain in foster care. As he wants to leave as soon as possible. I said that we would like him to stay until the Psychological assessment is done on his family, this is due in mid March. Curtis said he was ok with that. Curtis would like to visit Louise and Nick Hamer this Friday and return on Sunday. Louise and Nick live in Southmead and Curtis is friendly with their son Tom. Lyn confirmed that Curtis stayed that last Saturday and it went well. I said I would speak with my manager and that we would need to get consent from Curtis's mum Rebecca. Spoke about things he needs in the placement to make him more comfortable. Curtis would like his BMX and his Xbox lead which are currently at his Dad's. Curtis is due to go to a gig at the O2 academy on the 2nd of March. Detailed Notes	See notes from PEP meeting. Saw Curtis who attended the meeting, and gave his views on what he would like to happen. School positive about his attendance and attitude, which is improving. He is socialising more and making positive peer-group choices. He was invited to a birthday party at laserquest by a boy in his year group which was good, and who the school consider to be a very positive influence. Curtis was given details about his exam choices for GCSEs and took this away with him. He still wants to do A-levels and go to university to study music therapy. He had a new jacket on and a new bag and he appeared well-dressed. He agreed with Lyn, F/C, that he'd give her his phone at 10pm at night and get it back in the morning so he didn't play on it all night or listen to music all night. He is not sleeping well and this may be affecting his school achievements.  5.30pm Text from Curtis asking me to call when I had 5 minutes.

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Text to Curtis saying I'd got his message but that he should text me in a break or at lunch and I'd call him back.  Text from Curtis. TCT Curtis. He said that he wanted to say that although he had initially said he didn't want to stay in foster care, he now thinks he doesn't want to go home. He said that he's realised he isn't having arguments with Lyn every day but he was with his Mum. He would like to be able to go and live with his friends' family, (Niamh). I said this might be possible but I'd need to look into things a bit more first. I asked about how often he's seen his Mum and Dad since he's been at Lyn's. He said he hasn't seen his Dad at all, and he's disowned him after the smoking incident. I said I'd be making contact with his Dad as he's probably worried about Curtis. He said he's seen his Mum, Lee and Kaytlin about twice a week, going back to theirs for tea now and then, and this has been good. There was one small argument but not much. I confirmed that at the LAC review later he'll have a chance to have his say about everything and he could be completely honest. He was worried that he might offend Lyn if he said he wanted to go and stay with Niamh's family. I tried to reassure him.  4.30pm LAC review. See notes from IRO. Curtis seemed positive and engaged well. He confirmed that he did not want to return home at the moment and would ideally like to be able to live with his friend, Niamh's, family. He's been going for two nights each weekend and he says his Mum agreed to this each weekend. He gave me the phone number for Louise, Niamh's Mum - [REDACTED] He is feeling positive about school and was approached at the end of school today by his REP teacher asking him to take it at GCSE, which he is now going to do. He denied smoking any cannabis or drinking - he said he doesn't go out with the other boys in placement at the weekends and it was when he was with his Dad that he was drinking alcohol. He needs a school PE kit, and I will ask his Mum about this. He has joined the school football team. There are no concerns about sensitive skin and the detergent that his foster carer uses. He is happy staying in this placement and enjoys not having arguments. He gave Lyn his phone last night at 10pm and got it back in the morning, and he slept well, it took him about 10 minutes to go to sleep. He missed Knowle West Media Centre last week but otherwise is continuing to go there and to Colston Hall. He didn't go to KWMC the week before as it was half term. He looked at the details I gave him of the Basement, but he said the equipment and stuff they do is not as good as Knowle West Media Centre. He is planning on going this week again. He would like a couple of things from his Dad's - his scooter, BMX and Xbox 360 power lead. I left Curtis to speak to his IRO on his own.

Detailed Notes	5.10pm He was back from school at Lyn's. I checked with him and he stayed on Friday and Saturday nights with Louise and Nick's. He said it was 'brilliant'. He then saw his mum on Sunday for Mother's Day, and that there weren't any arguments. I asked if he'd played football on Saturday for the school. He said he's not in the team anymore as there was only 4 weeks left of the season, so he's starting a basketball team instead. The school doesn't have one at the moment, but he said he's spoken to a teacher who said it's a brilliant idea. I checked he knew about the psychologist seeing him on Wednesday. His solicitor told him about it and he's fine with it. I explained a little bit about why she was seeing him and advised him to speak to a teacher afterwards if he's a bit drained by the talking, and needs a bit of a break. I confirmed I'd pick him up from school on Wednesday at 5pm after he finished bandspace (recording bands at school).

12.10pm Not switched on. Straight to answerphone.

12.15pm TCT Becky. They are still at the rented caravan in Brean. Curtis is down there with them. I said I'd been trying to get through to him. Becky said he's got a new Blackberry phone with a new number [REDACTED] They came down on monday this week. She said it's been a relaxing "chill out" time. She sounded relaxed on the phone. She said that she and Curtis have been doing things together like last night they came back, leaving Lee and Kaytlin at the social club, they watched tv after going for a long walk with the dog. Today they're planning on going on the rides, getting an evening wrist-band for the children.

I asked when they were coming back. They may come back tomorrow but if the price of the caravan drops from £70/night then may stay over the wk until sunday. They will be asking the owner if they can do it for £50/night. Curtis wants to stay with them there until the end of the week as well.

I asked how things have been. She said there have been the odd couple of issues but overall it's been fine.

I said that if Curtis was to stay down there, could he phone Lyn and confirm what he's doing. Becky said Lyn has texted once and Curtis replied to confirm things are ok and he's alright. I checked that the same agreement as last week was adhered to - that if things become tense or difficult and Curtis needs to come back, that one of them are willing to drive him back up to Bristol.

As we were finishing the conversation and I started telling her about the court date next week the phone got cut off. When I tried calling back it was going straight to answerphone, so I sent a text saying I hoped they had a good rest of the week, and that I'd see them next week.

TCT Lyn, Foster carer. Confirmed the current situation with Curtis down with his parents in Brean. Lyn fine with this, and has no concerns about Curtis generally. I explained we're in court next Monday. She said he's back to school on 15th April, and we discussed the LAC medical at 2pm that day. She will meet Curtis from his school at lunchtime and go down there with him.

Text from Becky:
"Hi its becky sorry battery ran out just put it on charge, curt's phones on if u want 2 talk 2 him! I no maria wants 2 talk 2 him b4 mon but she has his old number 2! Shel i get curt 2 ring her?"

Email sent to Maria Finlayson, IRO, with Curtis' new number.

3.45pm Text from Curtis: " Why wasn't I told there's court on Monday? "

TCT Curtis. No answer, going straight to answerphone.

Text to Curtis: " Hi Curt, I'm sorry about u not knowing about court. I knid of thought Chris was speaking to you about court and what your views are in preparation for each hearing. Have u heard from him and given your thoughts about the current situation? It's quite important that he knows what u think. I hope you've had a good few days in Brean ... I'll try calling again on Monday. Your phone's gone straight to answerphone this afternoon. Have a good wk. Elliot"

4pm TCT Becky. She said that they may still stay down for the weekend. Things are going fine still. I explained I'd had a text from Curtis about court. She said he's got a new phone - a Blackberry - and that he's given his old phone to a friend. [REDACTED]

Becky passed the phone to Curtis. I explained what I'd said in the text above. He said that he hasn't heard from his solicitor, Chris Goulden. I suggested he needed to let Chris know his new number. He confirmed he'd not given Chris his new number.

Curtis wanted to know what we were planning on doing about Kaytlin and whether she was going to be taken into care. I said that at the moment we are not planning on removing Kaytlin, we just want her to see the psychologist in the same way he did. He said he was reassured by this when I asked him. He is happy to stay down with his Mum and Lee at the caravan. I asked him again whether this holiday had changed his view about where he wanted to be living. He confirmed that he still wanted to live with his friends' parents, Louise and Nick, and did not want to be moving back home at the moment.

Detailed Notes

Took Curtis to cafe on Park Street, at his choice. We had a drink - he chose a hot chocolate and he ate a piece of chocolate flapjack. He felt that things were going very positively in general. He is happy at Lyn's, and we talked at length about what he would like to happen in the future. He said that number 1 would be to stay with Louise and Nick long-term, and number 2 would be to stay with Lyn. He is still keen to be a music therapist. He talked excitedly about the DJ gig he's been asked to do in Kingswood.
We discussed his friendships and he spoke about the friends he has. He talked about the twitter account he has and how he finds writing a blog helpful. He said that his twitter feed is like a diary and he finds it therapeutic.
He denied that he is using drugs. I talked to him about Lee's allegation that he has been drinking and that Lee saw a 2 litre bottle of cider in his bedroom. Curtis looked confused about this and denied that this was true at all.
Curtis wanted to go to his Mum and Lee's, and I agreed to drop him off there. I dropped him off there and he was in good spirits. I checked with his Mum that this was ok without any warning and she said "he's my son, he can come here whenever he wants".

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Discussion with Carol Franzen, Psychologist from court. Discussed case and her report, due this Friday. TCT Lyn Budyen, F/C: Curtis had a LAC medical yesterday which went fine, and a GP appt on Friday which also went fine, and where he was prescribed some new inhalers. At the Medical yesterday there were no serious concerns. His eczema was ok - there were no obvious worries or flare ups and from what Lyn could see his skin on his chest and back was fine. Dr Hashash has made a referral to the Children's hospital regarding Curtis reporting he is sweating a lot. He will have some blood checks. He also need to ears to be checked and an appt will be set up for this as well. I spoke to Lyn about the concerns raised in the LAC process about whether the placement was the appropriate one for Curtis. She said that he regularly sits in the living room with her, watches TV with her and chats to her. There are no concerns about boundaries and the way he behaves with her. He is always back on time when he asks her when he should be back. eg. if she says he needs to be back by 8pm then he's always back on time. He always tidies his room when she asks him to, he has a bath when needed. I explained that there were some concerns about the placement being more like 'independent living' with Curtis and the older boys coming and going as they please and letting themselves in and out. She said that none of the boys have their own keys and she is always around. She said that Curtis sits and chats to her lots and more than the other boys who are usually upstairs playing on the computer. But often they join them and all four of them sit in the living room and have time together. I explained again to Lyn the current court situation and the processes and options for what might happen next. She said that if it was decided Curtis should stay in care, she would have no problems with him staying with her long-term. Email sent to Karen Morgan, Assistant Head at Bristol Cathedral and Choir School: Hi Karen, Hope things are all good with you. Welcome back after your Easter break! I wanted to keep you updated on the situation with Curtis. He remains in foster care with Lyn Budyen and things appear to be going very well for him there. I've just spoken to Lyn and she feels positive about caring for him and there are no concerns from her point of view about how well he is getting on. There was a Looked After Child medical appointment for Curtis yesterday, which meant he had to leave school for the afternoon. I apologise if this wasn't made clear to you or the school - I should have warned you before the holidays. I hope it didn't cause any problems for Curtis' afternoon lessons. There are likely to be a few upcoming appointments, as the Paediatrician has referred Curtis for a few blood tests and for an eye test at the Children's Hospital. I don't have any dates for this yet, but when I do either Lyn or I will let you know. We have a PEP meeting booked for 20th May at 10.15am so we'll have a chance to discuss things there, but please do get in touch with anything that you need to check out with me in the meantime. Kind regards Elliot

Detailed Notes

4.20pm Phoned Curtis. I thought he said he was just getting in "to Lyn's", but he actually said "to Mum's". Spoke to him about regular contact with Mum, Lee and Kaytlin. He agreed that every monday he would visit after school and stay for tea. He was fine with this. He said school was fine and there were no worries. He spoke about his gig on Friday through 'Youth for Youth' where he is Dj-ing at Kingswood. It then transpired that Curtis was already at his Mum's and he's said he was just getting in "to Mum's".

4.30pm Visit to home. Curtis was in the front room with Becky, Lee and Kaytlin all together. Curtis was sitting in the middle of the sofa between Becky and Lee. Kaytlin was initially out the back of the room in the kitchen but Lee called her in to the front room. Curtis, his Mum and Lee all appeared to be in good spirits, and there was some joking and teasing going on between them. Becky and Curtis were affectionate towards each other and there was physical contact between them. Through the meeting there were occasional points when Curtis tested his Mum and Lee, by answering back or telling them to 'shut up'. He half-smiled while he did this and evidently knew he was testing them. Becky did not rise to this on this occasion, and each time he said something inappropriate either stopped talking, looked at him, or said "I'm not going to respond to that". Things therefore did not escalate.

Kaytlin tried to plug in her DS behind the small chest of drawers next to the sofa, but in doing so unplugged Curtis' charging phone, which caused some slight argument, as Curtis immediately and defensively complained about it. Becky jumped in quickly and told Kaytlin not to unplug this, and went to help her. She helped Kaytlin plug Curtis' phone back in and plug in Kaytlin's, so she could carry on playing.

Curtis was on his phone, texting or playing games, for most of the visit. He talked about how he wanted to sell the 'iPod Touch' Chris (his Dad) had bought him, and he was discussing with his Mum about who he could sell it to.

I spoke to Curtis, Lee and Becky about my suggestion of having every Monday after school as a set time that Curtis would visit the home and stay for tea. They all agreed that this should happen and all appeared happy about it, beginning today and every Monday from hereon. I was clear that I would like to try and test this out, with support going in from Sue Andresen (FISS) to work towards increasing this and testing overnight contact. I made it clear to Curtis in front of his parents that he could also pop in and see them at other times as well, and a good chance would be on a Thursday after school on his way to the Knowle West Media Centre.

Curtis saw an optician's on saturday. His eyes have deteriorated quite badly. He will now need to wear glasses constantly. If he werrs them properly for 6 months then they may improve. He did not necessarily have to have had them - if he'd worn the ones he was meant to have properly his eyes wouldn't have deteriorated over the last few years.

Curtis didn't go to Louise and Nick's over the weekend

Lyn is going to be on holiday from 16th - 30th July.

Detailed Notes	Elliot, I am in the process of looking at students who had a shaky start to the school year but have turned things around as the year has progressed. I am delighted to report that Curtis is one of these students and having received 14 lunchtime detentions in the 2 months alone before Christmas, since February he has only received 4. This is the result of Curtis's change in attitude to his work and behaviour in school and I am delighted with how he is currently performing. If you look at the year as a whole Curtis has been late to school on 30 occasions, since February there have only been 3. This is a huge reduction and again I applaud Curtis for this improvement. It is great to see Curtis thriving in school and to be able to offer continued praise as I know he likes to hear how well he is doing. I would be grateful if this email could be shared with Curtis's parents and Foster Carer. Many Thanks Karen Morgan Assistant Principal Bristol Cathedral Choir School Reply sent to Karen and to Jeremy Srokosz, Head of House; Hi Karen, That's great to hear, thank you for letting me know. I'll make sure it is forwarded on to those people involved with Curtis, including his parents and the foster carer. I will also make sure that Curtis knows you have told me, since he should hear about the positive things he has achieved as well. I wonder if Jeremy spoke to you about the possibility of having the parents of Curtis attend a meeting in the school prior to the next PEP meeting, so that we can ensure they have a chance to give their views and to hear about how school is going. I left it with Jeremy to organise this as the parents were feeling left out of the loop slightly, so we decided it would be best coming from him not me, but haven't heard if he's managed to yet. Would you mind checking out and letting me know? Or Jeremy - if I have the write email address for you, could you let me know if a date has been set for the parents to come in. We'd mentioned possibly the week before the PEP, i.e. the end of next week. Thanks Elliot 3pm Email sent to Louise and Nick, proposed carers. He completed the child's review form for his LAC review next week. See attached documents. - We spoke about the self-harming. I told him that I had seen his Twitter account and the blogs that he'd put on as well. He looked quite alarmed and evidently had not expected me to have seen the twitter feed. He was anxious to find out how far back I had read. I explained that I was not judging him. He relaxed slightly as the conversation went on, but he said that there wasn't much I didn't know now that I'd seen the twitter account. He said that he hasn't cut himself for two weeks and that he has friends who help him. There were two girls at school who know about him cutting and he talks to them. There are lots of kids at school who know about it and follow him on twitter. He pointed out some small scars on his hand sticking out below his shirt sleeve. He said Lyn doesn't really know, but that Louise (weekend carer) does, as does his friend Niamh, and they check his arms to see if he's cut himself. He said that Louise had said to him that she would have to tell me, but he'd asked her not to. She said she would have to before long. He talked about doing it to help him relieve the pain he feels inside, and that the physical cutting helps him. He said he does it when he has a really bad day at school and people give him a hard time, like teachers. I asked him about the steak knife reference but he couldn't remember what I was talking about, saying he'd never done that. I showed him the tweet and he said that although he'd put it on twitter he never went through with it. I asked if he wanted to stop it. He said he did but it helped him. I offered some help, being there to talk and to listen. He said thanks, but then I mentioned CAMHS, Simon Bird, being around to help. He said that he didn't want to talk to somebody who doesn't cut as they wouldn't understand him, so he didn't want to speak to Simon. I asked him if I was right when I said that the cutting was a symptom of a deeper emotional problem, and the anger and pain he's feeling towards the adults in his life and the fact he doesn't have control over things. He said yes, that was right. I said that Simon and I could try and help with the underlying emotional pain, not necessarily the cutting. He said that he'd think about it. I said there was no pressure but that the offer was there. I suggested we just meet with Simon and I could explain what he was saying, and if Curtis didn't want to take it any further then that would be up to him. We then went on to talk about other things. Curtis said that the most important thing for him is to know what's going to happen in the future. I explained to him in detail the process of the court proceedings and the timing of things, especially in relation to Louise and Nick. He was clear that he still wants to go and stay with them long-term as his first choice. I said that his Mum had mentioned to me about him wanting to stay overnight. He said that he does not want to do this at the moment as there will be arguments if he stays too long. He also spoke about the difficulties over the last weekend and how his Mum didn't send the text to Louise to say he could stay overnight until really late, and then adding in that it was because he didn't want to come home. He said that he had arranged to go and see his Mum on the Tuesday instead. He was clearly annoyed about this situation and described it as getting 'fucked up' and a 'mess'. I talked to him about the idea of having an ICO and what this would mean. He seemed to understand this and I suggested he talk to his solicitor about things. He admitted that he'd forgotten to meet his solicitor on Friday and only realised too late. He was, in general, in a very positive mood. However, I suggested to him that having read his twitter feed I believed there were two Curtis': one who puts on a brave face to the world and says things are ok, and another more real Curtis who is feeling pain and anger and who he doesn't let people see so much. He said that this was true and there are a few of his friends who know the real Curtis. He said that Louise knows the real him as he talks to her properly about lots of deep stuff and she listens well. We left each other with Curtis walking back to Lyn's (I didn't have a car), at about 5.10pm. He was in a positive mood and confirmed that we would be meeting next Wednesday after school for his LAC review. 6pm TCF Lyn, F/C. Curtis wasn't back and she wanted to know when he'd left, which I told her. We spoke about things to do with the school exclusion and the self-harming. She said that she would normally put punishments in place for her foster children if they are excluded, e.g. grounding them. Another child of hers was sent home from school and he was grounded for the day. We discussed possible punishments and I left it for her to speak to Louise about a potential consequence for this weekend. As the phone call ended she saw Curtis walking up the front path and I heard the doorbell ring.

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Hi Elliot Curtis was describing to me, in the car last night, films he is watching, both alone and with Lyn, that are clearly 18 horrors - he is still not old enough to attend a 15 film. Can you let me know your thoughts on this? Thanks Maria REPLY : Hi Maria, The LAC report for Curtis' meeting is now completed, so you should now be able to add your report (I think it bounces over to you now for the next step). I hope you are ok that the court has requested to receive a copy of your report when it is written up. If you are ok with this then I will forward to my solicitor to be distributed when it's finished. With regards the 18 certificate films, I am concerned if this is something that is happening. In reality he may sneak some past Lyn on his phone or computer, but I would be worried if she is actively allowing this to happen. I will speak to her about what she is doing to check he isn't watching 18s. I will ask the parents about their view on him watching 15s. If I'm honest I wouldn't be so worried about him watching 15s seeing as he's only a few months off his 15th birthday. Nevertheless I'll talk to Lyn about the importance of talking about things in context if he is watching things or commenting on things in the films that are inappropriate sexually/violent. Thanks for your help in managing the meeting yesterday so well. I thought it was a successful meeting overall, and I will be following up the agreements with the parents next week, especially in regard to contact/overnights. Regards Elliot Email from Karen Morgan, Cathedral School, confirming whether the PEP will be happening on Monday next week and who might be attending. Email reply confirming this: Hi Karen, Yes, the PEP will still be going ahead as far as I know. We held a LAC review yesterday evening to talk about Curtis' care in his foster placement etc, and to discuss future planning. The parents were upset about not having attended the first PEP, and although I explained that it is not mandatory for them to attend and is actually at the discretion of the social worker, they were very keen to come to this next one. I have agreed that they should attend Monday's meeting, as it went ok yesterday. If you have any significant objections to this then please let me know. Other than myself, the other attendees will be: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>- Ruth Furlonger , ECLAS</li> <li>- Lyn Budyen , Foster carer</li> <li>- Becky Osborne and Lee Drew</li> </ul> Was Jeremy meeting with the parents today to discuss things in general? I hope this went well if so. Also, has Jeremy or another member of staff found time to complete the first sections of the PEP forms with Curtis, or will they before Monday? Thanks very much Elliot Email reply from Karen Morgan: Elliott Jez met with Curtis today. Mum couldn't make it so Jez used the time to go through the PEP with Curtis so that is done. I am happy for parents to attend as long as they understand this is not the opportunity that was offered today. See you Monday Karen

See PEP notes. After the meeting Lyn told me that Curtis had been hurt in the stomach the weekend before last when he'd been at Louise's, when Ruben had 'kicked off', and he'd been elbowed in the stomach. This was the reason he'd gone home sick from school. She confirmed that she felt Curtis was absolutely fine behaviour-wise in her care, following last week's difficult LAC review meeting. 4.40pm TCF Lee Drew. Updated him on PEP meeting. Curtis has not turned up this afternoon. Lee said they've tried phoning him and his phone's not on. Reason for Contact	TCF Curtis' school Email from Jeremy Srokosz, Cathedral School
Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	12pm TCF Jeremy Srokosz. He said that on the Friday before half term Curtis had been in trouble and he now has an after-school detention this week one day. He's been speaking to Curtis this morning and Curtis will do this detention on Wednesday. He had been caught eating a pasty in the school buildings, which wasn't allowed, and then again very soon afterwards despite being told not to do this. Then later he was in the maths lesson (with the teacher who had told him off) and opened a sausage roll. The teacher asked him what he was doing and Curtis said he was 'hungry'. This was a clear challenge and he got in trouble for it. Mr Srokosz said that Curtis thinks the maths teacher doesn't like him and is picking on him, but this is not true in this instance, and Curtis was being slightly cheeky doing what he was doing. I asked him to send me an email with the information of what had happened to earn the detention. Mr Srokosz has informed Lyn (F/C) and has tried to phone Becky without any success yet. I gave Mr Srokosz an update about what was going on with Curtis in relation to Louise and Nick, and at home. I also told him about the self-harm and cutting, so that he was aware. Email from Jeremy Srokosz: As explained on the phone Curtis picked up a detention on Thursday before half term for eating a pasty in the building despite having been asked not to a couple of minutes earlier. He then proceeded to eat a pastry in a lesson on Friday in front of the teacher who had given him a detention the day before. When asked what he was doing he replied 'having a snack' and then proceeded to get angry when being given a detention for eating in a classroom and was sent out where he was in a bit of a huff for a while and was swearing to himself about how stupid the school was etc. He will have an after school detention this Wednesday for 1 hour for behaviour, response and defiance in not following instructions. Thanks Jeremy 4pm Met Curtis after school and went to cafe (Woodies - Curtis' favourite cafe) on Park Street. Curtis was in a fairly good mood. I met him outside tesco where he was talking to two friends, a boy and girl. He said the boy, Jacob, talked lots, and was his 'gay best friend'. The girl was a 'future girlfriend'. I said I thought he already had a girlfriend. He said she had been 17 but he finished it as she wanted to see him all the time. I asked him how he met a 17 year old and who she was. He said that she was a cousin of a friend he knew, and he'd said 'can I go out with your cousin?'. His friend has said he'd put in a good word. Curtis was fairly confident and chatty while we were together. He said that he'd got a detention after school this week, only because he had opened a sausage roll in class and the teacher had flipped. He was smiling when he said this and he obviously thought he was funny by saying he was hungry to the teacher. I explained that Mr Srokosz had told me about what had happened today. We talked about how the weekend had gone. He felt fairly positive, but was clear that he still wanted to remain with Lyn. He explained to me why he didn't want to live with Louise and Nick, which related mainly to their boundaries being too strict. He said that they would treat him the same as they treated Niamh, and this wasn't fair as he was more like a 16-yr-old after what he'd been through. I asked about the ongoing relationship with them and how we could get a halfway house agreement - he said that he wanted to carry on visiting them and staying with them at weekends, but not live with them permanently. He said that he still did not feel like he wanted to go back home to his Mum's, as there were still some arguments over the weekend. He said that Lee in particular had been niggling at him and having a go at home and shouting sometimes about small things. He said that when he woke up late on Saturday morning his Mum had been shouting at him as they were late going out. He said that he'd stayed up with Lee watching horror films until about 2am though so they couldn't expect him to get up early. He said that at Lyn's he had stayed up literally all night playing on the xbox earlier in the week so he was pretty tired. He said she doesn't mind him doing this on the holidays. He said that his Mum had been trying not to be in his face and had been more relaxed, and that she was parenting in a different way slightly. She was backing off slightly more, but Lee wasn't. After prompting him, he admitted that he had enjoyed moving the blocks for Lee, who was building a nice area at the very top of the garden where he was going to build Curtis a basketball court and ring and place to sit. He has only cut twice this week, he said. He cut last night though. He said that he had thought about it and was ok with me making a referral to Simon Bird, CAMHS, to discuss things. I agreed to do this. He said that overall he was happy and things were ok, though. He was positive about the school drugs counsellor, who has been talking to him about various drugs and the risks of them. He said that he had learnt quite a lot about cannabis and the harms it can do, but he still thought people made it out to be more dangerous than it is. He told me about the gig in London that he'd been to with the Hamer family (Nick and Louise), which he said was brilliant. He had really enjoyed watching the bands, and had carried Niamh on his shoulders the whole set of Muse. I gave him a lift back to Lyn's, during which he put on his favourite songs, including by the band 'Bullet For My Valentine', and his favourite song of theirs.

4.30pm Present was Curtis, Kaytlin, Becky and Lee.

Curtis had not long got back from school with Lee when I arrived.

I spent some time in the living room with Becky and Lee sitting on the sofa and Kaytlin playing through the kitchen and into the living room.

[REDACTED] The TV was on and Curtis was less engaged, looking up at the TV and down at his phone from time to time.

I explained that one of the things I was there to do today was to perhaps draw up a family agreement that could be written by Curtis, Becky and Lee about what behaviours might be appropriate and expected of everyone when Curtis was there. Becky said that she didn't want to do this as she thought it wasn't worth it if Curtis wasn't going to be going home permanently. I said that at this point I wanted to do it even though Curtis may only be staying overnight sometimes, not permanently. Becky also said that they'd tried it with Chris [Goulden] once, but that it hadn't worked. I recalled that she had told me this not very long ago but that the reason she'd said it hadn't worked then was because Chris hadn't sent round the copies or followed it up. I said this point to her, that she'd mentioned to me that it was because they'd never got a copy of the agreements. Becky acknowledged this, but Curtis said "Chris is a dick though!". I was a bit shocked, but then we clarified that he was meaning his birth father, and he said "oh, Chris Goulden's alright".

Curtis said that he wanted to speak to me anyway about something, before we do any agreements. I said ok, that was fine. He and Becky asked Kaytlin to go outside, which she was hesitant about but then agreed, with Lee.

Curtis said that he'd been thinking and he's decided that he'd like to move home and not stay in care. Becky looked at me from sitting behind Curtis and widened her eyes, and gestured with her hands to say she wasn't expecting this and that Curtis had made this decision.

Curtis appeared to me to be more negative towards me on this visit than previously. He has normally been pleasant, chatty and polite with me, but on this occasion he was quieter and said that he thought my job was to keep families together, so why wasn't i doing it with his family. He said that he'd got a question for me which was about me promising, when I saw him in school, that he would go home again, and why then when he wanted to go home he wasn't allowed.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] I also reminded Curtis that we had made an agreement prior to me going on holiday for 3 weeks after he went into care, that he would remain there for at least until I was back, to give everyone some breathing space.

It was a difficult conversation and at times Curtis told his Mum to stop talking over me as he wanted to hear what response I would give to his challenges. Curtis said that he wanted to know why, for three years, I have put no support in to the family. He repeated "where was the support?". In my opinion, Curtis has been influenced by his mother's viewpoint here, who has for a long time now been making this accusation about 'no support' being given. I said in response that there was a 'narrative', i.e. a story being told about what's happened over the last two years in the court proceedings, and before, that no support has been provided, but in fact a lot of work has been tried to get help in for Becky and Lee's parenting, but that I didn't think I wanted to enter into a debate about this with them then.

I said that I had heard what Curtis was asking for and would be very careful about how this impacted on the care plan. I said that I knew last week had been a good week, but that I wanted things to be careful and slow and not rush into any changes, since there had been some difficult times before Curtis went into care - to which Becky jumped in and said that this coincided with Chris (Curtis' father) being around. I said that nevertheless things had not been great before then, and that I didn't want us to run before we could walk, and that Becky and Lee needed to think about things carefully as well. I pointed out that if we do things too quickly and it doesn't work then we may have lost the placement with Lyn, who may have somebody else in Curtis' bedroom by then, and this would be a shame.

I suggested to Curtis that he goes away and thinks about this for a few days and that I would like to meet him separately on his own, when we could talk about exactly what he would like to happen. It was agreed that I would meet him after school on Thursday and we'd talk about it again to see how he felt then.

[REDACTED]

Curtis went outside to see Kaytlin in the garden. I remained talking to Becky in the living room.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Detailed Notes	8.50am Message received from Cathedral School saying Curtis had been injured in a car collision on the way into school this morning. He was ok and in school but wanted me to call them back. 9.10am TCT Cathedral School. Spoke to Mrs Cunningham, Secretary. She said that she had spoken with Sue Andresen, who had said it was ok for Becky to come and pick Curtis up. She said that they had spoken to Lyn Budyen, foster carer, as well.  9.26am Email from Sue Andresen (FISS):  Elliot, Beccy rang me this morning to say Curtis had fallen/been knocked off his bike on the way to school. He is ok apparently just shaken with cuts and a swollen knee. Beccy tried you, but you were in court and Sonia wasn't in, tried Lynn but she wasn't able to attend and so phoned me to make sure it was ok to go and take him to be checked at the hospital. I phoned school and said that was fine (they were wanting confirmation from you) as she was parent and he was in voluntary care.  Hope that's ok.  Sue 3.38pm Email to Sue Andresen:  Hi Sue,  Thanks for your email. I spoke to Becky and the school very shortly after you this morning I think. I'm fine with Becky picking him up and she was going to text me when she'd finished at the hospital. I've not heard anything yet so I'll try phoning again in a bit I think.  I went to see Curtis and Kaytlin both at home yesterday afternoon. Curtis told me when he and Becky were on their own, that he thinks he'd like to move home. I felt that there was a lot of stuff that were words Becky has said to me, such as him asking me why I've not put in support to them over the last few years, so I've agreed that I will pick him up after school on Thursday and talk to him alone then, giving him a chance to think over what he wants before then. Becky and Lee both need to think about this as well.  Thanks  Elliot 5pm Having heard nothing from Becky, I phoned. Lee answered but soon passed the phone over to Becky. She said that Curtis had been to the hospital and he was ok. He'd cut the inside of his mouth and had injured his left knee. He had been coming down through town, near Nelson Street, but his brakes locked and chain came off, and although a car had stopped in time, he came over the handlebars and fell off, hurting his head/mouth and knee. She said he'd had an x-ray but was fine, no broken bones, but hurt his muscles and ligaments probably. In the hospital the nurse had given him a lecture about smoking and Becky said that they had admitted it is not easy when Lyn and the two 16 year olds all smoke.  Curtis went back to Lyn's, not staying there as he wanted a cigarette.

Detailed Notes	8.20am TCT Curtis to see whether he wanted to go in to school for first or second period this morning. He said he thinks he will just go in for second period so that he doesn't have to walk up and down stairs. He asked me if I can get hold of some crutches as it hurts walking. I said that I didn't know if that was a good idea as the Doctor had said he should be putting slight bit of weight on it. 9.15am Email to school to advise that Curtis would be late this morning. 10am Took Curtis to school, picking him up from Lyn's. I looked at his left knee and it did look slightly swollen. Curtis said that it was bruised underneath the skin so it hurts lots and will carry on hurting for a week or so. He was limping lots as he walked to the car. Otherwise he looked fine. On the way to school he was in a poor mood, saying he was angry that he had to go to school. He said that if Ms Morgan had been in a car accident and had hurt her leg she wouldn't be in for a few weeks, he could guarantee. He said some kids bunk off school all the time and yet when he has a bike accident he can't even have any time off. I said that he would be ok and that he had fallen off his bike, yes, but he was still able to learn, get between lessons, and would be fine to go in. I dropped him off and suggested he go to reception but he bumped into a couple of friends and was immediately chatting and smiling, walking across to his first lesson with them. I saw him go into the school with all the other children. He was limping as he walked. Text sent to Becky: "Hi becky, just letting u know i dropped curtis at school. He's fed up with havign to go in as he wants a few days off. He's able to get between lessons though and although he's fallen off his bike he should be in school. He's ok to take work into student support for the final period, and i can collect him after school as well. Pls encourage him to stay in school, and speak to Ms Morgan or Mr Srokosz before going to collect him. See u later, Elliot" Text from Curtis asking me to collect him from near Tesco's at 4.10pm as he was going to walk over there and have a fag after school. Text back to say that was fine. 4.10pm Met Curtis and took him to the Knowle West Media Centre. He wanted to stop and meet a friend quickly next to the Hippodrome Theatre as he had borrowed her phone charger. On the journey he put music on the car system and played me some of his favourites, which included guitar-music, hip hop and dance. I commented on how he had a wide variety of interests in music. He said that at KWMC a lot of them are only interested in hip hop or grime and he's trying to record music that is a mixture of heavy metal and dubstep. He said he would quite like to go to study in Hengrove after College as they do degrees there but they don't cost as much and they specialise in music things. He said he's recording and broadcasting live tonight on three different radio stations, including Ujima98FM, a local station, with another boy - Curtis DJing and the boy "Spitting" [rapping]. Curtis said he also writes lyrics and when I ask he agreed that it helps him therapeutically writing down lyrics and 'spitting rhymes' of how he's feeling. I asked about what he'd said on Monday to me and asked what he felt now. He said he still wants to be able to move home. He said that he wants to be with his family. He said that things are different now than they were when he went into care. He said that he would, however, like to be treated more 'equal' as Kaytlin. I said that I thought occasionally Lee was protective of Kaytlin and so was a bit harsher on Curtis than he needed to be. Curtis said this was true, and notably called Lee his "step-Dad". He said he's not seen Louise and Nick recently, and that Louise was being 'pissy' with him, and refusing to talk to him or reply to texts. I said that this didn't sound like Louise very much but he said it was true. I pointed out to him that if he was going to go back home then the boundaries that his mum and dad might put in place could be similar to those put in place with Louise and Nick, which he'd not liked. I explained that smoking, for instance, would be something they wouldn't want him doing. He said he's already cut down and will have given up in the next two weeks. I complimented him on this, and asked about the info his Mum had given me that he'd gone back to Lyn's on Tuesday evening rather than staying with his Mum as he was allowed to smoke at Lyn's. He said that he'd left his tobacco back at Lyn's, so it was easier for him to just go back to hers and stay there. He asked how long it would be before he could be moved back home. I said that I wanted to take it slowly and properly, so we didn't run before we could walk. I talked to him about the way things had been that I was unhappy about before, including the fact that he wasn't attending school as well or doing his homework. We talked about school and the importance of education. I acknowledged that he was really angry about having to go to school this morning, but Lyn and I were pushing for him to go because education was going to be the way that he was going to fulfil his potential in this life - I made a bit of a fuss about all the talents he's got and how well he could do in all his music, and other things. He smiled and acknowledged this, and appeared to be listening. I said that the chance he had now at Cathedral School was massive, and that I was delighted with how his attendance has been 100% since he went into care, and how he has been doing his homework. I said that if he was to go home, I would want to be sure that things weren't going to deteriorate again. He repeated his request that he get crutches for school. He said that his friend, a girl, was helping him round school all day, him putting his arm round her between lessons, which was fine with him. He also said he would like some patches to help him quit smoking. I asked if he's still seeing the drugs counsellor. He said he is, and has been talking to her about cannabis. She's referred him to a self-harming expert at the hospital, who's coming to see him on Monday in school. He's fine about this. He mentioned getting in to trouble at school today in maths for using his mobile phone as a calculator. He claimed that he's allowed to listen to his headphones in class, as "all the teachers know I concentrate better with music on", and so he had headphones in and was using the calculator, when the maths teacher tapped him on the shoulder and said "don't make me ask again". Curtis thinks the teacher dislikes him and he said he doesn't like the teacher, and Curtis claimed that he was being unfairly picked on. I said I would ask Lyn to get him a calculator, as he's meant to have one for class. 8pm Email from Karen Morgan, BCCS:  Elliot  Jez and I both saw Curtis at lunchtime. He was still complaining about his leg but he was happy enough. He spent the afternoon in student support.  Karen 9.30pm Text from Curtis: "Elliot I'm in a lot of pain with my leg I can't go a school"

Detailed Notes	4.15pm TCT Lyn, Foster carer. Not been too bad with Curtis. Curtis thinks his Mum having a caravan this wknd and miss sch on monday. Curtis says he's been texting me but not getting a reply. I said that I had only had one text from him about bandages but thought he might have meant patches. Got appointment for hearing test on 4th July and an appt at smoking clinic on 9th July at 4pm, day he breaks up from school, at Montpellier GP surgery. His blood sample came back as being low white blood cells, so going back in three weeks for another test. C hasn't stayed at his mum's once. Saturday two weekends ago things went wrong and he came back to Lyn's within two hours, they had an argument about his xbox. His Mum said 'I don't even want that here', and Curtis thought she was talking about him. Curtis was asking to come home and he feels his Mum doesn't want him. Last Saturday he went again and had another argument - Lyn not sure what about - then he went to Knowle for the remembrance march for the boy who got stabbed, with his aunt. He was back at Lyn's by 7.40pm. Curtis had said he might stay at Nick and Louise's this weekend but their son said he's not because his mum doesn't even like him anymore. Explained to Lyn about the IRO enquiries and said I would like to arrange a meeting. She said that this was ok, but denied a couple of points about him going out with the other boys in placement, or about the music late at night. I then spoke to Curtis about how things are going. He said things are fine. He said he'd sent me another two texts that I hadn't received - one about going to the caravan this weekend and another about where he would stay when Lyn was on holiday. He wants to go to the caravan this wknd with his Mum, and would like to miss school on Monday. I said that I couldn't agree to that but the decision lay with his Mum, Lyn and school and I would speak to them about it. I spoke to him about Louise and Nick and how things are. He said that he doesn't think they want him to stay since he told them he would prefer to stay in care with Lyn. I said that this was unlike the characters of Louise and Nick and would try to speak to them. I said respite foster care was another option. He asked about his step-paternal grandmother. He will ask her if this is possible and I will also speak to her if he gets her name and number to me by the end of tomorrow. I asked about the bandages he was talking about. I checked what he meant and he was meaning the bandages he could put on his arms when he self-harms as it sometimes doesn't stop bleeding. I spoke to Lyn and asked her if she could have a discussion with one of her GPs about this and ask what they could offer to Curtis. 4.45pm TCT Young People's Deliberate Self Harm Team [REDACTED] [REDACTED] [REDACTED] Spoke with Claire Steadman. She said that normally they only deal with young people who present at a&amp;e with self-harming problems, otherwise it would be community CAMHS teams who deal with these issues in the community. He's been referred to the CAMHS substance misuse team for nicotine and cannot (in same building), but they're not going to be taking him on as it's not serious enough at the moment. She took my details and will call me back as they've been trying to get details on Curtis, but she recommended I try contacting Simon Bird again, as I mentioned I'd been trying to contact him. 5.05pm Email to Simon Bird - high priority - asking him to contact me about whether we can have a discussion about whether he is able to assist with Curtis' self-harming. 10.20pm Email received from Simon Bird, CAMHS:  Hi Elliott,  Please accept my sincere apologies, this original email (below) caught me at a very bad time and I didn't revisit it.  How does meeting on Tues 2nd July at 2pm sound?  Thanks, and apologies again,  Simon

Detailed Notes	9am TCF Claire Steadman, Hospital Self-Harm team. She had looked up on their system what involvement they might have with Curtis and she advised that Paul Anthony, North Bristol CAMHS, was the allocated worker. 10am TCT Simon Bird. Arranged to visit next Thursday after school with Curtis. He is also willing to attend and professionals meeting about the family, should this be agreed with the IRO, Maria. He said that Paul Anthony, Family &amp; Systemic Psychotherapist, is on his first week of a month's leave so won't be back until the end of July. He would in theory be happy to continue the work with the family but this depends on how keen Becky and Lee are to progress this. I agreed we would look into this when Paul was back and I'd talk to Becky and Lee about the situation. 10.17am Text to Curtis: " Hi Curtis, if u remember we spoke about meeting with simon at CAMHS. Regarding Assessment

Detailed Notes	9/7 T/C Beccy re meeting Curt tomorrow. [REDACTED] Curt said he would like to return home one day. He is wearing a nicotine patch so did not smoke whilst we were out which was positive. Issues he flagged up were: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1) Feels family life now he is left is all about Kaytlin now..... felt she had filled the gap left by him.....I talked a bit about how rejected his mum has felt and how much it means to her when she and Curt have time together and feel close. The reality is he has to decide what place he wants in the family as everyone's hurt and feelings inevitably impact on their relationships.</li> <li>2) Curt would like his bedroom cleared so it feels like his as it has become a bit of a dumping ground for other stuff....I pointed out to Beccy that I thought this was really important as it was somehow symbolic of Curtis belonging and his place in the family.</li> <li>3) He misses Kaytlin and would like more time with her but would rather do something like take her to the local park rather than stay in the house as he gets restless. Feels his mum would not trust him to go with Kaytlin on his own and would not want to go with them. ....I commented that contact is very artificial, not like normal home life where you would be out and about, so it seemed reasonable for Curtis to prefer to go out rather than come round and sit in with Kaytlin if he wants to spend time with her. ....Curtis then started getting quite negative with his mum and said they never go out (Beccy denied this and said they go to the caravan and car boot sales etc) and that she is lazy. Beccy was quite upset by the accusation and tried to explain to Curtis that she doesn't go out a lot as she sometimes feels tired and has depression. Curt retorted that he has depression but he functions.</li> <li>4) Curt went on to accuse his mum of not wanting him home as when they row she sometimes says this. Beccy admitted to having said she can't have him back when she was at her wits end with Curt arguing but that he should know she wants him home more than anything and those are words said when upset not meant.</li> <li>5) Money and them not giving him enough, better off in foster care financially.</li> <li>6) Arguments with Lee. Sometimes they get on other times Curtis feels Lee is disrespectful of him... I pointed out to Curtis that I had heard him being disrespectful to Lee at the LAC review so it is important for them both to be respectful of each other. Beccy feels Curtis always better on a 1-1 with each of them but finds it hard when they are all together.</li> </ol> After we had talked we bumped into Maria F, Beccy talked to her and I had some time with Curtis on his own. Asked him not to be so hard on his mum as she desperately wants to make things work with him but all that has happened is painful and takes its toll on everybody. Told him I really appreciated him being so open about the issues for him and it would give me something to work on. Dropped Curt off at the Station, he persuaded his mum to join him and have a tour of the facilities.

Detailed Notes	Met Curtis in town near The Galleries. He was with Louise and Niamh, his friend and her mother. Spoke to them and Curtis about him staying in touch with them. Louise was clear that she and the family would still love to have Curtis to see them and stay over when needed. Curtis said that he'd bumped into them as he was coming out of the shop and he had not arranged to see them but he was pleased he had. Curtis was dressed in a hoodie and skinny black jeans. He was wearing black and blue eyeliner around his eyes, and looked really well presented generally. Throughout the visit he was polite, smiling and appeared fairly relaxed and happy. Curtis and I went to Burger King and sat down with a milkshake. He had three xbox games that he wanted to exchange for an 18certificate game - Grand Theft Auto. I said that I didn't think he should be playing 18 games. He said that everyone plays them, every 14 year old. I said that no, not every 14 year old does, but of course some do. This sparked a conversation about how his Mum has been 'complaining' about Lyn's care of him, and he thinks she's making stuff up about Lyn so that Curtis is more likely to come back home. He said that he'd had a row with his Mum yesterday and had now "disowned" her. He said that he had overheard Lyn on the phone with me and that his Mum seems to be complaining that he smokes and drinks in the house. He said he'd given up cigarettes and he's not had cravings at all since he's had the nicotine patches. He said he wakes up in the morning and craves but then puts a patch on and immediately gets a rush and is fine. He said he also doesn't drink anymore as he has heard under18s can damage their kidneys by drinking alcohol. Curtis then told me that his Mum had only two weeks ago bought him an 18 certificate computer game called "Battlefield 3" for the xbox, so he said he doesn't know why his Mum is making a big fuss about him playing these games at Lyn's, other than that she is trying to make it more likely for him to go back home; he said that actually her doing this is making him want to stay at Lyn's more, and go home less. I asked him about Lyn wearing ear plugs and him and the other boys playing loud music until late. He said that he always goes to his bedroom at 9.30pm a school night and is asleep by 10pm. Lyn always checks on him at 10pm when she goes to bed and he's often already asleep. If he's left the table light on Lyn turns it off. He said the other boys play their music but its not that loud. He is below them so the sounds travel down through the floor, but Lyn can't hear them sideways in her room. He said he gets on really well with the other two boys. He was BBM-ing [instant voice messaging] Abdul about the computer games and arranging to meet up with him. He said they're really nice and on both a Saturday morning and on a Thursday evening (when Lyn goes to darts) the three boys bring the xbox leads down into the living room and play football computer games together on the big TV. He spoke really warmly about his two foster brothers. I also asked Curtis about generally about how we may ask Lyn to be a bit stricter about her boundaries with him and explained to him about how his Mum and Lee were wanting to be clearer in their boundaries, and we may be asking Lyn to offer similar boundaries. He said that he was annoyed with his Mum for doing this and complaining about Lyn as he likes things with Lyn. He said she's really mellow and things are calm there. He said he doesn't argue with her, but she does tell him off. She doesn't shout though, which he likes. He said she will call him and say "Curtis come into the living room please" and then tell him she wants him to do this or not do that, like "your bedroom needs to be tidier" etc. And he's fine with this, he said, and he does it. We discussed the letter he'd written me via his Reconstruct Advocate. He was keen to talk about it but he said almost straight away that it was now out of date, and talked about how he'd argued with his Mum on the phone yesterday. I went through the main points in the letter with him and we talked through them: 1 - he was unhappy about the way that I had come to see him in school when he was taken into care and he felt I and his solicitor had given him no choice. I spent quite some time with him and we chatted about what had been going on at the time. He said that he had thought I shouldn't have done it on a school day. We spoke about the week or two building up to that and the night or two before the day he went into care. I reminded him about the argument with his Dad and the conversations I'd had with him and the time we'd met at Kelly's work, walking round and discussing how best to manage things with his Dad. I explained in detail my thinking and what had happened at court and why it had happened on a Thursday. I felt he listened really carefully and clarified a few things from his perspective when I wasn't sure about what had happened with his solicitor. He considered carefully what I said and responded that he understood why it had to happen on that day. I said that I understood totally that he must have felt under pressure, and that I felt at that point it really needed to have some pressure released, which was why I offered to take him into care. He then added another point that his Mum had been saying to him, which is that I am going to force him to see his Dad, Chris. I said that I was not going to do that but I spent time explaining to him why I still think it was a good thing that he and his Dad had met up and the long-term benefits I can see of him and his Dad having now made contact together, even if they aren't speaking now, and may not for the next few years/months. He said that he still wants to see Lexi (his younger sister) and would like me to try and organise something so that he can still see her. I said that the decision didn't lie with me, it lay with Chris and Kelly but I may be able to help try and persuade them. He said that if they try and stop him he will come and do it anyway and if his Dad tries to stop him he'll deck [punch] his dad and do it anyway. He said his dad's "six foot something but he's a wimp". He texted his Dad and said that he'd better let him see Lexi or he'd come straight through him. His Dad texted back apparently and said, you wouldn't do that, and Curtis replied to say yes he would and he [his Dad] knows it. 2 - the second point we discussed was whether or not he wants to move back with his mum and Lee. He said that he doesn't now. He said that he wants to stay with Lyn. He was very clear about this, and said that although things can go well they then go badly. I asked if I was going to be hearing the opposite from him next week. He said no, not now - that's it. He wants to stay with Lyn "until he's 18". We talked about his visit to Linda Rowbottom, respite carer, this morning. He likes her and thinks it went ok. He said she's already planning on taking him to the cinema next Wednesday and they're going to Colston Hall on the last weekend he's with her. He said that she's a bit of a hippy and he likes her. He said he asked her 'were you a hippy when you were younger?' and she said yes, and then said to him 'are you a goth?' and he said 'of course, yes'. He smiled while he was telling me this. We walked over to meet Niamh and Louise who were sunbathing in castle park, and I left Curtis with them. I wished him luck going to stay with Linda and said he should call me if he needed to at any point.

2.50pm TCT Linda Rowbottom, Respite Foster Carer [REDACTED] She's just picked up Curtis and he's unpacking and settling in. Told Linda about conversation with Curtis and his Mum and how she didn't think he would be going back to hers in the next few days, so to check with her or me if he said he was. Spoke about paperwork and medical/dental treatment. Gave her emergency SW number. The other foster mum and child are already there. Curtis arrived and said hello and said "what a cute baby!". Things are all fine at the moment.

[REDACTED]

5pm Visit to Curtis at his respite foster placement. All very positive and he was happy and contented when I saw him. He has a lovely room at the back of the house upstairs which overlooks the garden. He had got his xbox set up and said that things were fine. Twice he used the word 'mellow'.

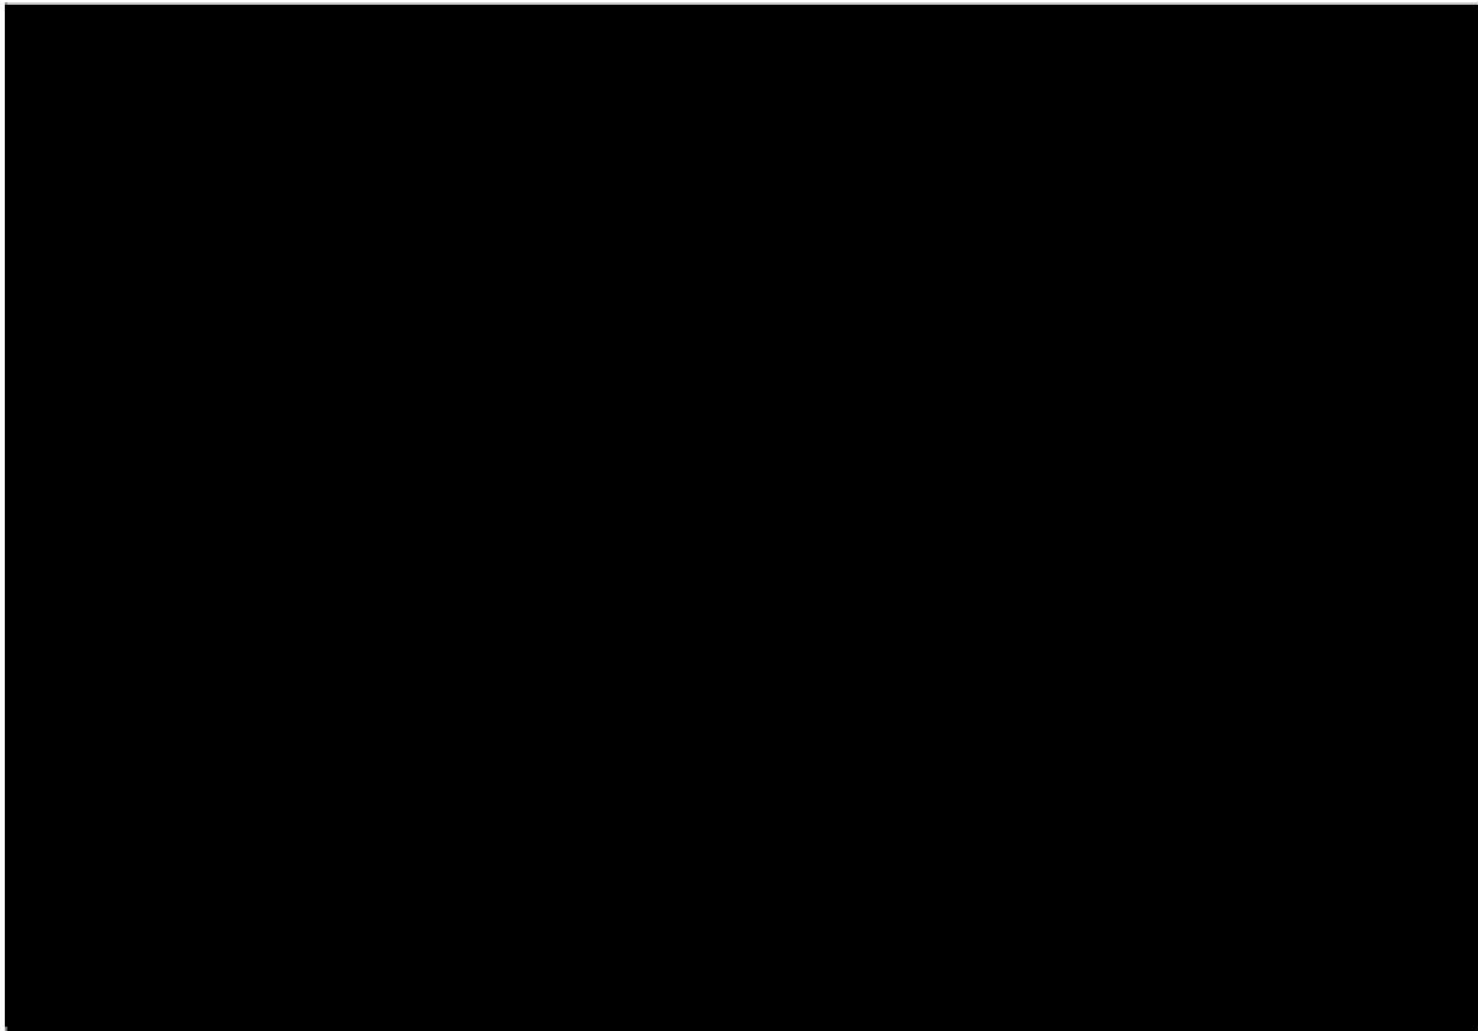

I gave Linda Rowbottom the paperwork necessary and we sat in the garden, while the other young person on respite there (mother and baby placement) started to make some dinner. Curtis talked about how on Thursday he and Linda are planning on making some banana bread. He was pleased that he had the run of the kitchen and was keen on doing some baking. We also spoke about making homemade bread, as we got onto the discussion of stress release. He and Linda may try and make some bread as well.

Linda plans on taking Curtis to lots of events over the next two weeks, including a showing of the opera 'Tosca' on the big screen in Millenium Square on Friday. They will also go to Portishead Lido, and Linda was happy to take one of Curtis' friends if he wants, as he had missed out on the chance to go with the youth group, as there were only 10 spaces.

We spoke about Curtis' family and what had happened. Curtis remained of the opinion that he wanted to stay in care with Lyn, and not return home. He said that he has disowned his family now. He was, however, very keen to see Lexi and Kaytlin, his sisters, and asked me if I could help organise him seeing Lexi.

I agreed to pick him up on Friday morning at about 10.30am and take him to the CAMHS appointment at Southmead. Curtis was ok still to go and see Simon Bird.

he and his mum interacted. It ended up with him going to get something else from the fridge, which he'd been told not to, and his Mum followed him and they had a little stand-off with his Mum holding the door closed. Curtis gave in and came to sit back down. Becky was annoyed when she felt I was accusing her of escalating things by her reaction, when I warned Curtis about what he was doing "poking" and testing her with his behaviour.

I took Curtis to Subway to get a drink and something to eat. Chatted about what had happened with Laura in the foster placement. He was upset about her calling him a freak and said that she had lied about what had happened. He said he had taken his tobacco out of her bra but only because she put it there and told him to get it out. When they were sitting outside he had fallen asleep and his hand had touched her leg, but only because she'd lain down and put her legs on his lap. He was annoyed with her and doesn't want to return to the placement if she's there. Spoke about situation with his Mum. He said he doesn't want to go back and stay there and would prefer to go to another respite placement if possible. He said last night he'd been given a hard time as he's always asked to 'play with Kaytlin' and although he did for 20 minutes he then wanted to be left alone and to go on his phone. His Mum gave him a hard time about this and both she and Lee followed him to the bathroom keeping on at him, so he decided to walk out and get a joint from Melvin Square, from some people he knows and wait at Broadwalk for me to come in this morning. He gave up about midnight and walked home.

I dropped him at the Knowle West Media Centre and agreed to give him a call later to let him know what had been decided about placements.

12pm TCT Family Placement Team. Started process for finding alternative respite foster care.

Potential foster placement identified with Joy and Larry Taylor, St George.

Discussion with TM. Sonia Gingell phoned Becky.

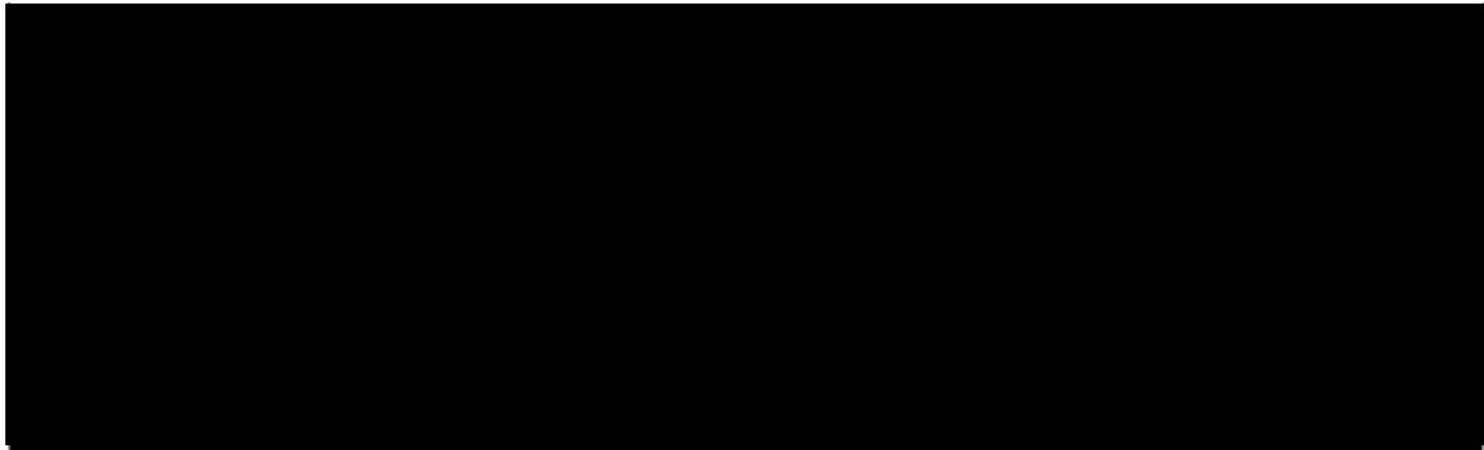

3.30pm TCT Curtis. He said that he still wants to go to this respite placement. He said that he would be ok with doing something nice with his Mum in the next couple of days, and he could walk to town to meet her.

4.pm Picked up Curtis from Knowle West Media Centre. Offered for him to phone his Mum and explained what she was saying. He said that she'll just take an opportunity to have a go at him, so he'll phone her later. Took him to collect his belongings from Linda Rowbottom. She chatted to him and they agreed to go to the Colston Hall concert as planned next Tuesday. She could still have him to stay with her on Sunday afternoon until Lyn gets back from holiday on Wednesday, but we agreed to see how things went with Larry and Joy and decide later in the week. He didn't see Laura, the other foster child who he had had an argument with, but I helped him pack up his things in a bag upstairs then took him to his new placement. Met Joy, Larry and the other two foster children - Jonathon (11) and Mercedes (17). Joy showed him round and chatted about the rules in the placement, including no smoking inside, no cannabis at all, bedtimes etc. Showed him and me round the land they own (about 4 acres) and Curtis said he thought it would be a very chilled out place to be. They had two dogs, one of which Curtis said he'd fallen in love with by the time I left. They also have a hot tub on the patio, and Curtis can use this. Gave Joy the appointment card for Curtis' Doctor tomorrow afternoon. Curtis gave her the card for Sandra, the youth worker at Knowle West Media Centre, saying she could call Sandra if she wanted. Curtis plans on meeting up with his cousins, Sherry and Champagne, on Wednesday at their house. I talked to him about keeping himself safe and being wary about who else was there. I spoke to him about drugs and the risks associated with speed, cocaine and other drugs. He said he felt cannabis wasn't a problem and that he wouldn't touch other drugs. He said he tried MCAT once and didn't like it and won't do it again. Left Curtis at placement at about 6.30pm.

	1pm Visit to Curtis at Joy and Larry Taylor's. He was in the living room playing Fifa'10 on xbox with Jonathon, the younger child in placement there. He was relaxed and chatting with Jonathon. They have played lots of games together - J said Curtis was 6-5 up. Curtis had a hot tub this morning and is v happy with the placement. He said it's very mellow. He's not allowed to play Grand Theft Auto or othe 18 games in the house. He's ok with this. We talked about CAMHS. He said that he would like Simon Bird to be the one he meets with if possible, and he was a bit disappointed that he might have to meet someone new. I said I'd ask Simon about this possibility. Curtis didn't go to his cousins yesterday. He talked about having a row with his mum on the phone and she'd accused him of things that weren't true, like making up a song about the Osborne women. He said that she hasn't tried to arrange to meet up with him and he plans on just spending the week in respite care relaxing. He hoped that a friend from BHES, Hannah, could come to see him in placement, or if not her then a friend Elliot or Shauna. Joy has said it's ok. He likes this as Lyn doesn't let him have friends round. We chatted about me contacting his Dad. I agreed to write a letter this afternoon and ask him to meet up with us both. Curtis was fine about me doing this. Curtis would like to be able to go back to Joy and Larry's for the week when Lyn is away in August later this year. Joy has said this is ok as long as they have space. Curtis told me about his Mum's idea of him going on holiday for two weeks later this summer to Brean. He said he'd be ok with this as long as his Dad [Lee] doesn't go. He would be ok with his Mum, Kaytlin and him going.

Detailed Notes	4pm TCT Curtis - straight to answerphone  4pm TCT Joy - she's just handed Curtis over to Linda Rowbottom. They've been to the foster care fun day. Becky rang Joy and asked if she could have him long term, and told her that she was unhappy about Lyn Budyen's care. Joy happy about having Curtis for respite in the future but can't have him permanent. PLAN is that he will stay with Linda Rowbottom tonight and Linda will drop him back to Lyn Budyen, long-term carer, tomorrow afternoon. This agreed with Joy and Linda. Text to Becky, Mum, to tell her that Curtis is due to stay at Linda Rowbottom's tonight, rather than Joy and Larry's, and the reasons for this. TCT Linda Rowbottom. C said when he saw his Mum she tried to prolong him staying with her and kicked off when he wanted to go back to Joy's. I asked what he meant by 'kicking off'. He said that his mum and then his step-dad were shouting and screaming at him. He said it got out of hand and he said he sat in the car and asked to be taken. He said he's not spoken to his Mum since but they did exchange texts and his Mum asked if he'd had a nice time. He said he had but told her that she ruined it at the end He's fine about going to the concert tonight with Linda and going to Lyn's again tomorrow. He enjoyed himself at the fun day as well. He spoke to Sylvia Lerner, FPT SW, who said that there are lots of people who would like to foster him for the week when Lyn's away on holiday at the end of August. We talked about him seeing his Mum again. I said that although I wasn't supporting him returning to his Mum's full time I wanted to make sure that the contact was better and they didn't argue like this. I suggested we try and make sure that the visits home are more predictable and we stick to certain days. He said this was fine. I advised him that if he was going to agree this though, he needed to be able to stick to it as his mum and Kaytlin get excited about him going home and he can't cancel at the last minute. He said this was ok but he asked if it could be spread out across the week a bit more rather than one day apart - Sunday and Monday. He suggested Friday. We agreed that maybe he could go and see his Mum on Friday this week and stay over.

Detailed Notes	12pm Met with Curtis with his temporary foster carer, Ben Bird. Things gone very well. Curtis went in to the radio station with Ben yesterday after Ben was asked to cover Drive Time at the last minute. Curtis helped him broadcast and spoke on the radio. They also played a couple of his tracks. They went to Glastonbury yesterday for a day out with Mark as well, the other foster carer, Ben's partner. They climbed Glastonbury Tor and Curtis enjoyed this - he said there was no problem with his asthma at all. We spoke about Curtis' smoking. He hasn't smoked since he came to their house, for four days now. He admitted he smoked a little bit of cannabis now and then, when Ben raised the fact he had a marijuana leaf on his facebook profile picture. Curtis is planning on meeting some friends next Tuesday for his birthday in the afternoon from 4pm and will be drinking and eating on Brandon Hill. His cousin Jade will keep an eye on him and walk him home to Lyn's if he gets too drunk. Curtis said he wants to stay in foster care. We discussed the idea of long term care with Ben and Mark, and agreed that we would be seeing how it went this week. Later on today Curtis is meeting Simon from the "Children in Care Council" to discuss sitting on the council and contributing to it. I agreed to meet Curtis on Friday at 9am.

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Picked up Curtis from respite placement with Ben and Mark. He had been out yesterday and Ben thinks he'd probably been smoking weed or around people who had been smoking it as when he came in about 6-6.30pm he had sprayed loads of eau de toilette on himself. Ben got Curtis to bring the bottle of eau de toilette down and showed him how much he needed to use, since Curtis had sprayed far too much. Curtis thought this may have contributed to him having an 'asthma attack' at 4am. He went to bed fine at about 8.30-9pm and slept through. He used his inhaler when he struggled with his breathing and it was fine. Mark saw that he was awake when he went to work (postman) at 6am and so from 5.30-6am Curtis had a cup of tea and a chat with him. Ben said he checked on Curtis last night when he went to bed and helped him put his laptop away, checked on him, took him some orange squash etc. but Curtis couldn't remember this. Before we left we spoke about Curtis' birthday on Tuesday, which he plans on having friends to Brandon Hill for pizza and drinks. Ben advised him about being careful with drugs and alcohol and we spoke about the dangers of cannabis and alcohol. We walked down the road for a cup of tea and a juice, chatting about his friend Oscar. He lives nearby and Curtis knows him from Hospital Education. Curtis admitted he smoked weed about once a day at his friends' houses, mixed with honey blend tobacco (not with normal tobacco). He hasn't smoked cigarettes for the whole time he's been with Ben and Mark. Curtis still said that he wants to be on a care order, and to stay in care. He said that he liked Ben and Mark, and the only thing that he was unsure about staying with them is that Ben is a bit nervous of him. He said Mark's much more relaxed with him, and he doesn't know why Ben is nervous when he's a teacher. He said that if this changed then he'd be fine staying with them. I felt he wanted to hold back slightly from saying he wanted to stay with them as he was not sure if they wanted him staying with them. I walked with Curtis to his friend's house on Bloy Street (Road?). He was then going to get back to his placement so that he and Ben could catch the train over to Clifton to go to the zoo this afternoon and have lunch.

Detailed Notes	Email sent to Sue Andresen, FISS and Maria Finlayson, IRO. With attachments of partnership agreement and delegated authority forms.
	Hi Sue and Maria, Attached are the signed copies of the partnership agreement and delegated authority documents, with slight amendments as agreed with the parents. I realised after everyone signed the partnership agreement that I was going to add on details about contact arrangements. However, I think everyone is clear about this and it was discussed at the LAC review, so I won't go back and re-write it all now. I hope this gives a good enough basis for your work, Sue, to try and improve the communication and confidence in the relationship between parents and carers for Curtis. I am also pleased about how Becky and Lee have responded to the delegated authority idea. It gives me enough confidence that we can proceed with a section 20 agreement rather than care orders, and unless anything major changes between now and the end of the month, I'll be going to court for the final hearing arguing we should proceed without any orders, simply section 20 agreement. Curtis' move to Ben and Mark's went very well and the placement planning meeting on Friday was positive. I haven't heard the outcome yet, but Curtis was going round to Becky's on Friday evening and may have even stayed overnight. Things looked ok when I left the placement on Friday afternoon so fingers crossed things went well. Regards Elliot

I agreed to check with the GP about whether he can go but felt that if he was ok with it then I saw no problem. TCT GP surgery. Absolutely no problem with a 15 yr old coming on their own as long as they are able to explain to the Doctor themselves what's wrong.  11.15am TCF Curtis. He was at the train station waiting. I confirmed that it would be fine for him to go to the GP on his own, from the GP's point of view. He said this was fine. I checked what he was going to do. He said he was going to go to the appt then get the train straight back and probably go to bed. I asked if there was any food for him. He said there was and he'd cook himself something. I agreed to call him later and check to see how the appt had gone. He said this was fine. 12.45pm TCF Curtis. He said the doctor's appt went well. He was on the train on the way back, had picked up a prescription for antibiotics and steroids. I confirmed he'd talk to Mark when he got back about taking these and then see how he felt tonight and tomorrow before deciding whether to take any more days off school or not. He said he'd spoken to his Mum who was upset and he wanted to know why, since I was the last person she spoke to. I explained a bit about my conversation with her and how I had explained about the decision-making process. I said that perhaps things were also quite difficult as this week we have the final court hearing and she feels that she wants him home living with her but can't at the moment, so is a upset about these feelings. I asked what he thought it was. He said he thought this was it as well. Child's voice: He was very clear that he feels that he wants to be able to move home to his Mum's in the future at some point and doesn't want it just to be left and assumed that he'll stay with Ben and Mark until he's 18. He said he wants to have support to be able to go home and if he decides that he wants to go back to his Mum's he wants there to be a meeting and he will be going. He said that he understands about the day to day decisions being made by Ben and Mark but thinks his mum needs to be kept informed of things a bit better. I explained about the meeting with Sue Andresen and how this would be helpful, and how I thought it was a shame it didn't happen, as this is all the sorts of things that needed to be discussed. I told him the two things that needed to be worked on were 1. Contact and 2. Communication between foster carers and parents. He asked about coming to court on Friday again. He hasn't heard from his solicitor. I said I would try and ask again about him coming.

Detailed Notes	Final Hearing at court. Decisions made that Curtis will remain a Looked After Child under a s20 agreement. [REDACTED] Curtis came to court himself, supported by Mark, foster carer. Both Lee and Becky also present. Email sent to Sue Andresen, FISS (Cc'd in Maria Finlayson - IRO): Hi Sue, Just to let you know it went very well this morning at court. There were no complications – Curtis was in court himself and the judge commented on how pleased he was that Curtis was there, given the decisions being made were about his life. The final agreement is that [REDACTED] Curtis will remain in care under section 20 voluntary accommodation. Mark, Foster Carer, came to court as well to support Curtis, and sat in the courtroom, so was also aware of the situation. Curtis was keen for this and Mark managed to spend a good time talking to Curtis, Becky and Lee while we were hanging around waiting to go in, which I'm pleased about. [REDACTED] Curtis is seeing Simon Bird on 9th October after school (Ben will take him to Monks Park House - Southmead) and I'm confident this will be the start of a positive and therapeutic series of sessions. I think we need to see how this goes and what Curtis takes from these sessions, as well as how the relationships progress now that the care proceedings have concluded, before we commit to starting any further series of direct work sessions with the family ourselves. I will also encourage CAMHS to continue with the Family Therapy work (Paul Anthony at Monks Pk House can do this) as well as the work with Simon Bird. This could be very helpful now that there are no proceedings. Finally – I'm going to take Curtis up to his birth Dad's house after school on Tuesday as one final effort to engage him and work on Curtis seeing Lexi, before I leave. I've spoken to Reconstruct, though, and hopefully they'll be able to offer some support around this if we're not successful. They've not promised anything but I'm confident we'll manage to persuade them to do mediation of some form (with Curtis a LAC child), and that Chris Allaway will be more amenable to working with somebody not from CYPs. Let's see... Good luck with the meeting on Monday – I spoke to Curtis and he said he'd be happy to be upstairs in his room for part of the meeting and would join you whenever you said would be a good time. I'm around next week and will be hanging on to the case for as long as is needed until a new SW is identified, so please do let me know how it goes! Thanks again, Elliot

Beccy happy to take him or look after him if he feels really ill if Ben/Mark aren't contactable. Beccy suggested we have a meeting in school to clarify, I thought this was unnecessary Curt said he thought there was no need and that his mum should have come to the PEP. Detailed Notes

4pm Met Curtis after school in Woodies cafe on Park Street, near his school.

Spoke to Curt about how school had been. He talked about getting a detention for walking out of school the other day. He said his Mum is going to back him up as if he's ill he shouldn't be made to stay in school. I asked about what had gone well. He talked about computing and how he's finding it easy, but his teacher has given him a months' worth of work to do on his own, which he's completed. He's looking at Java-script and the developments beyond this, which he's enjoying. He has to set up a computer as a server for a network of computers and is finding this more difficult, as he has to write his own operating system. We chatted about successful computer programmers, and he told me how he's enjoying playing Grand Theft Auto V on the xbox. He's playing with Mark at home, and likes chatting to him.

He said he went with Mark to his Dad's on Saturday and although couldn't initially get an answer, kicked the front door when he didn't answer and managed to speak to him. Chris promised to phone, but didn't, although Curtis showed me a text his Dad had sent him suggesting he pick him up after school one day next week. Curtis said his Dad wants him to see Kelly and Kacey, but he hates Kelly and doesn't want to have to spend time with her and Kacey.

He said he chats to Mark really easily and gets on well with both of them. He said he and Mark got off at the wrong train station and walked about half an hour to get to his Dad's, but that they just talked for ages about all sorts of things and it was fine.

Before we left the cafe we talked about the meeting yesterday that took place with Sue Andresen, his carers and his Mum. He said that it went well but he still wants to be able to go home soon. I explained to him why I was not supporting him going back immediately as I thought it was important it was right, and that he didn't go home too soon and then things were back to as they were and two months down the line, or less, he was asking to come back in to care. I said I needed to know that they had had more than one weekend of positive contact before I could be confident it was going to work. I suggested also that he needed to start the sessions with Simon Bird before he goes home, as there are a lot of things in his head that he needs to work through, and that his Mum equally needed some space and time. I suggested it wasn't fair on his Mum for him to be always up and down and changing his mind, as she obviously would love to have him home, but he can't keep changing his mind about things- we need to see some more stability and consistency in fewer ups and downs.

Curtis tried phoning his Dad from the cafe but it went straight to answerphone. We drove out to Shirehampton and Curtis knocked on his Dad's door. Eventually Kelly answered but said Chris wasn't back yet. She said he should phone Chris and that she'd asked Chris to get in touch with Curtis. Curt was pleasant and polite and left without any difficulty. Kelly was also nice and polite to him.

I dropped Curtis back to his carers. He chatted to me quite easily and appeared to be fine with the discussions we had had about him not going home yet. He said he was still happy with Ben and Mark, although he might want to move into independent living if he was still in care by the time he's 16. I persuaded him that this was not going to be a good idea as he would still be doing his GCSEs and the stress that he'd feel from this would be really tough if he was also juggling managign his own home. He got this and agreed, and thought maybe 17 would be better. when we got back to Ben and Mark's I explained a little about what we'd discussed and when I said Curt was thinking of going into independent living at 16 he corrected me and said maybe 17 as it would be too much while he was doing his GCSEs.

Curtis spoke about his friends, twins Oscar and Jed, and their older brother Jack. He said that he doesn't see Oscar so much but gets on better with Jed and Jack, who's 17. He said he's not smoking any weed during the week now, and is still using his electric cigarette.

He said that the rules in Ben and Mark's are just reasonable and common sense, and that he doesn't feel the rules are too much. He said that at his Mum's her rules were sometimes unrealistic, and inconsistent.

Detailed Notes	Text to Curtis asking how things were, if he's heard from his Dad, and if he can please drop in the library book I got for him back to any library.  5.30pm Email to Jeremy Srokosz, Head of House at Cathedral School, in reply to an email received with a copy of the latest PEP for Curtis, asking if he should send a copy of the PEP to Becky, Curtis' Mum: Hi Jeremy, Thank you very much for this. Yes, please send a copy to Becky and Lee, as they would normally be attending PEPs and should be involved in the process, given they have PR still. I wanted to check with you also, about the procedures in the school about when to phone Becky and when to phone Ben/Mark, foster carers. It's probably too late to catch you on the phone today, but perhaps we could talk tomorrow. I am aware that there was a bit of confusion last week about Curtis' Mum being phoned when he was sick, after Ben and Mark were uncontactable. I know Ben has spoken to you directly about this, and I would reiterate what he probably said, which is that it is much easier and more clear if all day-to-day decision-making is done with Ben and Mark, and that Becky is only contacted in an emergency, or with the longer-term educational issues, such as parents evenings etc. (I think the delegation of authority is detailed at the back of the PEP). The reason I'm saying this really is that we're having a few difficulties generally in clarifying who makes decisions for Curtis out of school at the moment, and are trying to promote the idea that Ben and Mark are responsible for Curtis' welfare day to day, and this includes boundaries, communications etc. Becky finds this an emotional subject anyway, as she feels her role as a mother is being undermined, but it is confusing for Curtis if he gets different messages. It also makes it quite hard for Becky to get her head in this place if she is receiving a different message from school about who is responsible for these decisions by being called regularly to give advice about Curtis or to collect him etc. It also undermines her faith in Ben and Mark being appropriate and responsible carers for Curtis if school phone her and say "we can't get hold of either of them, and your son's sick...". I'm sure you understand. I've been told by Ben that Curtis' Mum was phoned by the school today to ask her if it was OK to give Curtis paracetamol. Curtis' carers were only aware of this because Curtis came back and told them this evening. Therefore, please can you double check and make sure that there are notes on your system, and contact details are set (for receptionist staff as well I guess) so that all staff know it is Ben and Mark who should be contacted, basically as if they were the parents of Curtis? If Curtis is sick at school and you can't get hold of Ben and Mark then he can wait in the sick room at school until they are free to call back, much as you might with any other child I presume, unless of course he's at deaths door and you feel he needs fairly urgent medical treatment – then phone Becky of course (as you might call emergency contacts such as grandparents for other children). I hope this is all ok. Thanks very much for all your work and assistance. Regards Elliot

	Met with Curt and Mark after their meeting at the bank. Gave Curt Kaytlin's card. He said he missed her and was getting a bank card with a picture of him and Kaytlin on it. We talked about the lack of contact, Curt's swings in feelings towards his mum i.e a few weeks ago saying he wanted to go home to live then not seeing her at all. Curt said he is under stress at school, has to do 2 hrs homework a night, and does not like getting bombarded with texts from his mum morning and night. I pointed out that if he responded to one of them she would probably not need to text again. He said it was her fault she was upset with him as she should have told him it was her birthday. I felt at his age he should be able to remember when it is or have responded when Mark told him. He said he had a card in his bag for her (when I said I would drop it in for her he told me he would which made me wonder whether he did have one). Curt said he feels he has tried his best with his mum but contact is negative and stressful and he would rather not see her. I asked about Kaytlin and he said if necessary he would see her in a contact centre (I said that was ridiculous!) or wouldn't mind meeting her with Lee. I did remind Curt that we agreed contact 3 weeks ago and everyone seemed happy with it then. He was very dismissive of his mum being ill, not having a job, having too much time on her hands, being lazy etc. Left with the agreement that Curt would drop a birthday card in this week and reply to kaytlin or see her. I would tell Beccy not to text every day, to text early evening, Curt said he would reply.

Detailed Notes	Hi Ben, I'm forwarding on an advert I saw on Twitter for young people to join the Family Justice Board panel. I think Curtis would be very good at this, but I know he's already doing quite a lot of things. See if he's interested maybe. I wanted to acknowledge that I haven't been in touch for a week or more and that it's probably not ideal in this transitional time whilst we're waiting to find out who's taking on the role of SW for Curtis. I hope things have been ok. I am still officially Curtis' social worker and I am more than happy to be keeping in touch and offering help/advice if you need it. Please get in touch if you have any questions or need to talk stuff through. [REDACTED] How are things going generally with Curt and you guys? I read some of Sue Andresen's notes to say that Curt has been angry with his Mum and didn't go for contact over one of the weekends. I think we're likely to continue having this up and down situation, so the best approach for you and Mark is to try and maintain the consistency of your responses, and ensure Curtis knows he is safe and welcome in your care. When you can and think it's appropriate, you should encourage and promote the contact but I know you have your heads screwed on about when to push an issue and when to leave well alone. Hope to hear from you soon. Thanks Elliot

Detailed Notes	1.15pm Met with Curtis during his lunch break at school. Went for a coffee at a local cafe. Curt said that he had had a detention given to him during his science lesson this morning for swearing at a teacher. He claims that his consent form sent in by Ben (F/C) was lost by the teacher and therefore the teacher wasn't letting him go on the trip to Ashton Court today with the rest of the class. Curtis, with help from Mr Sibley - Student Support - got in touch with Ben and got him to phone in to school and give consent but the teacher (Mr Bugler) still refused to let him go, possibly because of medical consent not being provided in writing. He said that Curtis needed to stay in student support and do two hours of work on his own, which Curtis refused to do and swore at Mr Bugler. He now has to see the Vice Principal in detention. He thinks Mr Sibley thought it was out of order, and Curtis plans on going to the Head to deal with it. We spent a bit of time talking about how the best ways of dealing with conflict were. He wishes he had stayed calm and I advised him to be 'whiter than white - cleaner than clean' so that if there is any injustice he can hold his head up and have nothing thrown back at him. He understood this and said he was going to try this next time. This time he's hoping he can go through the formal channels and address the problem properly. He said that he's fed up with his school and is thinking about moving schools. I advised him against this, but I don't feel that this was something he was saying seriously at this point in time, as he glanced up to look at me as he said it - gauging my reaction. He is still hoping to go into his own accommodation when he's 16 or maybe 17, and has a group of friends who he's planning on living with. He asked me how this might be arranged and what sort of waiting list he would have to go on to. I said that I didn't think it was a good idea. He said he wants to be able to earn some money and not bother with anything like college or further education. We talked about his Mum being in hospital. He said that he forgot to phone her back and when he did she was really dismissive of him. He said that he's thinking he might not bother with her anymore, and just see Kaytlin separately. I asked about Lee and he said that Lee's on his side more now and he can chat with him. He thinks he will now just stay in foster care with Ben and Mark, which he's enjoying, and not aim to go back home. I asked about the card which Kaytlin gave him. He said that this was something his Mum put her up to, as it wasn't something Kaytlin would have done off her own back. He admitted, when I asked, that she probably does miss him, but this wouldn't have led her to make him a card. He says he knows his Mum well and knows all the things she would do and how she does it. He met up with his Reconstruct Advocate, Cath Williams, this morning, and they have written a letter together to Chris Allaway, his Dad. He thinks that if this doesn't work then they will have to go back to Chris Goulden, his solicitor. Curtis rolled two cigarettes whilst we were sitting in the cafe. He smoked one while walking to Tesco for his lunch, and said he's smoking more because of the stress at school and his mum at the moment. We confirmed that I would visit next Friday after school with the newly-allocated Social Worker, June Ford, at his foster placement. That Sunday he then goes to Spain with his foster carers and Mark's family. He said he's met all of Mark's family now and they're really nice - he's looking forward to it. Just before we left he told me about his new girlfriend, Megan, who is a year younger than him. He said she's clever and 'fit' and she's "not frigid". I asked him whether Ben and Mark had talked to him about sex education. He said they've given him a load of "johnnies". I asked if he had got to this stage yet or if it was still early days. He said it was still early days. I suggested he probably didn't want to be a Dad yet - he said no, when he's in his 30s. I said he needed to be careful, then.

He said that his Mum has been having a go over the phone and he's really stressed. TCF Ben, F/C, checking I had arranged to meet Curtis as he had phoned school and said he would be late as he was meeting his social worker. Confirmed this but said I wasn't intending to let him be late. [REDACTED] 8.45am Met Curtis near his school and walked up with him. He said that his Mum has disowned him and he doesn't want to have anything more to do with her. There had been some facebook messages, with his cousins, who had been trying to tell him to go and see his Mum, but he said that they don't know anything about it. He said he was depressed and I asked about him cutting. He said he'd cut himself last night with a stanley knife razor, but hadn't this morning. He didn't think Ben and Mark knew about this. I tried to arrange to speak to Curtis' Head of House at school but he wasn't available. Curtis said he felt like getting in to trouble and just going to sit in the student support section, as he couldn't face school today. I spoke to him about this and encouraged him to think about what getting into trouble would do and try not to let his Mum's behaviour impact on him now. 10am Email sent to Jeremy Srokosz, Head of House:  Hi Jeremy,  Sorry not to have been in touch recently re. Curtis. I did receive your emails about the communications with home/foster care and hopefully there haven't been any more difficulties, but I do understand your frustrations.  I wanted to try and pop in to see you and Curtis during morning break today if that was possible. I'd met him briefly this morning and hoped we could chat then but it was last minute and I think you were in assembly. I got a missed call and text from Curtis both last night and first thing this morning, very stressed and anxious. His mother and he have had a tough weekend with not very nice texts from his Mum apparently. She has been in hospital last week - I'm not sure what for, but a longer-standing illness has become worse - and this raised some confusing difficult emotions for Curtis. Last night she phoned Curtis' foster carers at about 10.30pm and this was not positive, with raised voices and accusations, and has led to Curtis feeling depressed and emotional.  I think he may struggle in classes today and he was talking about getting into trouble so that he could just go to Student Support. I really don't want him to get into any more trouble as I think he had sworn at a teacher last week and already has a detention with the Vice-Principal (or so he tells me - is this true?).  I'm based in my new job at the Council House over the other side of College Green from you, so could easily pop over and meet with you and Curtis at 11.05 when he tells me he has a 15 minute break.  Also - I'm due to hand over the role of social worker to June Ford, and will give you all her details in the next week or two as we complete the handover.  Thanks  Elliot

[REDACTED]

11.10am Met Curtis at school with Will Davies, Student Support, and Rupert Moreton, Vice Principal. Explained what has happened over the weekend and staff agreed that Curtis should wait in student support for lessons today. Curtis said that his music teacher was not respectful to him this morning and he nearly knocked her head off (this was clearly not what he said, as he looked at me and half a smile on his face as he said it), but I spoke to him about needing to be careful about what he said back to teachers. He was told something similar by the VP.

11.45am Email to Sue Andresen, FISS:

Hi Sue,

I can't remember if you said you were on holiday this week or not. I wondered if you're not, if you could give me a call when you get this please?

[REDACTED]

I've met with Curtis and his teachers at school this morning, as I'm worried about him – cutting himself again last night – but I'm concerned that this situation might deteriorate further between Becky and the carers.

[REDACTED]

Also to let you know, June Ford, from the VISTA social work team, is going to be Curtis' new social worker. We're due to visit this Friday after school with Ben and Mark, and I'd pencilled in (but not yet confirmed with the parents) going to see Becky and Lee next Tuesday morning.

Thanks

Elliot

5.47pm Email from Jeremy Srokkosz, Head of House at Cathedral School:

Hi Elliot

Apologies I haven't got back to you yet, today has been hectic and this is the first moment I've actually had to sit down at my computer and wade through some of the emails.

I saw Curtis briefly at lunch and he had been in the Student Support Centre all morning and was returning to lessons for P5 & 6. He seemed in reasonable spirits and even gave a half smile when I made a bad joke about something.

He swore at an assistant principal last Friday, I'm afraid I don't know the detail of the incident but I know that his relationship with this teacher has been a problem in that the teacher is asking him to catch up with work regularly as it is a Science BTEC where the students are continuously producing coursework which counts towards the final grade so there is less exam pressure at the end. However that means there is more pressure now and Curtis is struggling to deal with this.

None of the students know yet but I am stepping down from my role as head of House after half term next week so I won't be directly responsible for Curtis any more. I'm not sure who will be taking on the role but I will continue to be a support for Curtis if he wants it and will let you know and be involved in the hand over once I know who will be taking the role on.

I asked in the last email whether you have an email address for Curtis mum as we don't seem to have one?

Let me know if you still feel it would be beneficial to meet this week.

Thanks

Jeremy

Detailed Notes	9.44am Email to Jeremy Srokosz, Cathedral School: Hi Jeremy, Thanks for getting back to me - I realise you are very busy, so don't worry. I managed to speak to Rupert Moreton and Will Davies with Curtis yesterday morning break and that was helpful. I was anxious that Curtis' low mood meant he may seek out trouble in order to get sent to the Student Support area, or that he'd say something to a teacher that would get him in more trouble. I appreciate that this is not great for Curtis' learning if he continually goes out of classes, but I'm hoping that the situation at home will settle down over the next few weeks as normality is achieved following the end of the care proceedings. I'm sorry to hear you're leaving your post as I think you've been a great help to Curtis and a credit to the school in the meetings we've had. I wonder if you could let June Ford know who is taking over from you after half term, as she is going to be responsible for Curtis from the end of this week. I've CC'd her in on this email so you've got her email address at least (I'll check her phone numbers and either she or I will let you know the rest of her contact details soon). With regards Becky's email, I'm afraid I've never had one for her [REDACTED] [REDACTED] You may have to stick to phones for now. I don't think there's any need to meet up this week now, unless something else unforeseen occurs. Let me know if you think we should. Best of luck with the future, and thanks for all your help with Curtis since he's been with you. Regards Elliot 1.20pm TCT Curtis. No answer. Detailed Notes	4pm Home visit to foster carer's home. Curtis present with Ben and Mark, and also June Ford, new SW for Curtis. Discussed history and current situation. Talked through with June what the key issues are and what she could be doing to support Curtis. Agreed that contact at the moment needs to improve and the communication between home and foster care has been deteriorating over the last couple of weeks. Curtis spoke about his friends and who he sees, what he likes doing etc. He is being cautious about Oscar, his friend, who is spending a lot of time with Curtis' girlfriend, Megan. Curtis is seeing more of Jed, Oscar's twin, and Jack, their older brother (20), who lives in a flat near Easton. He wanted to go and see Jed and Oscar that night and asked to stay over at Jed's. I spoke to him with the foster carers and agreed that we didn't think it was appropriate for Curtis to stay at Jed's, due to concerns about the father in the home having a drug and alcohol problem and there being violence in the home. It was agreed that Jed could stay over at the foster placement if he wanted, Ben and Mark agreeing to them having a pizza and playing Guitar Hero on the computer. I dropped Curtis off near his friend's house after the visit.

Detailed Notes	Email from Jeremy Srokosz, Head of House at Cathedral: Hi Elliot & June Jamie Fitch will be taking over from me as Head of House after half term, I have cc'd him into this email. I have had a brief discussion about Curtis with him and I guess it will be a case of continuing to work together over the next few months in achieving a smooth hand over. I will talk to Curtis when we return after half term to explain what is happening and to let him know that I am still happy to work with him or listen to him is he needs to come and let off steam. We have put Curtis forward for a Mentoring scheme which we run with the law firm across the road from the school. I haven't had a chance to ask Curtis how he feels about this opportunity yet but it may be that he already has plenty of people to talk to although this might provide someone completely removed from his day to day life who could provide a different perspective. Thanks Elliot for all your support for Curtis over the past couple of years and guiding me through a complicated family and legal background. Kind regards Jeremy

Reason for Contact	Emergency school meeting. June, Sylvia, Mike Godfrey, Becky, mother, Curtis, Rupert Murdock, deputy head of pastoral care, Mr Fitch, head of year. Curtis has said he does not want to remain at BCC and if he is forced to remain he will become disruptive, his self harming has increased.
Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Curtis has been at BCC for over a year and he has made it clear he does not wish to remain at mainstream school, he wish to go on a early college placement on access to music course. He has been using the student support centre where he feels safe. The episodes of self harming has increased over the past two weeks and after a further incident of self harming yesterday school called a emergency meeting. There was already a plan in place to call an early pep meeting on 16 December. Curtis was asked what has changed. Curtis said he finds it hard to come to school, he is becoming depressed from dealing with the stress this causes him. Curtis said he finds studying for GCSE very stressful, he does not like feeling stressed as this stops him from feeling inspired to attend school. School has reviewed his timetable and reduced it but Curtis still need to engage with the lessons. Today Curtis took himself out of lessons. Curtis said he did that to make a stand to make sure his voice is heard. He did admit that he find it easier to work in student support as it is quieter and less distracting. Plan <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Curtis to apply for Access to Music course - Mark / June to take him to look around next week - Tues pm 4.30 pm</li> <li>2. Mark to take Curtis to GP re self-harm and also Curtis to ask Simon Bird for referral to Hospital education (for other 2 days)</li> <li>3. Contingency plan - if these fall through Curtis could go to City of Bristol next September.</li> <li>4. Meanwhile, Curtis to attend lessons at school, especially in core subjects of English, Math and Science. He will attend music tech and guitar lessons as well as 1:1 tuition in English and Maths provided by Cathedral school.</li> <li>5. Review meeting on 16th Dec 3.30pm - Pippa John will attend. The meeting will review this plan.</li> </ol>
Analysis of Information	Curtis wants a music or computing course. There is an Access to Music course at Hengrove, 3 days a week, but will need to do an audition to get in. Filton doesn't do music. City of Bristol won't do early entry until year 11, so he can't go there until Sept. Hospital Education - Curtis would need a new referral and letter from Simon Bird. He will need to register with GP as his self-harm has escalated.

Reason for Contact	Follow up meeting. Ben, Mark, Sylvia, Beccy, June, Mr Moreton, Curtis, Pippa sent apologies. Alternative provision need to be identified in case programme start date is pushed back to September.
Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Curtis has been offered a place on the Introduction to Music programme that they hope to run in late January subject to enough pupil registering on the programme. They have tried to run the course before but they did not have enough pupils signed up. This route mean Curtis would progress to level 2 study. They have also offered Curtis a place on Digital Music Level 2 programme starting September 2014, based on Curtis interest in music and is equivalent to approximately 4 GCSEs (A-C) and he would also do Functional English and Maths at a level to match his ability. Curtis has also asked about the possibility of returning to hospital education. Request went to Dr Simon Bird, camhs, working with Curtis weekly Response If Curtis is attending a college placement for part of the week then he would not meet the criteria for referral to BHES. It is the schools responsibility to provide any additional tutoring that Curtis may require. regards Today, 17/12, request sent to Mike Godfrey to clarify what is ESF funding. Pippa mentioned this an an earlier email.
Analysis of Information	Curtis is not willing to compromise and has stated that if he does not get on the music programme in January he will bonk off school until September. His mother was appropriate and encouraged him to look at alternatives also reminded him that he will need to keep his attendance.

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	16/12/13 School meeting at Cathedral School; present: Curtis, Ben, Mark, Becky, June, Sylvia, Mr Morton, and Curtis's tutor. Access to Music course level One might not happen in January as not enough applicants so far - Curtis is adamant he cannot remain at Cathedral until July and that he would abscond - then he would be excluded - this would jeopardize his admission to Access to Music level Two course in September. Therefore a contingency plan is vital. We will look at all other options. We will have another meeting around 3 weeks after the start of the January term when the other options have been researched and brought to this meeting - Tuesday 28th January 2014 at 4pm. Even if Curtis can start the Access to Music course early January this meeting is still essential as this course is only 3 days a week and we will need to look at the other 2 days and the legal requirement to study English and Maths. Curtis has agreed to attend school until then. Action Plan: Mr Morton will discuss with Curtis which are the most stressful times for him at school, identifying the pressure points to help the situation. (Curtis enjoys Music Tech) Mr Morton will inquire into alternative provision of education for Curtis, options available for the next two terms. Becky will inquire about music provision at a facility near Temple Meads. June will inquire if ECLAS has any options Hospital Education seems unlikely -(Curtis saw Dr Bird).

Detailed Notes	Placement Disruption Meeting See separate minute notes for more detail. Foster carers have given 28 days notice on the placement. Sue Andres saw Curtis yesterday who said that he did not want to go back to the placement but would prefer to stay with his mother. The fact that the carers are also giving notice is a coincidence. Sue had also contacted Marie Finlayson and tentatively asked for an early LAC review on Thursday morning to discuss issues. TCT Maria Finlayson Contacted Marie to try and get a sense of what she thought would be best as she knows the case well. Maria said that it was a difficult case to manage because everyone is behaving as you would expect, yet it is not working. Maria felt that there had been a failing with the foster carers who she feels haven't engaged completely professionally. Marie feels that Curtis should not be going home. If it was just Curtis and his Mum she would feel that they might be able to make a go of it, but because his younger sister is at home it would not be appropriate as she would then have to witness the fall out. Maria said that Curtis could be a very nice young man, but was also quite manipulative and she felt he sometimes got his own way, when the adults around him should be taking responsibility for decision making. Maria asked about the meeting on Thursday morning - I told her that Ben (foster carer) had said that he would be unwilling to meet with Curtis's mother, Becky. Maria suggested going ahead with the meeting regardless without the foster carers but with Becky, Curtis and Sue Andres present. Maria suggested that I do not tell them that notice had been given on the placement until the meeting. LAC Review Meeting arranged for 10am at Avonvale Road on 2nd Dec. Maria Finlayson &amp; Sue Andres informed. Sue to inform Curtis and his Mother. Call also made to Syliva Lerner asking her to contact Ben and Mark to inform them that Curtis would be informed that notice had been given at this meeting. Sylvia said that she would do this. TCT Lisa Peters Family finding, to let her know the situation. She asked for an update to be given to her after the meeting on the 2nd.

Reason for Contact	Curtis telephoned (Maria Finlayson, IRO) to say he had decided he would not return to school.

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	I saw Curtis alone yesterday, 06/01/14, during his lunch break at school and he was positive and upbeat. This subject had been raised at his review and it was made clear to Curtis he needed to remain in school and education.
	Curtis states he does not wish to return to school as he will not be gaining any qualifications; that he wishes to attend hospital education in the interim. Curtis says he finds school stressful, just attending and all the other young people.
	I explained to Curtis: he needed to remain in school until the end of term because any learning was positive, regardless of whether he was sitting the exams and that hopefully he will sit GCSE maths and English at some point and will have this background. He needed structure to his day and attending school gave this. It was not legal for him to leave school and this will have consequences. It may be difficult to find a foster placement. The plan is never for a child to be out of education so he will have to be found another educational setting. I told Curtis there was no need for him to return to hospital education (I did get the impression that Curtis wants to be with Jed who attends hospital education). I explained that it was not good for his mental health to have no focus and structure to his days / weeks and also highlighted how he would be perceived by others - for example applying for employment, courses etc....
	I told Curtis I could not and would not agree with his plan. Curtis said he had spoken to his mother who had contacted Ben Rawling and was awaiting a call back. Curtis felt that Ben would 'kick him out within a couple of days', but that he 'was not changing his mind, once he had decided something he would stick to it'. I told Curtis he will need to be flexible and a compromise will need to be found.

Detailed Notes	TCF Sue Andreson & Sylvia Lerner Sue and Sylvia both called me in quick succession to say that Curtis was refusing to go to school and that this posed a potential problem for Curtis's placement (as carers both work) and any potential future placement.
	EMF Maria Finlayson To advise me that she had spoken with Curtis (see her case note from today's date)
	Visit to Curtis Discussed school with Curtis. He said that he had had enough and was no longer going to go to school. He said that given he was no going to achieve any qualifications there (he plans to go to college in the Summer), it seemed pointless him being there as he was sat in classes with other students working towards their GCSEs. We talked about this, and whether there was any way of him attending school and working towards some qualifications whilst he is there, so that he could see some value in what he was doing. Curtis said that he gets on well with his teachers and likes the school, he just cannot see the point of it. I re-emphasised the importance of school in terms of future placements for him too. I made it clear that not going to school was not an option for him at the moment. Curtis asked me about PRU's and Residential Children's Homes, but I told him that I did not feel they would suit him. We also talked about the potential placement in St Annes, which I said I would get in touch with him about. I agreed to contact Mike Godfrey (ECLAS) and speak to his school so that we could come to an arrangement that Curtis could see the worth of and that would mean he remained at school. For Curtis's part he said that he would return to school tomorrow and would phone them to let them know this.
	TCT Cathedral School [REDACTED] Spoke to Mr Siblee. Mr Siblee told me that at school, Curtis has to study English, Maths and Science. He told me that these are the requirements and there are no ways round it. Mr Siblee, who has obviously spent a lot of time working with Curtis, was very clear that school work needed doing as it builds a foundation for the future and develops Curtis's way of thinking. We discussed Curtis's need to feel that what he was studying for was worthwhile, and wasn't just for the sake of it, and the importance of finding a way of making it seem relevant for Curtis. Mr Siblee told me that he would speak to Curtis about these things tomorrow morning when he comes into school. Mr Siblee also told me that Curtis has to realise that 'Access to Music' is a privately run business. If they don't get enough people on the courses, they will not run the course. At this stage, Mr Siblee believes that there is no cast iron guarantee that the course will go ahead (although he did say that it was likely). I asked Mr Siblee about the possibility of bringing forward the school meeting, he suggested that I would need to speak to Mr Morton.
	TCF Curtis (07804216752) Curtis called to ask whether I had managed to get hold of anybody yet. I told him that Mike was not in until tomorrow and that I had spoken to the school also. Curtis told me that he planned to go to school tomorrow but that might be it. He was concerned that this might affect his foster placement as he didn't want to move somewhere, only to be told that because he wasn't in school then he had to move again. I told him that at the moment we needed to stay positive with regards to school so that we could get a solution. I reminded him again that not going to school was a legal obligation and that nowhere he moved to would tell him otherwise. I agreed to call him tomorrow to update him.
Analysis of Information	Curtis was able to engage in conversation in an articulate and reasoned manner. He was clearly frustrated by the situation but appeared willing to work with the professionals around him to find a suitable solution.

Detailed Notes	 T/C Maria Finlayson, who saw Curt yesterday. T/C Ben Rawlings to update. He will visit Curt today. Text Ben re Ben R visiting Curt today.  Email Ben Rawlings Ben let me know if it would be helpful for me to visit Curt with you today. I have spoken to Beccy who is worried he has cut his wrist as that is what he has told her. Email from Ben Rawlings I visited Curtis this afternoon – he was at home with Mark. He has now agreed to return to school tomorrow but has said he will not do any work. I'm going to try and bring forward the school meeting which I believe is planned for the end of January to address some of the issues. On one hand, I very much see where he is coming from in terms of feelings around learning in school being pointless given that he is not going to get any qualifications so I think it is important that we &amp; school are able to convince Curtis that there is value in being at school at the moment and for there to be something positive at the end of these last few months. I also stressed the importance of school in terms of future foster placements. I am going to contact Mike Godfrey (ECLAS) and Curtis's school now to try and come to a solution that is satisfactory for all. T/C from Curt wanting to ask if Ben and Mark had said he couldn't stay there. I reminded him about what had been explained at the meeting last week, which I thought he had understood. Told him it was a combination of things.... him saying he did not want to come back to them after Christmas, Ben feeling it put too much strain on his work commitments Curt not being settled in school, mum's complaints about Ben's drinking.... Talked about his anxieties round school and how everyone felt it was unacceptable for him to opt out because he thought education without a certificate at the end was pointless. I suggested he drop that line of argument as he has to have an education and instead consider whether school is genuinely causing him real anxiety and if so talk about his inability to cope with this. I suggested the Hosp Ed route could be seen as more about Jed and Oscar unless he is regarded as not coping emotionally. Curt seemed to think Simon Bird had put in a referral to Hosp Ed recently but they had turned him down. Asked if this would impact on a future foster placement. I explained it might but any foster family agreeing for him to go there would do so on the basis of knowing he is not guaranteed to be attending school. Encouraged him to soldier on at school until such a time as the meeting was brought forward and this properly discussed along with options.

Detailed Notes	TCT Mike Godfrey I explained the current situation to Mike. He told me that at a previous meeting he had felt that the only place that would be able to provide what Curtis needs would be hospital education. Hospital Education can only be accessed by the referral of a medical professional and at this time it was hoped that Curtis would be able to start college this January (2014) and Hospital Education was not thought suitable as they couldn't provide part time support. However, now that there is the possibility of Curtis going there full time, it is another possibility. Mike said that now is the time to search for alternatives and he said that he would get in contact with Simon Bird to discuss this with him. I informed Mike of the meeting on the 28th Jan and he said that he would see if Sue Cox could also attend. Mike told me that any decision to move Curtis to hospital education would need to be made at a management level due to funding issues. TCT Maria Finlayson She felt that Curtis is trying to manipulate his way into being at Hospital Education, however also feels that if this is the only way that it will be possible for Curtis to remain in some form of education for the next six months then it does need to be explored again. I explained what I had agreed with Mike and that it is not guaranteed to happen, but that it is a possibility. Also discussed briefly with Maria the potential new placement with Chrissie Marcham and Maria re-emphasised the importance of boundaries around her contact with Curtis's mother and a professional relationship between the two of them being formed. TCT Simon Gerty Talked with Simon about current issues with Curtis with regards to school, contact with Mum etc. Agreed to meet Simon and Chrissie on Monday 13th at 12pm to have a more thorough chat about Curtis with the two of them. Agreed that following on from this meeting, we would set up introductions for Curtis. Then the following week, on June's return, set up a meeting between Chrissie and Mum to discuss how their relationship will work.

Regarding Assessment

Detailed Notes	TCT Rupert Moreton Curtis is making zero progress educationally. He is in school today but is refusing to attend lessons. Mr Morton told me that he is currently on the phone to child line seeking how he can get an educational provision elsewhere. I told Mr Moreton about the potential for a placement at hospital education, which he said he would support, but was of the understanding that they wouldn't accept him. Mr Moreton also told me that they would be willing to offer some 1:1 support should he go to hospital ed. I said that I would call back when I had more information. TCT Mike Godfrey Mike told me that funding will need to still be agreed between managers, and suggested that I spoke to Jim Bowyer. TCT Jim Bowyer (Head of Bristol Hospital Education) Jim said that he would be very willing to take Curtis on if Curtis is agreeable to it. I asked about funding and the financial implications. Jim said that because he was proposing that Curtis joins the year 10 and 11 classes, there would be no additional cost to them and therefore it wouldn't be a problem. Jim said the next step was for him to meet with Curtis and let him know what was available to him and to go from there. TCT Mike Godfrey Mike said that given there are no funding issues, there is no reason why we cannot press ahead with plans for Curtis to move to hospital ed. TCT Mark Matchwick To get Curtis's mother's phone number. Also told Mark what stage we were at with looking for a new placement and explained about the potential for a change of school for Curtis. TCT Becky Osborne Discussed the potential move to hospital education with Becky. I told her what the current situation was and what our plans were. Becky also asked me about the placement move and I told her that I was planning to meet with the new carer on Monday, but that I would keep her informed of how we are getting on. TCT Rupert Moreton Message left TCT Curtis I told Curtis where I was up to with this and said I would contact him and Mr Moreton again tomorrow to arrange a meeting with Jim. Curtis (who had obviously already spoken to his mother) said he didn't like the idea of having to go to hospital education and Cathedral School (see above re: Cathedral School offering 1:1 support). I said that we can discuss all of this at a meeting if we can arrange it with myself, Mr Moreton, Jim Bowyer and Curtis. Curtis also told me that he had 'stamped his feet' and been given permission to have more free periods at Cathedral school. Agreed to speak to him again tomorrow.

Regarding Assessment

Detailed Notes	10/18/1 T/C Hosp Ed re whether a referral was made by Simon Bird.  9/1 Emails from Maria Finlayson with minutes of LAC review (in Docs).  Email from Mike Godfrey  I have been updated by Ben Rawlings who is holding this case in June Ford's absence.  My understanding of situation currently:  Curtis has been told there is no place on the access to music course in January  He is likely to gain a place for the course in September.  He is currently chronologically in Y11 but placed in Y10 at Cathedral School and has been voting with his feet.  Consequently his care placement with two carers who work full time has broken down.  Curtis is now saying that as he will not be staying for the y11 course in what for him is Y12 there is no point to him being there.  Cathedral school can provide Y10 classes for Curtis but he is not prepared to stay in these classes as he can't see the point as he will not be taking the GCSEs.  At the meeting I went to at Cathedral School 27 November Curtis had been self harming - cutting his arms and was talking of the stress of school  It was agreed to follow up the Access to Music course and see if BHES might be able to support the plan.  We now know that January is not a possibility for the Access to Music course and are left with a situation where the corporate parents need to find a way forward for Curtis. Whether or not he is able to join the access to music course in September he needs a package in place to see him through to end of Y11 with hopefully the opportunity to achieve some (albeit limited accredited exam results). Cathedral have made it clear that although they have tried to be flexible in the use of their resource base for Curtis that they are unable to provide the teaching he would need to achieve such accelerated progress.  With Curtis not attending college until September might he meet the referral criteria for BHES?  In the past ECLAS has been able to input into BHES plans for young people in care with multiple and complex educational, social and health needs. Now the responsibility resides with the school but perhaps the specialist resources best able to meet these needs are better found in BHES (with a bit of input from ECLAS?)  I understand that the next meeting for Curtis is scheduled for 28 January at 4pm and that Curtis is intending to vote with his feet  Ben Rawling has the task of trying to find a new care placement for Curtis which will of course be largely dependent on him achieving educational stability. 10/1 Email from Maria Finlayson to Steve Rundle  Happy new year. I wanted to share this information with you and also I would like a response of your thoughts around this and how you plan to proceed.  As we have discussed previously with regards to Becky Osborne I am aware Becky has spoken to you and at the CLA review recently Becky reported she would be speaking to you further.  I met with Curtis on 06/01/14 and part of our conversation was around his current foster placement. Although I have heard some of these things discussed I had not spoken to Curtis directly about this.  Curtis informed me that Ben Bird allegedly drinks four pints and then a bottle of wine each day and on holiday this was significantly more. [REDACTED] Secondly Curtis informed me of the aggression and verbal abuse he has witnessed in the house from Ben to Mark. Curtis feels very sorry for Mark and cannot understand why Mark puts up with how Ben treats him. Curtis has advised Mark to leave Ben, but apparently the house is in Ben's name as Ben had more collateral when they decided to purchase the house, so although Mark has continually contributed he isn't in a position to benefit from leaving (too much information I think). On holiday Curtis was worried Mark would kill himself as he was so upset at the treatment by Ben. Curtis has also challenged Ben. Considering one of the reasons Curtis is not at home is because of aggression and verbal abuse that wasn't acceptable for his younger sister to be exposed to.  I need to point out that this is information passed to me by Curtis, so I have not witnessed the above, although I have no reason to believe Curtis is lying. These are things he has spoken about since he arrived at the placement. Curtis likes Mark very much and likes Ben and has enjoyed the DJing with Ben and kung fu with Mark. Curtis did express he was worried about other children who couldn't cope so well. I am aware that Ben and Mark have reported recently that the stress of this placement has had an impact on their relationship so I want to be clear this behaviour Curtis has witnessed is not recent and has been throughout his placement.  Curtis also said that they eat takeaways most evenings – he said he doesn't mind this as he likes takeaways. Sylvia was going to discuss with Ben and Mark the issue that Curtis raised that he had not had any new clothes and that his mother purchased some clothes for him as he needed clothes including a coat, as he did not have a coat.

Agreed, that it sounded like it could work very well, assuming that education is sorted out as soon as possible. Agreed to arrange to introduce Curtis to Chrissie on Wednesday afternoon. Chrissie made it clear that for the placement to work, Curtis would need to be in education. Chrissie is on holiday from the 14th Feb so respite would be needed- it is possible that this could take place at Mark and Ben's - Simon Gerty to confirm this either way. Talked about the possibility of placement starting when Chrissie returns from respite, though this won't be until the end of Feb so likely this is too long, but again Simon Gerty to enquire. TCT Mr Moreton Message left.

He said that if Cathedral school were just offering a 'dop in' service, then there was little point in Curtis going there. If they were able to offer 1:1 support for him then this might be more beneficial and also mean that he would be persuadable to go. Detailed Notes	I tried to visit Curtis at respite yesterday at 5.30 There was no reply at the door I called Curtis's mobile. Message came back saying, " I am busy at the moment, I will call you later back later". I replied that I was outside placement but he did not reply until gone 9.30 pm. Today Curtis said it was an automatic reply. He said respite was going fine and he was on his way to Easton to meet friends. I reminded him of the purpose of meeting yesterday was to follow up on the discussions of the meeting at Chrissie's. Curtis said he is still "pissed off at the Chrissie thing. he does not feel listened to .I asked him in what way. He replied she is still angry at everyone and there is conflict in the placement between him and Chrissie. I reminded him of the meeting and that Chrissie heard that he is sensitive to tone of voice and facial expressions and how he sometimes he misread these. I suggests that he gives things another try as Chrissie has been away since the meeting. Curtis said he does not feel anything will change but he will give it another try. Contact Curtis said he stayed overnight at his mother's on Wednesday and everything is fine. I reminded him about the application for an engagement worker from LPW. Curtis said he had nothing to add to referral, I think this may be down to him not being clear about the role. Detailed Notes	Curtis has had his hair cut short and spiky.
	School: hospital education is going very well. Curtis' attendance is very good. Curtis is going to sit maths (predicted a D), English (predicted a C), preparation for life skills - this will be equivalent to a B and ICT equivalent to a C. Curtis is getting extra support with maths. PEP was yesterday (26/02/14). Curtis reports everything is going to plan.
	Friendships: Curtis is no longer friends with Oscar, though does hang out with his twin brother, Jed. Curtis sees himself moving away from this group of friends as they can be quite low at times and Curtis wants to be more 'up'.
	Placement: Curtis told me that he has been living with Chrissie for a month now, he reports the first two days were fine but since then he hasn't enjoyed it and feels Chrissie picks on everything he does. He does not feel 'at home' and is not allowed food between meals, he is regularly hungry and states he has lost 7lbs in the month. He uses some of his pocket money to buy extra food. Curtis has spoken to his carer about this and his past experience with foster carers and food and Curtis reports the response that previous foster carers had been over feeding him. This does result in all three children, Curtis reports, taking food without permission occasionally.
	Curtis reports he is fine with the time he needs to be in (8.30pm) and all other aspects of the placement and gets on well with the other young people. Curtis is struggling with how his carer treats him (he reports the other two young people also, but obviously they haven't reported to me). Curtis described that his carer will shout in their faces about minor things and every little thing. For example Curtis banged Mikey's hand too hard on the floor when they were having an arm wrestle making a loud bang.
	Curtis told me he met with June, social worker, and Simon Gerty, support worker for the foster carer, however Curtis is stating he does not wish to return to his foster carer (Curtis is currently in respite). Curtis met with his social worker last night to explain this.
	Family: Curtis continues to have some contact with his mother and Caitlin. Curtis says most of the time this is fine, though Curtis feels frustrated by his mother at times.
	AOB: Curtis has secured himself a little job delivering leaflets - a thousand leaflets for £25.
	Curtis reports he wants to move into shared accommodation and would like to show he can look after himself, if he could have a budget he will shop and cook and reassure people he can and will do these things.

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Hi June
	Hope you are well. Curtis called me on Tuesday and I went to see him this morning at school (that seems to be going well).
	Curtis has raised concerns about his carer and I understand you met with Curtis and Simon to discuss this a couple of weeks ago.
	Curtis reports he is fine with the time he needs to be in (8.30pm) and all other aspects of the placement and gets on well with the other young people. Curtis is struggling with how his carer treats him (he reports the other two young people also, but obviously they haven't reported to me but I think it should be explored with them). Curtis described that his carer will shout in their faces about minor things and every little thing. For example Curtis banged Mikey's hand too hard on the floor when they were having an arm wrestle making a loud bang. Curtis reports that he has lost 7lbs since moving to his carer as he is only allowed the food he is given and this is not sufficient and they are not allowed snacks (although the carer regularly has snacks). Curtis has spoken to his carer about this and his past experience with foster carers and food and Curtis reports the response that previous foster carers had been over feeding him. This does result in all three children taking food without permission occasionally. Curtis uses some of his money to buy extra food.
	Curtis isn't a difficult young person but he is stubborn and works well in mutually respectful relationships.
	I am concerned about the how boundaries are set (shouting) and the food issue – if these are a true reflection of the situation (Curtis does tend to tell the truth). Curtis is growing fast and will eat a lot as boys his age do. He reports he is regularly hungry.
	This is Curtis' third placement already. The first was never appropriate for Curtis and the second there were some very real concerns – I don't want it to seem that Curtis is a complainer when things don't go his way. If what Curtis reports is correct this isn't an appropriate way to nurture young people.
	I think another carer needs to be explored with the possibility of him staying with Linda until this can be secured.
	Please keep me up to date with how this progresses.
	Thanks
	Maria

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Curtis has been very good today at keeping in contact with me and meeting at the arranged time and place despite his position of wanting to move to another FC. [REDACTED] This is the second meeting to address the issues raised by Curtis. Simon will be working with Chrissie on the shouting. Curtis is still staying here, he wants to move or return home to his mother. Curtis enjoys cooking and making porridge for his breakfast in the mornings. Chrissie agreed that he can do those things and look at alternatives to sugar, such as banana on his porridge. He has an extremely sweet tooth. Incident report from Jim Bower at Hospital Education Unfortunately we have had a series of serious incidents this week with Curtis, the main one being him repeatedly disturbing CAMHS service sessions on our site and causing damage to several doors while attempting to get off site at break time to smoke. The current situation is that Curtis will only be able to return to BHES classes if he agrees to a contract that he will follow the few rules that we have. (he will also need to write an apology to the staff here and pay for the repairs to doors he has damaged) June and I will keep you informed of progress. He is on his last chance I'm hoping that he can separate BHES from the annoyance he has with his care placement and get back to the more positive experience he was having here. Curtis saying he is fed up and depressed, he feels Jim treats him different from the other students, he should not have to pay for what he calls an old door. He does not want to go back to school. Outcome. Curtis to reflect on whether he intends to return to school Also whether he wants to go back home to his mother. I dropped Curtis at Linda's house. In the car we clarified that paying for the damages does not mean that he will be expected to hand over all his pocket money every week until fully paid up. Curtis saying he finds it hard to back down once he has taken up a position. Linda said she found balloons in her garden, she is not sure what Curtis has been making with them. He has talked about some concoction he is making up and selling. I suggest she ask DYPP. Curtis has talked to me about it and I did explain that it sounds illegal.
Analysis of Information	When Curtis wants to have things go his way he will say he wants to go home. We had this before half term. He is planning to go back to Chrissie tomorrow around noon, together they will reflect on what he wants to happen next. If he wants to go home then this needs to be planned, the risk of breakdown will be high if he is not in education. The main issue in education seems to be around his smoking habit
Action	Curtis to return to Chrissie at noon today Curtis to reflect on what he wants to happen going forward Further meeting at 3 pm on Monday at Chrissie

Regarding Assessment

Detailed Notes	June Curtis has come to base this morning and met with Veena and I.          He has signed the behaviour contract, but has not yet written his apology to staff.          He knows what he has to write and if he brings the letter in tomorrow then he can come back.          He initially asked if he could pay the £30 damages in instalments and I told him he could.          He then tried to bargain with me so that he could pay £20, he was told that we would not bargain.          He then said he wouldn't pay.          To which I answered that he could return with the debt unpaid however as we do with all similar situations he would need to settle the debt before he was given his exam certificates.          He then left. We are now in the position where he has signed the contract and if he bring a written apology to staff tomorrow then he can go into lessons.          He can then choose to pay us the £30 in instalments or to save up his money and pay us in a lump sum.          please ring if you have any questions.          Do you have a e mail address for his carer as it would be good to keep her in the loop.          Thanks Jim          Jim Bowyer Head BHES.

Detailed Notes
	Curtis He said he is bed at Becky's but she is annoyed because he wants to stay in bed like normal 15 year old teenager and sleep through the holiday. Curtis said his mother want him to have respite for the 2 days. Curtis said his mother does not like him to smoke cannabis which he has agreed not to bring into the house. I said to Curtis that its must be hard for him to hear that the relationship is not working at this time between him and his mother and that is why it would be better for him to go home in a planned way. I asked him if it was difficult for him to hear that he has been saying negative things to different people in the network which has contributed to the arguments with his mother. Curtis said he is happy for information to be shared among the adults. Curtis said his mother starts arguments and will have ago at him over nothing and he wants respite for the 2 days. I said I would speak to his mother and FPT although we had left it late as the plan was for him to stay with his family. Curtis has health assessment today but Doug Binfield is sick - cancelled.

Reason for Contact	A meeting was held on 02/05/14 to discuss planning for Curtis. Curtis attended at the end. See minutes in 'detailed notes'.
Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Curtis Osborne 02/05/14 Meeting at Vista. Present: Becky Osborne, mother; lee Drew, step father; Chrissie Marcham, foster carer; June Ford, social worker and Maria Finlayson, independent reviewing officer. Purpose: To get all the adult decision makers in Curtis' life together to devise a plan of working together that was understood by all and supported Curtis in his current placement and in his contact with his family and in his future education. Particular areas of discussion: Curtis staying over at Jed's; not eating regularly; boundaries not being put in place; parents not being kept informed of changes and important events; education and health. [REDACTED] Chrissie explained that Curtis was working well with her and it was acknowledged that it was difficult to enforce all boundaries and then run the risk of losing a relationship that was working. Chrissie would like Curtis to be back to sit down and eat between 6pm and 7pm. Curtis chooses to go home around 9pm and then needs to heat his food and eat alone. Chrissie will continue to request Curtis is back for food but will not implement a strict boundary for this as the placement may become unstable. Chrissie wanted to express what a wonderful young person Curtis was and this was clear evidence that he had been well brought up; that Curtis loves his mother very much and he knows his mother loves him. It was noted at this point that Curtis has daily (sometimes several times daily) contact with Becky. Curtis stayed at home with Becky and Lee recently when Chrissie was away. This was successful. It was agreed that in future when respite is needed Curtis will return home to Becky and Lee. Chrissie was also committed to supporting regular contact. Curtis has for a long time wanted to stay over at his friends Jed and Oscar's house. Mark and Ben, previous foster carers, assessed this as not being safe (though Curtis did spend time during the day there). It was agreed at a meeting in January that June Ford, social worker, would carry out a further assessment as Curtis was not happy with this. Becky was then informed, by Curtis, that he was spending two nights at his friend's house, despite no assessment having taken place. This has now made it difficult to say this is not an appropriate place for Curtis to stay. It was also felt that Curtis is now nearly 16 and does need to start making his own choices about certain things. Chrissie has spoken to and met Jed, Oscar and their father. [REDACTED] It was agreed that Curtis can stay one night at the weekend with Jed and Oscar and one night with Becky and Lee. Curtis is seeing his friend Sarah, from Sea Mills again. [REDACTED] Education: Curtis arrived at the meeting at the end and explained that he had just been permanently excluded from school due to his behaviour. Curtis feels victimised by the head teacher as he is not allowed to 'get away with' things other young people do. Curtis has a PEP on 07/05/14. Curtis is no longer wishing to pursue his music course and now wishes to become an LSA or apply for a catering course. It is not known how Curtis qualified to attend Hospital Education. Health: Curtis is not currently self-harming. Curtis continues to smoke cannabis and tobacco. Support for Curtis remains outstanding. Becky continues to suggest Tim Mortimore, Curtis is happy to meet with Tim. ACTIONS: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• June to contact Thinking Allowed to find a way forward to get Curtis some talking therapy - Tim Mortimore (this is outstanding for over a year).</li> <li>• June to speak to Hospital Education regarding Curtis' exclusion.</li> <li>• PEP: 07/05/14 – behaviour, exclusion and GCSEs to be discussed.</li> <li>• Plan for the summer and September for on-going education / training for Curtis – this will be discussed further at Curtis' CLA review in June.</li> <li>• Curtis will stay with Becky and Lee when Chrissie requires respite.</li> <li>• Chrissie and June to keep Becky informed of changes and meetings.</li> <li>• Chrissie will have regular (weekly) contact with Becky.</li> <li>• Curtis can stay either Friday or Saturday with Jed. Curtis will spend the alternate night with Becky and Lee.</li> <li>• Chrissie will support this contact.</li> <li>• CLA review will be held on Tuesday 10th June 2014 at 10am at Broadwalk.</li> </ul> Maria Finlayson Independent reviewing officer

Detailed Notes	From: Jim Bowyer Sent: 07 May 2014 19:45 To: Jamie Fitch Cc: June Ford; Sylvia Aldrich; Sue Cox Subject: CO pupil premium PEP question Jamie Thank you for asking John to attend the PEP his presence and contribution was very helpful and most appreciated. Curtis Provision from BHES has been altered to 1 hour per week English and 1 hour per week Maths tuition plus support from a member of our inclusion team in order for him to complete his Clait ICT portfolio. June asked how Curtis's pupil premium money for this term is being spent. As we have discussed previously this is paid to BCS as Curtis is on your roll. BHES can not provide any support beyond that I have outlined above (plus invigilation of exams). The meeting suggested that it would be appropriate for some of Curtis's Pupil Premium to provide some additional tuition time. Given Curtis's examination timetable, there are: two more weeks of teaching available before his English exam. three weeks of teaching available before his last maths exam. Teaching from BHES tutors would cost BCS £50 per hour session. I will add that beyond the cost of examination entries there has been no charge to BCS for the support we have provided Curtis. If you could let me know if this is a possibility asap I would be very grateful as time is of the essence. Regards Jim Jim Bowyer Head BHES.

The boys range in ages 12 - 16 years old. 3 adults / 6 teenagers. Russell said they are watching the weather before making a decision. Detailed Notes	Curtis called because this morning he has had a fall out with his foster carer, Chrissie. Curtis reports he was awake a lot of the night with asthma and first thing this morning had a shower hoping the steam would release his chest a bit. Curtis did not think that he had any inhalers. Curtis went to Chrissie as his chest hurt and asked if she had an inhaler he could use. Chrissie, Curtis reports, said he was faking his symptoms, but did produce three inhalers belonging to Curtis, including a preventative daily inhaler. Curtis reports he did not know he had these inhalers. Curtis previously has been responsible for his inhalers. I explained to Curtis that he needed to phone June and discuss this with her. I said I would contact June and request she phones Curtis. Curtis in agreement. I telephoned June, who was in a meeting, and left a message for her to call Curtis re: the above. I telephoned Curtis to say June was in a meeting currently and that I had left a message. Maria Finlayson

Detailed Notes	I sending this to you both to advise you that I have called and had the mobile switched back on. I text Becky and told her the same. I also apologised to her as I did not intend to cause her any problems. In that she could not contact him. I have said to Becky that I need to have a conversation with Curtis when he is with her the weekend. The provider has increased the contract as Curtis is using such a lot of data. Again this is not something I agreed to. I am looking to cancel this contract in the not to distant future. But after speaking to Simon I have agreed to do it in a different manor. It was always known by Curtis not to go over the limit and that if he did I would cancel the contract. This has happened before and I was going to cancel it, but he promised me it would not happen again. I said if it does I would cancel the contract. It happened again so I followed through with what I said I would do. Chrissy Marcham

He also thanked me for putting his phone back on, I went and met Curtis and the other young person that lives with me from the week away with NCS. I gave him £80.00 cloths allowance (8x£10.00 notes) I also gave him money to buy food when he is out. I have spoken to him about the contract, and he did understand why I did it, as I had already warned him that this would happen if he went over his agreed limit. He agreed with this. Reason for Contact	Telephone call to Becky Osborne to discuss the outcome from the stability meeting on 27/08/14.
Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	I spoke to Becky and Curtis and explained that the outcome of the stability meeting acknowledged the placement could not continue long term as it was not working for Curtis, Becky or the carer, Chrissy. I explained a new plan would be needed for Curtis and that may be him returning home with support and respite or another foster placement, though I was concerned another placement may not work for Curtis. Becky was quite upset saying that 'social services had emotionally damaged Curtis and now couldn't cope with him'. I explained to Curtis and Becky this was not about Curtis but that Curtis was being listened too and now a plan that would best meet Curtis's needs was required. Curtis said he would rather just go home with no support or respite and Becky said she did not want social workers in her house again. Both felt that 'social services has done enough damage'. Curtis said he wished to complain and I said I would refer for an advocate for him to be supported. Becky said she had mislaid the number for an advocate for her to make a complaint. I said I would ask that it be sent to her again. Becky said that Curtis will continue to stay with them and they are struggling financially. I said that they must not ask for any more money from Chrissy as this arrangement was not felt appropriate by the FPT and was not an expected role for foster carers. I said I would write, in June's absence, to her manager to explain. Becky explained that Chrissy had said she would give them the birthday money for Curtis when it came through as Becky had bought the PS2 on her credit card. Chrissy informed Becky that the birthday money had come through and was in her account and then a little later said she was no longer allowed to give it to them. (Chrissy at the meeting was clear she had never made an agreement to contribute to Curtis present). I asked that they inform Chrissy of where Curtis is if he is not returning to Chrissy's. Curtis agreed he would do this. Maria Finlayson

Detailed Notes	Curtis discussed that he is in need of another placement. Curtis would like another foster placement as he feels he is not ready to return to his mothers care. Curtis worries that this will not be stable and following any arguments he will end up back in the care of the Local Authority. Curtis felt that he has to be honest to himself about this. Curtis discussed that he becoming annoyed with his carer as he was promised that he could have a lift to college today to hand in his final forms. However Chrissie has decided that she will not take him as he wanted a cigarette before they left. Curtis asked if a social worker could take him. I discussed that we could not support with this today. Curtis will ride his bike there if he has too. Curtis is due to begin an assess to music course in Hengrove. Curtis stated that he worries that we will struggle to find another placement as he felt his carer has warned other carers not to take him. Curtis does not wish for us to discuss this with Chrissie. [REDACTED] TCT Simon Supervising social worker - I have updated Simon on Curtis view about returning home. Detailed Notes	Curtis called to speak with someone regarding his foster carer. I took a message as Curtis felt this was urgent. He explained that he had fallen out with his foster carer as he had not yet cleaned his room as he ahd been asked, and that when he told his carer he would do it later she came into his room and shouted. Curtis admitted he swore at Chrissy, who then in Curtis' words said that she would call her son. I asked Curtis how he felt this had been said and he felt it had been in a threatening way. Curtis was at his placement at this time, and said he did not want to leave there today. I took this information and said I would ask cover to give him a call. TCF Curis Curtis called again to say that Chrissy had left and he was concerned she had gone to get her son. Curtis said that he would call the police if they turned up there together. I informed Curtis that if he needed to get out of placement and come somewhere he felt safe then he could come to office. I said that I would try and call Chrissy as it may be that she had just gone out to get some air and would be back. Curtis said that he feels he needs a new placement asap, and that he is no longer wanting to go back to his mums. I explained that I do not know the procedures for getting new placements but that I would speak to duty about whether they could call/visit him to speak about what has happened.

Detailed Notes	Good afternoon, Re: Curtis Osbourne , Foster Carer Chrissie Marcham I have just returned from a visit to Chrissie and Curtis. Chrissie explained Curtis told her to 'fuck off' when he was asked to tidy his room. Chrissie said she replied 'Don't speak to me like that, if my son or daughter were here you wouldn't, don't do it when they are not'. Curtis interpreted this as Chrissie was threatening him by fetching her son. *Chrissie explained her son is a manager for SW Railway and her daughter works in a college with adults with learning difficulties. Chrissie was angry Curtis has called Vista and alleged she was off to 'get someone' when she was actually going to the bank. I have spoken to Curtis' mum at length who said she was not aware until yesterday she was offering respite to Curtis whilst Chrissie was at a wedding (4th/5th Sept). Both Curtis and his mother kept changing their mind about whether Curtis would be able to stay with her at this time and the conversations became very heated. I am still unclear whether this will be an option for Curtis tomorrow/Friday and weekend. To summarise, Curtis will be staying with Chrissie tonight and going to his mother's tomorrow and Friday. Curtis is stating he would like another foster placement and does not want to stay with Chrissie. However, I did negotiate with mum (Becky) that he could return tonight but Curtis chose to stay in placement. When I left the house was calm and Curtis had gone up to his room. 	Telephone call to Vista: left a message with the administrator as no social worker free. I explained that Becky had called and it sounded as if the placement had broken down and relaid the above. Telephone call from Curtis Osborne: Curtis explained that he would like to stay with Linda Rowbottom (previous respite carer) and that he had called Linda and she had said she could care for him. Curtis felt cross as nobody seemed to be helping. I asked Curtis why he had returned to Chrissy's as last Friday the plan had been that he would remain with his mother for a couple of weeks. Curtis said that he knew they couldn't really afford for him to be there that long so he had chosen to return to Chrissy's. Curtis also felt that his mother isn't currently that well and he didn't want to add to the stress. Curtis said he did not feel that he could return home full time and although he does get on much better with his mother this is supported by them not living together. Curtis felt that he shouldn't return to his mother tomorrow as they had not been informed about this until today. Telephone call to Cherry Dursley: I explained to Cherry about the placement stability meeting that had taken place and the planning from that. I explained what Curtis had relayed to me (above). I asked that although Curtis contacted Linda (resourceful) not to refuse to explore this as Linda is potentially part of the support plan if Curtis returns home. Telephone call from Curtis Osborne: to inform him that I had spoken to Cherry and she would follow this up. Maria Finlayson

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Good afternoon, Re: Curtis Osbourne, LL: 23040 Curtis has come in to Vista this afternoon to make a complaint about his current foster carer Chrissy. Curtis also requested an update re his new placement. I have spoken to Family Finding who confirmed there was a meeting around 2 weeks ago and a decision was made to plan for Curtis to return home. However, as June was then on leave it may be Curtis is not aware of this tentative plan. Complaint: Curtis said he would like to make a complaint about Chrissy due to the way he has been spoken to, being treated like the odd one out and that she is unfair. I have given Curtis a copy of the Complaints Form and asked if he required help to complete it. Curtis said he was fine and would complete with the support of his friend*. Accommodation: I spoke to Curtis about accommodation options including St Georges, The Foyer and shared housing. This was a general conversation instigated by Curtis. Curtis appeared apprehensive initially but fairly positive about this as an accommodation option. I have been clear with Curtis that he would need to meet with June and possibly a Review would be needed to ensure decisions were made carefully. Curtis said he was happy with this. Current Accommodation: Curtis is staying with his friend tonight and from tomorrow he will be back with mum. Curtis is saying he will not return to Chrissy (although he then said he was returning to collect £5 from her for tonight). Curtis said he has not stayed at placement since Wednesday September 3rd. Curtis has said the reason it is difficult for him to return home is his mother cannot afford to keep him. Curtis said there was a meeting where his mother agreed to accept £10 per day to care for him? Curtis felt Vista would need to make a payment to his mother urgently as finance was a big issue for him. Curtis is aware I am sending this email and I have said June will be in touch. *Curtis attended with a YP called Jed Atkinson who said he lived on Bloy Street. Curtis said he is staying there tonight for a sleepover. I have updated LL. Best wishes, Cherry Dursley Social Worker Vista Social Work Practice 8, All Hallows Road Bristol BS5 0HH

Reason for Contact	Email sent to June Ford, Cherry Dursley, Trish Hudson and Kaisha Powell. To clarify plans from stability meeting and Curtis current plan
Regarding Assessment

Detailed Notes	There was a placement stability meeting on 27/08/14. The outcome of that was either another foster placement or Curtis returning home (maybe with respite) in a planned way with support. The plan was for June to discuss with Trish on her return. Curtis was aware of this as I spoke to him about this plan on 29/08/14 in June's absence. Curtis had been due to stay with his mother for two weeks at that point, but returned to the carer. The family do struggle to care for Curtis financially and he has been there most of the summer holiday. He has only been using his placement 10% of the time. I suggested some financial offer may help stabilise the current situation. I believe Vista offered this but mother took offence. Curtis has only just turned 16 (two weeks) and discussions during the review process has ruled out semi-independent living at this point as Curtis will not manage this. Curtis spends a lot of time with his friend Jed and has been camping with the family also. Regards Maria Finlayson

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Becky was seeking the contact details for adult advocacy for making a complaint. These were given. Also the telephone number for Fair Comment as Curtis wishes to make a complaint and the form he was given he had left at Jed's. Curtis reported that the plan was for him to move to St George's House as it would not be possible to find him a placement in Bristol. Curtis is waiting for June to call him to arrange to visit. I advised Curtis to also look at The Foyer. I spoke to Curtis about my knowledge of both St George's and The Foyer. Curtis said that he was due his clothing allowance and had text Chrissy to request it. Curtis stated he had a hole in his shoe and this is causing holes in his socks. Curtis went to college today and enjoyed it. There are ten people in a class and they all seemed nice. Curtis is applying for his bursary and knows this is on behaviour and attendance. Email to June Ford: I have just spoken to Curtis and Becky. Curtis is saying that the plan is for him to see St George's House, when is this planned for? What was the response to the placement search? It seems Curtis returning home was not explored. There have been a number of people involved and some confused messages so it would be good to get a clear picture and time scale about what is happening. Curtis reports he has a hole in his shoe (which is causing holes in his socks). Curtis said that he is due some clothing allowance but Chrissy has not given it to him (he has text to ask). Curtis went to college today and enjoyed it. Maria Finlayson

Reason for Contact	Supervised shopping trip with Curtis in Bristol City Centre 10:30am-11:30am
Regarding Assessment

Detailed Notes	I spoke to Curtis and his foster carer Chrissy on the phone, and they both agreed for me to pick Curtis up at 10:30am. It was agreed that Chrissy would provide Curtis with £40 spending money so that he could buy a new pair of trainers. I arrived at Chrissy's address and she handed the money to me. Curtis came out shortly afterwards, and I drove him to the mall in the city centre. We looked around a few shops before Curtis decided on a pair of trainers for £39. Curtis explained to me in the car that he was unhappy in his current placement with Chrissy. Curtis feels that Chrissy is argumentative and does not provide all the resources that he needs (e.g. food, etc). Curtis complained that Chrissy had refused to let him come back home yesterday evening. Curtis also mentioned that he smokes cannabis recreationally with his friends. Curtis feels that cannabis helps him to remain calm, especially during times of stress, such as the current situation with Chrissy. Curtis said that he moved from several foster placements since going into care, and feels that social workers do not necessarily do enough to ensure that he is placed with a suitable carer. When I asked him what attributes he finds helpful, Curtis suggested that he works best when a relaxed and hands-off approach is used. Curtis returned to the Vista office and insisted that he would wait for June to return, so that he could move into a respite home. As June was away from the office, Curtis had to remain in the building, and there was another young person waiting called Anthony. Curtis and Anthony seemed to get along reasonably well, they chatted and cooked oven chips together. Antony left after 45 minutes. Curtis left to buy some cigarettes and returned to the kitchen, where he sat down and chatted to social workers at lunch. I advised Curtis to stay in the building if he wanted to speak to June today.

Detailed Notes	Informed by EDT that Curtis and Elouise (also in placement with Chrissy) were prevented from getting back into Chrissy's house on Saturday. They had gone for a walk and returned about 10:30. An argument happened, Curtis was not the instigator of this and maintains that he did not shout and swear at Chrissy. He admitted to banging on the door and wanting to be let in, however it sounds as though Elouise was the main culprit. Spoke to Curtis and he said he was coming to Vista to sit in the office until we found him a new placement. Explained that there is a procedure to follow to identify new placements. Outcome of recent placement stability meeting was for Curtis to return home. However, Curtis is saying now that he can't live with his mum long term. Mum has said she won't have Curtis unless she is paid £10 per day. Discussed with June and Trish. June feels that the placement with Chrissy will continue to deteriorate if Curtis is left with her. He has already made allegations about Chrissy. Updated Michelle Oliver (Family Finding, Senior Prac.) re. current situation and asked them to look for a new foster placement for Curtis.

Detailed Notes	Curtis was polite, interacted with with staff and other young people at Vista for various reasons and chatted to friends on his mobile. I took Curtis to Chrissie to collect some of his belongings before taking him to Kingswood, he also went to the shop to buy tobacco with Eloise and he said goodbye to her over last cigarette in the back garden. I told Curtis that Chrissie has terminated his mobile phone contract and it is unlikely that future carers will take out contract as this is at carers's discretion. Detailed Notes	Present; Curtis, Sandra, FC, Richard Dixon, FPTSSW, June, Maria, IRO. Becky invited but did not attend.
	Curtis views Curtis asked if he could record the meeting on his mobile phone as individuals often distances themselves from decisions made. He agreed that Maria would send out the minutes to him before distributing them. Curtis agreed to stay in care until 1 years old with view to independence living from age 17.
	Placement Three weeks since the placement move. Curtis says it feels more like a family environment, Curtis is always home for tea at 6pm, he is good at letting Sandra know his whereabouts. He hardly meet up with 16 year old Chloe.
	FC views Sandra said Curtis is settling in well, no consideration to give him house key as yet, there is always some one at home, or he tells Sandra when he is due back. Sandra says they are still getting to know him and vice versa, and he is meeting extended family. Sandra makes respite arrangements within her family so children do not have to go to strangers. Son and his wife will move in when Sandra is away for a month in November. Sandra said she is not set up for independence training, but she gives £13 each week = £52 per month, for clothing allowance so yp can plan and budget + £10 a week pocket money He has sweet tooth, enjoys making desert, agreed with Sandra to bake Victoria Sponge. Laundry. Sandra does this as long as Curtis put in basket. He can also ask if he wants laundry done urgently. Sandra clear that if Curtis was to bring cannabis in the house it would jeopardise the placement as there is 10 year old child foster child.
	Education Curtis started at Access to Music College, he is on 6 weeks probation, he feels this is out of order but it is a requirement of each college. Curtis want the review at that stage to combine pep. Curtis is in the process of setting up bank account with Halifax. He need to collect his birth certificate from his mother and take to bank. SW gave him letter today to support Bursary application. Curtis says he has been looking for part time employment, despite handing out CVs he has not had any luck. He was encouraged to keep trying.
	Emotional health There has been no episode of self -harm for 11 months. Curtis is not wanting talking therapy. he does not wish to engage with any support around his cannabis use. Curtis said he mostly use at weekends.
	Health Good health. Needs dentist appointment/orthontist?? Need to register at GP re asthma medication. Curtis was involved in car accident suffers with back pain since. SW to contact physiotherapist re further appointment, preferably at hospital in Whit church.
	Family Despite living close to family home, Curtis has only "popped" in once as he has been settling into placement. If respite is needed, he can go home to family, financial support to family will need to be discussed with Richard Dixon. Curtis makes his own arrangements for contact directly with his mother.
	Half sister, Lexi. Curtis has been told by his father and wife that he needs to be part of the family to have contact with Lexi. Curtis would like to have contact at a contact centre. Maria advised him to seek advice from solicitor as he would need a contact Order.
	Friends Jed and Oscar are twins. Curtis had a good relationship with Jed ad has gone camping in Wales with the family back in the summer. He said he has fallen out with Jed, he is friends with Oscar now. Becky does not like Oscar's behaviours. Curtis said Oscar was cautioned by police when he was caught buying cannabis in the centre on CCTV.
	Advocate Curtis had asked to see an advocate, he said this is no longer the case as the issues were in the previous placement.
	Sibling. Maria to meet with Becky to discuss script for younger sister explaining why Curtis is not living at home  Next review on 17/02/15, venue to be agreed, if mother attending then need to be at Vista, if not then at placement.
Analysis of Information	It would have been helpful to complete a Delegation of Authority agreement to avoid roles and responsibilities becoming blurred, but LA has not developed such document.
Action	Meet with Curtis on 14/10 at 4.30. Check if Chrissie Marchant has NI number Contact Julian, tutor, re pep meeting to tie in with 6 weeks review of college placement. Social work student to meet Curtis next week re time limited piece of work.

Email to June Ford 30/10/14 at 09.13

Hi June

Hope you are well. I met with Curtis yesterday – saw his placement / bedroom and then we went to Costa coffee. I am a bit concerned about a few things (I will copy you into another email rather than repeat also): Curtis does still not have a bursary; I understand that the social worker is sick; Curtis's PEP has not been arranged; I cannot see that Curtis has been visited at his placement or been seen since prior to his placement. I am concerned as Curtis really needs more support than he is receiving. He did request a change in social worker as he does not feel you have a relationship also he never sees you and there are things he would like to discuss. The conversation I had with Curtis yesterday he should really have the opportunity to have with you. Curtis raised some concerns about the placement (I will copy you in regarding that) that are important.

Can you please update me regarding the above.

Regards

Maria Finlayson

Email sent to Richard Dixon, Steve Rundle, June Ford, Trish Hudson 30/10/14 at 09.36

Hi Richard and Steve

I hope you are both well. I met with Curtis yesterday and he spoke to me regarding his placement and I have some concerns that need responding to. Firstly I want to say that when I telephoned Curtis to arrange to visit him (as we had agreed at his CLA review) Curtis went to check with Sandra that this was convenient. I was on the telephone to Curtis at the time. Curtis went to Sandra and then said her name, to which she replied 'WHAT' in quite a harsh tone and then was clearly irritated with Curtis and with the fact I was going to visit – I asked Curtis to pass the phone over and spoke myself to Sandra. Prior to my visiting Sandra had said to Curtis she did not understand why I had to visit. My first point would be that Sandra needs to understand the role of the IRO and also a discussion about her harsh response to Curtis. Curtis reports that Sandra does respond to him most of the time like this. Curtis stressed that Wayne is 'sound'. Curtis said the placement had a homely feel about it everybody ate together in the evening and this was a nice social event.

Curtis is receiving £10 a week pocket from which he is expected to fund his phone and travel as well as any trips out or personal things. Curtis needs to get his hair cut (£9) and attends a hairdressers in Bedminster. Sandra has said that her daughter will cut it, Curtis would rather attend his regular hairdresser and is under the impression that if he does this he will have to pay from his £10. Is transport expected to come out of a YPs pocket money? Are YP expected to fund the haircuts from their pocket money?

Curtis does have a BMX but he is unable to use this for transport as he does not have a secure lock for it and cannot afford to buy one – is this not something a foster carer would buy for a young person?

Curtis does not have a key (this was discussed at the review) and Sandra explained there was always somebody in. Curtis is locked both in and out of the house when nobody is in. He has been locked in the house for up to three hours with no way of getting out other than leaving a downstairs window open (which he hasn't done). At the very least this is a fire hazard.

I bought Curtis a razor pack and some shaving foam as he wanted to shave off the growth on his face that was irritating him. He had asked Sandra if she would buy him some razors previously. Are YP expected to buy their own toiletries? It was £5 for razors and foam and they were on special offer.

I only have Curtis's view on this, but a lot of it seems to focus around money and what the carer is prepared to pay for.

I stressed the importance at the CLA review of using a delegated responsibility form for this case. Possibly there also needs to be something clear about what is the FC responsible for and what is Curtis responsible for. I do not believe he has any way of earning extra money that some other FCs offer. It is clear Curtis cannot afford these things from £10 a week.

I look forward to hearing from you.

Regards

Maria Finlayson

There are currently two providers. The process is a referral and also a referral from Curtis, then Joan meets Curtis and matching takes place. Detailed Notes	Purpose to follow up on Curtis's views /concerns regarding his placement after his meeting with Maria Finlayson. Spoke to Sandra first to get her views on how things are going without disclosing Curtis's concerns as I feel I need to meet with him first. Sandra said she has no concerns with Curtis as he does what is asked of him. She just woke him up .1pm as she does bot like yp sleeping the day away. Curtis cooks his own breakfast, strip his bed and bring his washing down and keep his bedroom very clean. Sandra said he is not allowed to cook as she does not want a house fire. Curtis usually visit friends and his mother in the week, he is usually back when agreed. Today he will be paid his pocket money/clothing allowance and money for a hair cut. Curtis came to the phone. I suggest a meeting to go over the concerns he raised with IRO. Curtis said he is not available until next Tuesday evening. I agreed to collect him at 5pm from placement as will be on training that day.

Detailed Notes	Kath picked up Curtis and then both met June at Morrison's. Curtis seemed well and was engaged in the conversation. He expressed a desire to get work for two day of the week. Either on a Monday, Tuesday or Saturday. Curtis expressed concern that he does not have a house key. Curtis also expressed concerns about Sandra's attitude which he said was rude. He expressed a desire for supported lodging, preferably with a male rather than a female. He told June that he goes to his mum's when he feels like it and stays overnight. He stayed at his mums from Wednesday to Sunday last week. His bursary has not come through. Curtis expressed that setting up his bank account is complicated as his stuff is at Ben and Mark's but he could chase it and get it organised. He also informed June that Sandra is not flexible with pocket money (i.e on Halloween she would not give it a day early). Curtis is going over to his dad's on Saturday to the family home to talk to him regarding access to see his sister.

	Hello
	I saw Sandra last week, and we went through the list of concerns that had been raised by Curtis and yourself.
	I also told Sandra that Curtis was anxious about me coming to visit, and any repercussions afterwards.
	I then phoned the next day, and Sandra said that Curtis seemed fine.
	Conversation with Sandra
	Besides going through the concerns raised by Curtis and yourself, I also added other questions about the placement, and through conversation I added some as well; so that I could break down what was going on. I will discuss my conversation in more detail with Steve tomorrow.
	I believe that Sandra needs to be more flexible and understand that Curtis may demonstrate confidence, but is also vulnerable.
	I also need to work with both Curtis and Sandra about how we help Curtis work to independence and more responsibility.
	June Ford SW is away, so I will then go out and talk to Curtis and Sandra to resolve the issues raised.
	I will then let you know the outcome.
	Thanks

	Thank you for this. I would like a more detailed response to the concerns so that I can understand better and respond to Curtis as required. Curtis has requested he has an advocate (Reconstruct) when in meetings relating to his placement.
	You say 'June Ford SW is away, so I will then go out and talk to Curtis and Sandra to resolve the issues raised' – which issues are these and what is the time scale.

	Hi Maria
	I have asked Richard to meet with Sandra and Curtis asap to go through what the allowance should be spent on (as this is where a lot of the conflict seems to arise), fire escape routes, GP/dentist etc.
	If we can get an Advocate for this meeting it would be great.
	Other issues are wider such as how others perceive Sandra and enabling her to see beyond what Curtis (or others) presents on the surface to the vulnerabilities beneath.

Detailed Notes	Curtis explained that this morning he was locked into his foster placement and was extremely agitated and annoyed by this and resulted in me being late to college this morning. Curtis discussed that Sandra was out when he got up for college around 11.30 and that the front door was locked so he could not get out. Curtis went out through the back and had to leave the door unlocked. Curtis asked if he would be able to have a set of keys as another foster child in the home has a set.
	TCT Sandra Foster carer - Sandra explained that she was out this morning and another long term foster child in the home was leaving the house at 11.30 who was locking up the house. Curtis was expected to be up and ready to leave for college. Curtis was up late therefore the front door was locked. Sandra stated that she will have a chat with Curtis when he comes home later on.

Detailed Notes	Curtis told me he had spent about a week at home over Christmas and had a great time. Curtis reported that he enjoyed being cared for by Sandra's son and girlfriend. Curtis was a bit upset as last night at the dinner table Sandra had said to him 'your social worker called today about giving you a door key and I said 'am I fuck''. Curtis asked Sandra 'did you really say that' and she said 'yes'. Curtis asked how a foster carer could say that. Curtis expressed how he is treated every differently to Chloe, not only the key but she has cable in her bedroom and she can use the house phone. Curtis asked to use the house phone recently to call his bank as there was a problem and he had no phone credit but was refused. Curtis now has a bike lock as he found one in the shed. Curtis's bursary money is through and his bank account is now set up. Curtis has not spoken to June or Katherine since he met them in a cafe (11/11/14). Curtis could not remember Katherine's name. Curtis is meeting with the advocate on Tuesday. Curtis is very concerned about me sharing what he tells me as there are consequences for him with Sandra being "pissed off with me". Curtis has not seen a dentist yet. Curtis does not believe Sandra contacted his childhood GP as agreed (he is unsure if he is yet registered with a GP. He has not seen the orthodontist. He has a PEP booked for Friday 16th. Curtis remains unhappy and does not feel wanted / valued in this placement. He feels frustrated by the way he is treated very differently to Chloe. Curtis asked about supported lodgings, I explained I had explored this and then shared this with June - I am unsure what June thought about this as I had not had a response. Maria Finlayson

Regarding Assessment

Detailed Notes	Below is the case note I have just written. I got a message to contact Curtis. I feel that I just keep doing this routinely. I emailed 30/10/14 to initially raise Curtis's concerns and things aren't really any different. We have a young person living in a home where there are real concerns about how the foster carer engages with and values the young person she is caring for. I am most surprised at how little Curtis is spoken to and how little concern (it feels to me) there really is about him and his welfare. I cannot understand how Curtis has still not seen a dentist – there are concerns about his teeth – but it seems fine to allow this to drift . I arranged for an advocate for Curtis. I still have no idea what the thoughts are around supported lodgings that I enquired about. There has been no formal meeting regarding the concerns raised in October (a month after Curtis arrived in the placement). Curtis was due a PEP the end of October – he is having it 16/01/14 – and this is a young person where education has been an issue. I was pleased when I heard Katherine would be working with and spending time with Curtis, he was anxious as he had raised concerns, but he was going to be supported. This hasn't happened and Curtis couldn't remember Katherine's name. Curtis calls me because he doesn't feel he has a relationship with his social workers. I would like a response about how this is going to be progressed and how Curtis is going to be supported. I do not see Curtis as a young person who is being well supported or in a placement where he feels valued and cared for.

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Curtis called to raise concern that his carer Sandra had cancelled his advocate referral as she did not want this to happen in her house. Curtis expressed to Cath that his priority is now his housing, and that although things had been ok while Sandra was aware the situation has returned to being difficult since Sandra returned. Sandra called to state that 'her house is not an office' and that if Curtis is planning to meet his advocate then he will have to wait on the door step as she will be locking him out of the house as no one else is in. Curtis responded to this by stating if she locks him out of/into the house in the cold and the rain then he will kick the door down. It is clear that the situation is distressing for Curtis. Katherine Jones Social Work Student arranged with Curtis and his advocate that they could meet for a coffee in the community. Katherine explained the importance of this meeting to Sandra, and that Curtis has the right to see his advocate independently and to arrange this for himself. Kath explained that Curtis does not need a social worker present and the idea of an independent advocate is so he has someone independent from social services and his carers to talk to. TCT Reconstruct: Message left for Advocate (Cath) to re establish meeting for Curtis. Message left in Reconstruct office for Cath, Cath's colleague Roxanna informed that Cath had received an 'irate' call from Sandra (foster carer) stating they would not be able to use her house for this. Following receiving message from Katherine social work student she was now attending appointment with Curtis in the community as requested.

Detailed Notes	Telephone call from Becky Osborne requesting I contact Curtis as his advocate appointment had been cancelled by the foster carer. (see email below) ----- Email sent to Steve Rundle, Richard Dixon, June Ford, Trish Hudson, Katherine Stone, Corinne Hillier (duty at Vista) 1.36pm: Curtis had an appointment this afternoon, 3pm, with his advocate at his foster placement. Curtis has asked that I call him (I haven't yet as I need to leave the office shortly and wanted to write to you first) as Sandra has cancelled this meeting. I believe this is because she will not be in the house and therefore the front door will be locked and Curtis will not be able to let the advocate in. Curtis had mentioned his advocate coming, to Sandra, when I spoke to him last week. Sandra asked Curtis who had arranged this (I think Sandra meant the meeting – which was Curtis and the advocate I believe) and Curtis said that I had (I had made the referral). Curtis reports that Sandra responded 'she needs to get her fucking act together and needs to do her fucking job properly'. I am not sure what Sandra is referring to. Apparently she also said 'if I want to be fucking rude on the phone I will be' – I think this refers to when I heard her being rude when I spoke to Curtis. I am not happy his meeting with his advocate has been cancelled and ideally this should be reinstated. Steve – I can see you are in. June, Trish and Richard are not on line. I have included Corinne who is on duty at Vista also. I will call Curtis quickly, but could duty at Vista please contact him also. ----- Telephone call to Curtis (see email below) ----- Email sent to Steve Rundle, Richard Dixon, June Ford, Trish Hudson, Katherine Stone, Corinne Hillier (duty at Vista) 16.48: I have just spoken to Curtis – he tells me his appointment with the advocate is now on Friday at 1.30pm at college. Curtis is feeling quite sad and unhappy. He said he was going to go to his friends tonight and then head to Vista in the morning so he will be listened to. Curtis explained this is what has worked in the past. If he can get Sandra to say she doesn't want him is the only way to move. I have asked Curtis to remain in placement and not to attend Vista and to attend college as planned. I would ask that action is taken quickly rather than drift into next week. Sandra was aware of the meeting with the advocate last week and had not mentioned a problem at that point. Curtis is asking me what is being said to Sandra so it is important he knows as Sandra is saying things to him (mainly at dinner time). June – what are your thoughts / any progress on supported lodgings? Maria Finlayson

Detailed Notes	Spoke to Curtis who explained his advocate appointment was now rearranged for Friday. Curtis said he was not having a great time of things at placement at the moment, I let him know that we know this, and that I was calling to check he was ok and whether he would be ok for tonight in placement. Curtis said that following a conversation with his IRO (Maria) he had agreed not to stay out tonight, and that he will be going to college tomorrow. (had considered running to a friend's house, and missing college to visit Vista) Curtis asked what the repercussions would be if he stayed out. I explained that unless his carer has agreed to him staying out, and was happy that he was somewhere safe and with people that are safe then she would have to call EDT, and inform the police. Curtis felt he wanted to stay in placement, but said if it got too bad he might go to a friend Jed and Oscars. He explained they live with their parents and it has been agreed for him to stay there previously. I let Curtis know that we understand he is not happy in his current placement and that things have been difficult for a while. I explained June had asked me to start looking into lodging placements, and that Kath the student social worker working with him will be looking into this with him. Curtis said he felt that his carer has been off with him since the incident this afternoon, and that she has been giving him dirty looks. I reassured Curtis that if he needed to make contact with his social worker that there is always a social worker on the cover desk, and that Katherine is usually in Tuesday-Friday so can also be contacted.

Detailed Notes	Email from Corinne Hillier (cover social worker)
	HI all, Just to update you, I have also spoken with Curtis who seemed reassured that people were listening to him, and aware that he is unhappy currently in placement and that he is in a difficult situation. I let Curtis know that June and Kath had asked me to gather information about the process for Lodging placements (as they have previously discussed with him). I have tried a number of times this afternoon to contact Joan Icton but have not yet had a response. I will pass on her details for Kath to follow up tomorrow/to pass task to cover worker for tomorrow to pursue. I gave Curtis the details for our office and explained that if he unable to reach June and Kath that he can always speak to a cover worker, and when he is not in college he could call in to the office. [REDACTED] Thanks Corinne Hillier ----- Reply to Steve Rundle, Richard Dixon, June Ford, Trish Hudson, Katherine Stone, Corinne Hillier: Thank you. Curtis told me he has an appointment to see Katherine on Thursday – but he really needs to be seen today and in his placement, he feels quite alone and is dealing with adult confrontation on his own. He was clear to me he wanted to stay with his friend rather than be there. I am concerned that since he arrived at his placement (in September) he has not been visited. Katherine picked him up from there once. I know Sandra was not happy when I visited Curtis at his placement and saw his bedroom (which is an expectation of the IRO) but this is also Curtis's home. I also appreciate that a period of settling in before a key is given, however if there is no key then the carers need to be home for when Curtis is. Maria Finlayson ----- Email from Richard Dixon: Hello [REDACTED] What sort of things is Sandra saying at the dinner table? as if they are making Curtis uncomfortable, I need to talk to Sandra about them. Thanks Richard Dixon ----- Email reply: Hi Richard – Curtis regularly feels uncomfortable. Sandra knew about Curtis seeing his advocate last week and had not mentioned this was inconvenient. Sandra had expressed previously, to Curtis, that she was not happy about me coming to the house 'why does she have to come to the house', also has said 'my home is not an office' and told Curtis that was why she was cancelling the appointment. Sandra swears a lot and makes comments that are derogatory. Curtis will say to me 'why is she allowed to say those things'. The most recent example was about me yesterday 'she needs to getting her fucking act together', the other day (over dinner – so likely Jagjeet is there also) she said 'your social worker called today about giving you a door key and I said 'am I fuck". The evidence suggests Sandra is not happy for people to come to her house. I find it difficult to respond to Curtis when he asks 'why is Sandra allowed to be a foster carer when she talks like that or says those things, or won't let me call my bank'. These concerns aren't new, I raised what Curtis was feeling not long after he arrived and my personal experience with his carer. Curtis enjoyed the period when Sandra was away, but otherwise has been consistent in his unhappiness. The idea for the advocate was so he felt supported attending a meeting with Sandra to discuss the concerns but a meeting has not yet been arranged. Regards Maria Finlayson ----- Email from Richard dixon Hello I saw Curtis before Christmas, and after Christmas when I did an unannounced visit. When I did an unannounced visit. The time was 9.30 and Chloe and Curtis were in there respective bedrooms. I knocked on their doors, but they must have been asleep, as they did not answer. Since Curtis has been with Sandra he has been left alone when Sandra has had to go out, and we have done a fire plan, and he can exit the home when he wants. I need to talk to Sandra about the concerns raised by Curtis and professionals. But am mindful that Curtis needs to know what I have done, and when I have done it. We do need a meeting between Curtis and Sandra and ourselves. I am due to see Sandra on Monday, for another case. But can talk to her afterwards. Thanks ----- Reply: Thanks. Curtis also wishes to know what is being said as things are generally commented on. Curtis has asked I call him today to make him aware of what is happening. Can I tell him you will be speaking to Sandra on Monday? I would rather there was a more formal meeting being put in place early next week as I fear the same thing will happen now as happened in October and Curtis lives in this home where he continues to not feel welcome. I very much appreciate your direct work with Sandra Richard, but little has been resolved or changed. Katherine, student social worker, is going to meet with Curtis tomorrow and regularly thereafter, which will be helpful to Curtis. Maria -----

Detailed Notes	I met with Curtis at the college Access to Music and took him back to placement. We had a chat about x box games on the way and I asked if it would be ok for me to see his room when I was there. He agreed that I could. When we arrived Curtis made me a cup of tea. I greeted Sandra then Curtis directed me to his room. It was messy with clothes on the floor but not dirty. We then sat down and discussed each of the following: Health Curtis told me his health was brilliant. He is registered with the doctors but needs to wait two weeks before making an appointment. He needs one for asthma and think he may have diabetes as he keeps passing out in college. He did admit to drinking a lot of energy drinks and smoking marijuana at the same time which may be cause it. He is registered with the dentist but not with the orthodontist and has not had a dentist appointment one is booked for 2/2/15 at 11.25am.. He has not been registered with the physio yet. PEP - booked for Friday 16th January at 10am. Emotional and Behavioural development Curtis is having a few issues with placement and looking at supported housing is stressful. He told me he has a good social life and goes out in Easton every other weekend. He is in £76 of debt on PayPal which he intends to repay when he gets the bursary. Identity Curtis said he needs ID such as a passport. Family and social relationships Stayed with mum a week over Christmas and on the 9th and 10th January. He stays every other week for about two days. He still wants a letter to dad for contact with sister. Social Presentation Looks well presented 'cool', clean and well dressed. Self-care skills Washes, cleans teeth and dresses independently. No housework contribution. Placement Things are unsettled because of the key/food/phone/money. Otherwise Curtis tells me things are actually not too bad. Child's view Curtis wants things to change now, at the pace it has started to move - i.e. viewing the projects and looking at viable options for housing.

Detailed Notes	Hi there Maria, I'm just contacting you on subject of the meeting on Friday. I've sat down and had a talk with Wayne and Sandra and have decided I think it would be best to drop the issues to this date, because, I am moving to the projects with the next two months and think it is not worth creating more hassle in the household in this small time frame. Please let me know what you think in regards of this via call or text message as my email box has been very spammed and may not see your message. Yours Sincerly Curtis Osborne  Hi Curtis, Maria here. I ahve just got your email. The meeting is for you, so if you do not want it, of course that is your choice. Would it not be worth meeting to work out how the next 2/3 months will run smoothly? Good that you sat and spoke together. I will share yur email with Cath, Richard and your advocate. Take care, I will let you know what they say.

Detailed Notes	I rang Maria to give her an update on Curtis' passport and housing. I informed her that I had spoken to Rebecca and that she was finding her old passport for me. I also told Maria about the visit to Blenheim road and that Curtis was pleased with the house. I have now started to complete the HSR form. We also discussed the fact that Curtis had decided that he did not want the meeting with Cath (Reconstruct), Richard (Supervising social worker), Sandra (FC) and himself to go ahead yesterday and so it was cancelled.
Analysis of Information
Action	I will talk to Curtis about the importance of these meetings in order to have a strategy in place so that the placement can remain stable (something that Curtis has informed Maria, myself and Rebecca that he wants) until alternative accommodation becomes available. Curtis has told both Rebecca and Maria that everything is ok at the placement at the moment, however it would be beneficial if all professionals could meet with Curtis to work together to support Curtis during this transition.

Reason for Contact	Due to heavy traffic by the time I got to Curtis it was too late to take him to meeting with solicitor in at Avon Law Centre.
Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	It was gone 6 pm by the time I arrived. Sandra let me in [REDACTED] I met with Curtis at the kitchen table and talked about rescheduling the interview on a day when he is not at college. He confirmed the meeting was at Avon and Bristol Law Centre, he had found them on the Internet. Curtis said he has an agreement between him and the carers not to argue until he moves on. We had a conversation about timescale and a vacancy becoming available only when someone moves on. Curtis replied that he is prepared to wait at placement to reduce the amount of moves, he said he has no worries at this time about placement. Curtis said he understood when he visited that he can be bumped up the list. Curtis said he is expecting £200 bursary, he owes hi smother £80, she paid hi PayPal bill, he plans to start saving for 32" TV when he moves, he buys a lot of computer stuff over the internet. I encouraged him to develop money management skills by learning to save some of his money in an account. In relation to the mention of feeling faint at his pep meeting. Curtis replied that he has since reduced the amount of energy drink he has each day, it was costing him £20 a week, reduced to £15, he has a sweet tooth and is trying to reduce his sugar intake. I checked Curtis has contact numbers for Vista. He said he has BB on £5 a month contract, he can receive calls and use the Internet, so he mostly emails people. Curtis said he has our numbers and knows how to email Kath or he has looked Vista up on the Internet in the past. Briefly discussed role of an Ally. 11/02 Appointment made at the Law Centre on 3 March at 7pm with Melody, they don't offer daytime slots. The earliest time they offered was on 24 Feb at 6pm. I am working out of County all day and will not get back into Bristol until gone 10pm. Interestingly when I called the Law Centre they had recorded that Curtis was seen and interviewed last night at 6pm which is most bizarre.

Detailed Notes

I collected Curtis from college at 5pm. Curtis was hungry as he had only had a piece of toast all day. We decided to go to pizza hut. Curtis, overall, is happy with his life currently. He is enjoying music college and doing well; he has a new tutor which has been beneficial as he did not have a great deal of respect for the previous tutor.

Curtis's relationship with his mother is positive and he gets on well with Lee. Curtis enjoys seeing his family, though he recognises this is not as often as his mother would like.

Curtis reports that he requested to meet with Sandra and Wayne to find a way forward and since then he feels things have improved as they both tolerate each other and keep their heads down. Curtis felt it was manageable in the short term, but feels they would both struggle if it was any longer. Curtis said that the younger foster child in the placement left a couple of weeks ago but he is unsure why 'he just went'. Curtis has been told that J wants to see him, but he is unsure if this is true. I said I would ask J's IRO to find out.

Curtis is very excited about having his own room in shared supported accommodation and talked a lot about the care it would require to maintain it. Curtis also talked about money management and how he would manage this - Curtis was very insightful. Curtis recognises he needs to save and spread out his money (doing it is a little harder though).

Curtis is hoping to get a cheaper ticket to the festival in spring, he is looking forward to this.

Curtis mentioned that the young girl missing, Rebecca Watts, was someone he knew and he planned to take part in the search for her. We both agreed this was very worrying.

Curtis said that he was having a lot of contact with Kath. I explained that Kath would be leaving at the end of March as she was a student, Curtis was quite disappointed and said 'I don't see anyone for a year and then I have all this contact, will it go back to how it was?'. I said I hoped not.

Curtis was, as always, polite, engaging and good company.

Detailed Notes	They were running late so we had waited until 7.20 to be seen.
	Met with Melanie Brown, solicitor. Discussion Curtis explained his situation to Ms Brown stating that his advocate has written to his father, Mr Allaway on his behalf twice asking for him to have contact with his half sister Lexi, and his father has not replied. Ms Brown advised that due to changes in the law on legal aid, this is a Civil Case, Curtis is a teenager she would need to check he is eligible for legal aid. Actions. MB to confirm by phone to Curtis on 4/3 his eligibility. Curtis to inform June If he is eligible then an appointment will need to be set up with MB asap. Curtis will need to provide 3 months bank statement If he is not eligible then mediation to be set up with South West Mediation between Curtis and his father. If father is not willing to co-operate. C2 -C100 Court application forms to be complete. MB can help with this Curtis was provided with a written copy of the discussions. I had opportunity to talk with Curtis while we waited before the appointment and after wards in the car. I offered to take him to placement but Curtis declined and instead asked me to drop him at Temple Meads train station. Curtis said he spent the day in Easton with Jed and Oscar, he walked down to the appointment, he had left his phone charger and Oscar was bringing it to him at the station. Curtis said he was shaken by the news of body parts found in the search for Becky Watts, he had met her, she was Jed's girlfriend and he had joined the search party in Vassal park looking for her. I sympathise with gruesome murder in our community. Placement In response to my question on how the situation was at home in relation to the issue of door key an Sandra's harsh tone when speaking to him. Curtis said not bad, Sandra is moderating her tone when speaking to him. He takes the side door key when he is going out, if the family is due back before him, he post the key back through the letter box as he does not want to lose it, or if they are not due back he takes the key with him. He said Sandra is ok with this. He usually stays up until 2am playing on his x box, he said he is left alone to do this as opposed to at his previous placement. Curtis said he has to learn from his mistakes, that this may make him too tired the next day, but he said he is usually fine with getting up in the mornings. I said that Kath is meeting with him and has been following up with his position on list for project but we need to have a plan B as a long drawn out situation could cause the situation to deteriorate. Curtis agreed and said a two to three month wait would fine but beyond that difficult. He said he is really looking forward to his own place without boundaries being imposed on him such as the volume of his music. Health Curtis mentioned pain in his back and said he think it could be the pain from the car accident. I offered to book an appointment at his GP, or ask Sandra to do this so he can be referred back to hospital physio. Curtis said he prefers to do this College. Curtis said he has anew tutor who has a youthful outlook, he is much happier with him especially since he had the disciplinary removed. Curtis talked about his aspirations to go on to a Masters Programme at University and to become a music teacher. He said he has experience living in halls of residence last summer when he spent a week in Bridgewater and in Bristol and he really enjoyed the experience and could see himself at uni. Curtis said Jed has lost his place at college and he has made a pact with him that he get back o9n a course he would wait a year for him to catch up. I told him that he need to stick to his own path in life as by taking a year out he would lose the momentum and mess up his own future. Curtis he though about joining the army but did not think he would cope with the rules and boundaries and being told what to do. I suggest that maybe joining the Air Cadets would be a way of testing the waters and he could always leave f he wanted to without repercussions. Curtis he could not cope with the boundaries and at Martial art when he was younger. Finances Curtis was proud of the second hand phone he bough with part of his bursary money for £130, is tts made of glass and quite elegant; he owed his mother for Paypal debt she paid, he said he paid her the rest, £70. He also sold the Ps3 he got for his birthday last year to her for his little sister for £80. I encouraged him to save even £10 from his bursary. I dropped Curtis at Temple Meads about 8pm. I offered to wait for him to collect charger from Oscar and taking him to bus stop as he had a bus pass but he declined. I reminded him not to lose the instructions from MB as I don't have a copy.

Analysis of Information	Veronica rang me to enquire about an offer of a room for Curtis in the house on Cheltenham road. We had not discussed the possibility of Curtis having a lower level of support if a room became available in one of the houses. I discussed the possibility of Curtis moving into the room in Cheltenham road and Maria Finlayson and June Ford agreed that with the right support in place it could be an option for Curtis. I have arranged a meeting with Curtis and Veronica on Tuesday 24th March so that Veronica could interview Curtis, she is particularly concerned as there are people living in the house who are currently doing their A levels and he has expressed a desire to play loud music. Curtis agreed that he would not do this if people were doing exams and agreed to the support I have suggested, for example registering with Kuids Company and having increased contact with an Ally from Reconstruct in order to receive the support he would need. If the room is suitable then Curtis could move in on Monday 30th March

Reason for Contact	Meeting at Blenheim Road - Curtis, Katherine Jones, Veronica Ralph
Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	I picked Curtis up at his foster placement at 11.30am. We drove to Blenheim road. We met with Veronica who asked Curtis a series of questions about how he would address possible issues that arose in a shared accommodation. Curtis answered the questions very well. He was polite and approachable. Veronica took Curtis' telephone number and informed him that she would ring at the end of the day with a decision as to whether he would be eligible to take the room at Cheltenham road. The accommodation at Cheltenham road only has one hour of support per week. Curtis needs more support than this at this point. If he is offered the room at Cheltenham road, support will need to be sought elsewhere
Analysis of Information	Curtis may not be ready for unsupported living. If the room at Cheltenham road is offered to him then extra support needs to be put into place to enable Curtis to develop his skills around independent living. If the room is not offered to him, alternative options need to be explored.

Reason for Contact	Telephone call from Curtis at 11am. I gave him the telephone number for Vista as he did not have it so hadn't called. Curtis was calling to find out what had happened following his interview regarding a placement at Cheltenham Road as his placement is breaking down.
Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Curtis called to ask if I had heard about the outcome of his interview for a place at Cheltenham Road. Curtis said that Kath, student social worker, had attended with him but she had now left and they had said they would get back to him on the same day. Curtis said his placement is becoming strained and gave an example about food last evening. On Tuesday evening Curtis had fallen asleep so had not eaten his tea; Curtis ate his tea at 3pm on Wednesday. On Wednesday evening Curtis went to warm what he believed was his Wednesday tea; Sandra took this off him stating it was Chloe's (another child in placement). Curtis reported he was hungry and Sandra stated he had had his tea today already (3pm). Curtis was not given any other food so went to his mother's to get a meal. Curtis is finding this difficult. I told Curtis I would forward this information to the relevant people and ask them to contact him to update him. Maria Finlayson

Detailed Notes	31.3.15  Email from Richard Edwards ((Family Finding Team)  I am covering Family Finding for a couple of days and I wanted to get back to you about the referral for Curtis Osborne. At the moment we do not have an in-house carer with a vacancy and we are not sure another carer would work as he has already had 4 placements. I can see he is on the waiting list for Blenheim but if he wants to leave Sandra's quickly then maybe he needs to be a little more flexible and consider other housing options.  Another option is to meet with Sandra, her SW and Curtis and try and resolve the issues. [REDACTED]
	2.4.15  TCT Curtis  I confirmed with Curtis his wishes and feelings in respect of his preference to be allocated to a social worker in the children in care service and explained that I will confirm that request to the Service Manager today but this transfer may take a few weeks. Curtis confirmed that he was happy to remain allocated to June Ford in the meantime, who he knows. Curtis confirmed he has the phone number for June and is able to contact her. I updated Curtis that regarding the family finding and that there are currently no in house foster placement available and Sandra is saying she is happy for him to stay whilst a place a Blenheim lodge becomes available. Curtis has been told that a vacancy at Blenheim Lodge may take a month to come up and he currently feels that he doesn't want to do one move and then another. However, he doesn't feel he can last any longer than one month living at Sandra's and will definitely need to move placements if a vacancy takes longer than a month. Curtis plans to spend time with his mum over Easter. I confirmed that there was not a respite vacancy with Linda Rowbottom as Curtis had requested, this is a carer he likes and gets on with. Email to Update family finding  I have just spoken to Curtis and updated him that there are currently no in house foster placement vacancies and that Linda Rowbottom is not available as per his request. Curtis told me he doesn't want to do one move to a different foster placement then another to Blenheim in a short space of time. Currently, he feels able to manage staying with Sandra for the next couple of weeks. We are in the middle of the Easter Holidays so Curtis is likely to be spending more time with his mum over the next week than in placement. Curtis has been told it is likely that a vacancy will come up at Blenheim within the next month. He feels (currently) that he can wait that long but will need to move to a new placement if this is going to be any longer. Therefore, could you please continue to look for short term in house foster placement options for Curtis, whilst June Ford will keep in contact with Curtis and Blenheim lodge to try to get Curtis moved to Blenheim within one month. Email to Ann James - Service Manager  To request a transfer to a CIC social worker for Curtis. Email to Update Maria Finlayson - IRO  re: Placement and transfer request.

Detailed Notes	Issues discussed: Accommodation, College, Bus pass/Travel, independent living skills Accommodation: Curtis said he was happy to be moving as in his current placement there is not enough food and he is often hungry. We talked about this and Curtis felt as the foster carer is an older woman she has small portions and in general there is 'not enough'. Curtis said he has to ask for a biscuit etc and he doesn't like how it makes him feel. Curtis acknowledged he does eat a lot but feels he should not have to spend his own money to eat. We talked about budgeting when he moves to independent accommodation and buying healthy 'fillers' like rice or pasta and adding things to basic recipes to make it more economical. Curtis engaged well with this. College: Curtis said he is enjoying his course but feels it will not get him a job and is more of a hobby. Curtis felt he would like to try an apprenticeship and will look in to this when he is more settled at Blenheim. Bus Pass/Train Travel: Curtis was worried about getting to college if he moved to Blenheim on Monday. I have agreed to contact CAT and request two weeks of discretionary bus passes which will give Curtis time to apply for his travel bursary at college. Independent Living Skills: Curtis felt he has the skills of budgeting, cooking and cleaning and caring for himself to manage at Blenheim. We talked about engaging with staff and generally letting people know if he was struggling. Curtis felt he was confident to do this and that his mother would continue to support him as and when. Curtis and mum have also been saving for 'bits and pieces' such as toaster and kettle which will save him money from his LCG.
Analysis of Information	Curtis presented as a capable, engaged young person who has thought about the transition to independent care. Curtis was able to reflect on the 'other side' of independent living such as loneliness, not having much money and managing living in shared accommodation.

Detailed Notes	Curtis was being helped by Jed to unpack, rearrange furniture. The room was spacious/ the window only opened half way so he may need a fan if the weather gets warmer. Gerry (CAT) moved Curtis earlier at 1pm. Discussions. Curtis said it feels right although early days. He has new microwave, kettle, crockery and cutlery, fridge in his room. He plan to do some food shop later. I suggest a weekly meal planner/that way he is more likely to have food to last for the week. He will need to develop cooking skills / budget skills. He will share the cooking space but choice of four bathroom. Guest allowed to sleep over 3 nights a week /otherwise leave by 11pm. Curtis has 2 weeks bus pass. Said he had spent all his bursary the day before he was offered the room. He bough a bike/plan to take the train over to Bedminster /cycle onto college. Train fare about £2 per day. Discussed bursary payment of £200 per month contains an element of bus fare. I told him his new social worker will be Ian Harding, due to meet for handover tomorrow / will then feed back on how Ian plans to meet him. I said my goodbyes and left. I could not find a member of staff despite knocking on office door so left with Placement plan. Veronica Ralph had let me in when I arrived and showed me up to Curtis's room.

Detailed Notes	Curtis answered the door in his slippers. Jed was in Curtis's room and is clearly being very supportive of Curtis. Jed has been spending some nights with Curtis. Curtis is keeping on top of his washing and drying and seems to be enjoying getting all his things sorted and in place. Curtis hasn't yet applied for college for September. Curtis isn't doing so well at getting up and getting to college. Curtis feels he is managing his money quite well. Becky and Kaylin came to visit, Kaylin really enjoyed the visit and wanted to stay. Detailed Notes	Curtis was waiting for me at the Reception when I arrived. He invited me upstairs to his room which was untidy but not concerning. He told me that his mates had spent the night there and they had been eating , smoking and playing music all night. Voice of the young person Curtis told me that he moved to his new placement 4 weeks ago which is a room in a shared accommodation. He shares bathroom facilities. Curtis loves his new accommodation and he is happy that he is living independently now. He also said he had been in 6 different placements before and they all broke down. He said he feels other social workers let him down in the past. I encouraged him to focus on his future now and not dwell in the past too much. Curtis goes to a college in Whit church three times a week and he is doing Access to Music which he loves. He also does private DJ ing. He also likes building computers and he built a computer for himself which is now worth £500. He is hoping to start an Apprenticeship in Computers next September. He has a hamster in his room and a toaster which are contraband items. He has contact with his sister Kaitleen and mum who live in Knowle regularly. He lost contact with his dad 4 years ago when he kicked him out. Since then he has not been able to see his little sister Lexy, he is seeking legal advise to try and get contact. He told me that he smokes weed at the weekend. He spends £10 on it and uses most of his money for food as he likes eating. He raised no concerns about how things are at the moment and said that he is looking forward to meeting his new Social Worker. Week's bus pass given

Detailed Notes	Hi Maria, I just wanted to quickly update you on Curtis, I have introduced him to his new independent visitor this week, and they seemed to hit it off quite well. I am meeting Curtis again this afternoon with Steve Rundle with regards to his complaint, and Curtis wanted you to know that he feels a once-weekly visit from a social worker is a bit too much, he would prefer it if it was once fortnightly. That could be something he might want to bring up at the lac review at the beginning of June.

Curtis said that he was still doing his access to music course at Witchurch College, which he has been doing for about one year. Curtis said that he very much would like to undertake an apprenticeship in IT. Curtis felt his college course was going okay. Curtis informed me that his plan was to live at Blenheim Road until he is 18 years of age and then to get a flat. I informed him that he needed to do an apprenticeship, as this would get him ready for the future. In terms of eating, Curtis informed me that he is eating well and that he is eating three meals a day. Curtis said that he is able to cook, wash and take care of his personal hygiene needs. Although the flat was clean there were a few items of clothes over the floor. In terms of his health Curtis said that he last saw the doctor about a week ago, which was on the 18th. His doctor is Dr Wellington. This was to get his inhalers for his Asthma. Curtis informed me there are no other health issues. In terms of contact Curtis sees his mother and his sister on a regular basis. In terms of his father, Curtis said that he does not see Lexi, his half sister on his dad's side and is trying to access contact with Lexi through a solicitor. In terms of socialisation, Curtis informed me that he does have lots of friends and there are no issues around socialisation. In terms of his rent there are no issues, Curtis said that he pays £7.50 and he informed me that he is not in arrears with this. Curtis said that he also does his shopping on a regular basis when he gets his money. In terms of Cannabis, I asked Curtis how much he smokes per week. Curtis informed me that he smokes £10 per week. I informed him that I did not believe this. Curtis then said he smokes £20 - 30 pounds per week. We then had a discussion around budgeting and the need to cut down. Curtis had his pep about a couple of weeks ago and that he has 4 weeks left at college. I had no major concerns around Curtis's behaviour or looking after himself.

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Becky was calling as she is worried about Curtis. Curtis thought he may have been paid too much money, though anyway went ahead and board bits for his computer. He spent his bursary on a big television. He has checked his account and he is over drawn £150 and did not receive a payment on Thursday? He has no money to eat or drink. Curtis had asked his mother not to say anything as Curtis thinks he will be put back into a foster placement. Becky did say that Curtis would possibly call today anyway. I explained that Curtis won't get his debts paid and clearly needs some support with budgeting, but he won't go hungry. Becky has invited Curtis home to eat also. I said I would share this information with Ian, the new social worker. I explained that Ian would be contacting Becky to introduce himself and then Becky can contact Ian.  Email detailing the above sent to Ian Harding and his manager Sarah Riley. Maria Finlayson

Detailed Notes	Curtis called to explain that he was over drawn by £150. He had sold his X box for £300 and then bought a gaming PC for £200 so nothing to do with his money from the local authority or bursary. He accepts that he had thought he had been over paid and it was this money he spent, however the money he thought was extra was his £200 that had not yet gone out of his account. Curtis's biggest fear was that he would have to go into foster care. I explained I had informed Ian and he should be in touch. Obviously he won't go hungry but it is not likely he will be given money, more likely food parcels. Curtis has booked onto the 2nd year at his college. Also Curtis will explore how many hours he can work so he can get a part time job. Email sent to Ian Harding and Sarah Riley with above. Maria Finlayson

This would be a final visit for me as I am leaving Reconstruct at the end of the month, and I wanted to let Curtis know, and find out if he would like another advocate. I am going to try and see him on Monday afternoon as I am seeing someone else at St Christopher's around the corner. I will let you know if I can't get through at all. With regards to his complaint, I will collate all the information I have together with regards to social workers seeing the other young people he was worried about, and pass this on to my coordinator, who would allocate another advocate for Curtis. Please don't hesitate to call if you need to, Regards, Cath Williams  Independent Visitor Coordinator and Advocate  Reconstruct

Detailed Notes	I met with Curtis this evening. Curtis said he was well, though was feeling a little bored and low in motivation for accessing activities. Curtis said he was not spending much time with Jed at the moment, though would see Oscar a little more at present. Curtis said there were no issues between him and Jed. I received a letter from the GP stating that Curtis had missed an appointment for an Asthma check. I spoke about this with Curtis and arranged to meet on Monday morning and make a new appointment together. I reminded Curtis we could assist with wake up calls if needed for appointments and to let us know. Curtis said he had not enrolled at college yet as his friend who he was going to attend with did not go. I encouraged Curtis to enrol on Monday. I spoke about a bursary application for September, and Curtis said his college used a different form to the one I had. Curtis found the correct form online, emailed it to me and I printed a copy off for Curtis to begin and complete with me on Sunday evening. I went through the activities we had earlier identified, Princes Trust, LPW, Young Bristol, Bike repair Projects. Whilst Curtis said he was willing to contact them, he had not done so. We spoke about ways they could offer summer activities, different opportunities. Curtis said he would contact them next week. Also completed personal safety plan and reviewed support plan.

Detailed Notes	Discussions took place around how Curtis was feeling, as I had heard from his key worker that he was a little low. Curtis said that he had been a little low, but nothing major. I informed him that if he was to continue to feel low he may need to visit his doctor. Curtis's flat was also messy and I informed him that he would feel much better if he cleaned his flat up. Curtis said that he would, but would be visiting access to music in Hengrove first. In terms of his health Curtis said that he was fine and that he had visited his GP to sort out his inhalers. Curtis felt a little bored and this is why he was going to Hengrove. Curtis does have friends, but likes to spend time in his flat playing games and watching movies.

Detailed Notes	Hi there Chris, I've been trying to get hold of you by phone to open up an avenue of communication re. Curtis. He wasn't in college on Wednesday and in the absence of a valid reason will incur a disciplinary as a result. He was overheard o Monday saying that it wasn't worth his while coming in and this can't be tolerated. We had some issues with him last year and were hoping that he's turned over a new leaf. It doesn't look that way at the moment in the light of this development. While we do all we can to support our students, this is not a good start as I'm sure you will agree. He is due in on Monday morning and I will speak to him about this matter then. It's a shame that our first communication is so negative. Hopefully we can turn him around and he can do well on this course. I will do my best to facilitate that outcome but he needs to do his part too. Please don't hesitate to get in touch with me. Hi Chris,

It's a funny time of year for apprenticeships because of the learning aspect and colleges etc have already started but try them, explain the situation and if it's a dead end we can look for courses .

Let me know how you get on

Detailed Notes	Hi Ian, Whilst I've been Curtis' A.O for a while, I'll be changing the YP's I support here from 1st October. Here's a brief update for Curtis..... Contact: I've been meeting regularly with Curtis. College: Curtis has had some absence from college as he has not been feeling well. The college are considering withdrawing him from his absence and seem to feel he would not be able to complete as he has missed a lot of foundation work this term. I've tried to contact the college and have cc'd you into emails for reference. I'll try them again next Wednesday. Curtis has contacted the college and explained to them he's not well and supplied a doctor's note. Curtis does not wish to continue with college. He would rather look for an apprenticeship that is IT based. Rent: Curtis has been making regular rent payments and is currently upto date this week. Moving: Curtis is happy to stay at the Projects, though he would like to move to a larger room at Blenheim road. Support plans: I've met and completed support plans with Curtis. Health: Curtis has complained of back pain and has been to see his GP. Curtis has been prescribed pain killers to assist with his discomfort. Curtis said he has been referred for further assessment / investigation of back / spine pain. Awaiting appointment details. Dentist – Curtis is very resistant to registering / attending a dentist for a check-up and filings. I've been offering ongoing encouragement to try and visit a dentist. Optician – I've recommended to Curtis that we contact opticians for a check-up. Curtis feels he does not need to attend at present. I've been offering ongoing encouragement to try and arrange a visit. Safety: No concerns. I'll leave the update at this for now. Please let me know if there's any other information / details that would be helpful or useful. Kind regards Chris

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Curtis said that he was doing okay at present, but was struggling financially This was due to him having lost £30 on a night out last week. Curtis was given £30 and a bus pass, so that he can access interviews with the bus pass. Dominic said that he was at access to music, this was because he did not get on with his tutor. I informed him that he should of contacted myself and we could of had a discussion on the best way forward for him. Dominic said that he is currently 3AAA College, in the centre. This started 3 - 4 weeks ago and is attending appointments for IT and Tech. Curtis is now wanting to attend an apprenticeships within this field and is currently attending interviews. Curtis thought that he would continue to do music on the side now. In terms of his health, Curtis said that he had a bad back and was waiting for the GP to call him back. I asked his key worker to ensure that he contacted the doctor to address his back problems. Curtis still needs to go to the opticians and dentist. Curtis needs to be a little more proactive, as he needs to ensure that he has a positive career. I had no concerns at present. Curtis also said that he needs new jeans, coats, which I said I would discuss with the manager. Dominic presents as settled and happy with his current placement.

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes
Analysis of Information
Action	Call to Curtis to say that the reason I had not got back to him about his request for a room change was beause I had not yet seen our housing officer Julia Duncan. I also told himt hat there was a possibility that because of the location of the room we may need it for somebody who had a higher level of need but I could not discuss the reasons why. Curtis was not very happy about this because he felt that other people had been allowed to change rooms. I explained to Curtis that I felt that he had done really well on paying his rent and not recieving warnings and because of this I would be happy to offer him a room at Kingdown which was closer to town and I felt that he had earned our trust to be able to make this move. Curtis was not very happy with this. I explained to Cutis that I would be much clearer on the situation later and would call him once I knew the outcome. I then had a call from his Social Worker who wanted to advocate for Curtis and I explained the reasons why we had to move the young person over Curtis and that this happens on some occasions. I called Curtis and explained to him that we would not be able to give him a room and he expressed how unfair he felt it was and I explained that Housing were feeling that we should not agree to so many room changes because when we have situations that we need to move somebody it causes upset. Curtis is not very happya and wants to take out a complaint about how it was handled.

Regarding Assessment

Detailed Notes	Whatsapp sent to Curtis asking how is was? and what he was doing for Christmas?
	Telephone call to Debbie Price, Blenheim Road. Debbie was not available so I spoke to Veronica. Veronica confirmed they were very concerned about Curtis, for the past week and a half. prior to this he was completing applications with Debbie and wanting to start the build a bike course for a free bike. Veronica hasn't seen him because he is asleep all day and only wakes at night. Curtis has started a friendship with a female resident and they stay up together. Veronica believes there are drugs involved, not only cannabis. They only inspect the rooms twice a year and otherwise do not enter the bedrooms unless invited. They can only wake people up etc if the YP agree to this plan. Veronica is trying to get Ria Panda to work with Curtis to find an apprenticeship. His tenancy will be at risk if he continues as NEET (Becky is very disappointed Curtis is not working or in education). I said I would send an email to Debbie regarding tasks not completed form the last review and also to ask her to contact Curtis's mother. Email : Sent: 18 December 2015 13:14  To: Debbie Price  Cc: Veronica Ralph; Ian Harding  Subject: Curtis Osborne Hi Debbie, it was a shame you were unable to attend Curtis's CLA review. There were some outstanding tasks from the previous review that Chris was going to support Curtis with, so I just wanted to highlight them to you: Dentist: Curtis has a check-up appointment due in July. Fillings are outstanding and Curtis needs to discuss possible orthodontic treatment with the dentist. Chris will support Curtis to arrange and attend if needed. Curtis has not attended the dentist. *  Opticians: This is due. Chris will support Curtis to arrange / attend. Curtis will discuss contact lenses with the optician. Curtis has not attended the opticians.  Strength and difficulties questionnaire: Chris to complete when he knows Curtis better. It is not known if this was completed. Thanks. Also I spoke with Veronica today [REDACTED] also Curtis has not responded to my WhatsApp correspondence. Veronica expressed that there was concern for Curtis also and that the concern has been over the past 1 ½ weeks. Curtis has developed a friendship with a young woman and drugs may be involved. Curtis is not being seen other than by night staff and has no focus during the day. I understand Ria Panda is going to support Curtis with apprenticeship applications.  Could you please contact Becky, mother, on your return on [REDACTED]  Ian, have you seen Curtis? What is your view? Maria Finlayson

Reason for Contact	Stat LAC visit
Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	I visited Curtis for our pre arranged appointment at 3pm. This was to undertake his pathway plan. Curtis had just woken up and seemed very lethargic. Curtis said that he stays up during the night and mainly stays in bed for most of the day, but this would change when he enters back into education. Curtis said the he is continuing to smoke five pounds of weed per day. Discussions took place around the need to become motivated and the possible impact this was having on him. Curtis said that he had an appointment with access to music 11/4/16. I offered to collect Curtis in an attempt to get him participating within a structured week. Emotionally he was fine and said that he has fallen out with his mother, but this is the usual thing. This was over going away in a caravan and Curtis wanting to head of to collect a new pair of trainers. Curtis said that he was no longer on the Children's Care council and felt it was not productive.

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Following Curtis' review Ian contact Veronica Ralph to request that Debbie Price remained his keyworker, even though Debbie works at Blenheim and Curtis is now at Kingsdown. It was felt that either Curtis move back to Blenheim or have a new keyworker. Maria Finlayson wrote: 'I would also like to support Debbie remaining Curtis's keyworker . Curtis has had a tricky care experience through no fault of his own and consequently has experienced a number of changes of placement. He has had three social workers also. Curtis has made significant progress with Debbie as his keyworker and as we know the relationships with grownups are so significant and motivating for young people. Curtis has been NEET for a year and is close to securing a college placement and exploring other options to occupy his time, give him structure and boost his confidence. Curtis is a lonely young man with few friends and little structure to his day and night (so often they blur). Debbie is able to approach Curtis in a challenging and caring manner and he responds because he has a relationship and respect for Debbie. Curtis has not been able to find this with Darletta – it seems from Curtis's description that they just do not 'get' each other. We are at a point crucial to improving the outcomes for Curtis and I would be concerned about a resource issue being the motivator for decision making. I really do appreciate the difficulties, but would like you to reconsider this short term request. Curtis has since made the decision to move back to Blenheim where he will receive more support overall. Maria Finlayson

Action	Hello, I've spoken to Curtis and on balance have decided to agree it. He is really not happy at Kdown, and has said that since he moved in he hasn't seen a single person. I think that considering his vulnerability it would be in his best interest for him to have his old room back. He's the type of person that needs to be around others for support. He said that this is really affecting his mental health, as he feels completely isolated. He doesn't like the location, and says it's a long way into town. I'm not sure about the logistics of the move. Could you liaise with Jerry, and let him know.. If you could let me know when he can take it on, and I'll sign him up.

Detailed Notes	Curtis seemed to be settled back into Blenheim Road. Curtis informed me that he had an appointment with City of Bristol College 2 weeks ago re IT course, but did not turn up, but said he was again going to contact them. Curtis said that he now has another appointment with SGS college in Filton in two weeks time to do an assessment course in level one IT. This can then lead to a further years course if he is successful. He informed me that he is awaiting a date. I informed him that I would take him to this appointment and that he needed to let me know when this is. I explained to Curtis that he needs to be in training or education and that this would have a positive impact for future employment and making new friends. Curtis seemed enthusiastic about this. In terms of his passport, this has still not been progressed and his mother is not helping the situation with giving information or birth certificate to Curtis. I have now taken the pass port back and will get it sorted out via social work assistants. I will also send an E - mail to Chris Hutchings to remind him that Curtis is saying he has an appointment with SGS in two weeks and needs to keep on top of this.

Detailed Notes	From: Chris Hutchings Sent: 17 June 2016 10:50 To: Ian Harding Cc: Debbie Price; Veronica Ralph Subject: RE: Curtis Osbourne
	Hi Ian,
	I've been following up with Curtis, taken a little while to confirm all between shifts, Curtis being available and following up with college. Curtis has some information on an email, though hasn't forwarded this to me yet. I believe what is outlined below may be fuller than the email information that Curtis may have received.
	I've not been able to establish any clear dates as such. I've spoken to Emily at the Enrolment Centre to confirm as much as possible. This outlined that Curtis has been made a conditional offer for a level 1 BTEC Computing Course at Filton Campus. Curtis would be notified by post of what to do next, no further information other than to speak to the college directly.
	I was given the name of Gill Foulner, Administrator for the IT courses [REDACTED] I contacted them, though Gill not available. Was told that they had accepted Curtis and he has a conditional offer. The college will send out a letter for Curtis to attend a Taster Day, end of June early July.
	I've outlined that Curtis would need confirmation of course code, number of hours etc to assist with his benefits application in August. Will need to see what information comes from the taster day or request it again.
Analysis of Information	NB:
	Curtis said he has to take this course, as an entry route and hopes he can be advanced onto a level 2 course. His computer skills and knowledge are advanced in many areas, way beyond a level 1 course.
	Gill will not work through the summer holidays, so be good to request any further information / liaison with her before mid-July I think.
	Kind Regards
	Chris

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	I returned a call from Becky I had received earlier in the day. Becky had received a distressed call from Curtis as two workmen had let themselves into the house and no staff were present. Curtis wanted them to leave until staff were present. Curtis reported they had a master key. Curtis had called Ian but he was on holiday and unable to Curtis another contact number. Curtis tried to call staff but was not able to get a reply so called his mother. At this stage upset and cross. The workmen, I understand, agreed to leave. Becky had then called me in the absence of anyone else to find a solution. As I wasn't able to call Becky until a bit later this was then resolved. Curtis is joining them at the caravan for a few days. From: Maria Finlayson Sent: 29 July 2016 07:31 To: Chris Hutchings; Veronica Ralph; Ian Harding Subject: Curtis Osborne Hi, I received a call from Becky Osborne as Curtis had called her when two work men let themselves into the house and no staff were present. This clearly alarmed Curtis who felt they should leave until staff were present. I know attempts to contact staff were made but unsuccessful. Is it normal procedure for workmen to attend the house in the absence of staff? Curtis said they had a master key? Regards Maria Finlayson

Regarding Assessment

Detailed Notes	Curtis had his CLA review on 10/08/16 and express how anxious he was about starting college on 01/09/16 and that the thought of 2000 people was hugely worrying and he was concerned he would feel overwhelmed and not cope, leave and he doesn't have a plan B. Curtis reported that you only got support of you were statemented. The IRO agreed to take on the task of contacting the college, based on the number of outstanding tasks. TCT SGS Filton. After explaining Curtis was anxious about starting college I was put through to Pez Perrin who is deputy head of 'learner services' [REDACTED] Pez fully understood the needs of Curtis. They did not have a record from HOPE that Curtis was joining them and I explained he had not attended a recent visit as he had not been made aware of it. Curtis will have a mentor, based on the information I gave, Pat(ricia) Pocklington. Pez will call Curtis today to discuss what he needs to do and alleviate some of his anxieties; they will also meet him on the day he starts. They need a letter confirming Curtis is looked after so that they can sort his bursary and cancel the fees. I agreed I would confirm this. I informed that Curtis has not had an education meeting since January 2015 and would require a meeting soon after starting. I thanked Pez for her help and agreed I would send an email copying in all the relevant people. I gave Pez names and contact details of Debbie Price and Ian Harding. From: Maria Finlayson Sent: 12 August 2016 08:30 To: Ian Harding; Jo Essex; Debbie Price; 'patricia.pocklington [REDACTED] 'pez.perrin [REDACTED] Cc: Head Virtual Hope; Sue Cox Subject: Curtis Osborne I am emailing following on from my conversation with Pez, deputy head of learner services at SGS Filton, yesterday. Pez was going to call Curtis yesterday (I passed on his telephone number). Pez will arrange for Curtis to complete some paperwork so that bursary and fees are sorted before he starts on 01/09/16 and also arrange support for him and talk him through what will happen when he starts. Hopefully this will ease Curtis's anxieties. Curtis will need an education meeting, so Ian, if this could be arranged ASAP. I am enclosing a letter to confirm Curtis's looked after status so that his bursary can be calculated and his fees waived. Text to Curtis to let him know I had contacted college and to ensure they had contacted him and to let him know the support was good.

Detailed Notes	£100 pounds was given to Curtis for clothes and a months bus tickets to enable him to get to medical appointments and to college. Curtis informed me that he had only just got up, which is again concerning. I informed Curtis that he needs to start getting up as he will be going to college soon. Curtis very polite and asked me if I was okay and I returned the compliment. Curtis in my opinion is going to continue to struggle to get to college as he is not getting up, despite conversations with him about this. He is going to need to be initially taken there either by myself or by his key worker Debbie.

Reason for Contact	Returned telephone call from Becky Osborne.
Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Becky rang to say that Curtis has disowned them. Went out with his friends for his 18th, following his recovery from his hangover, Lee collected him and took him to the caravan for a few days. Presents, balloons, bunting. On the first night after a nice evening Curtis wouldn't go to sleep and became aggressive in the caravan. You don't like me and this is evidenced because 'when I was little you told me my dad was visiting and he didn't'. Curtis started again on the bank holiday morning, seeming to be angry with Becky. Curtis said that Becky needed to be assessed, Becky explained she sees a psychologist and has counselling and has asked them. Curtis didn't eat on Monday. He didn't want to stay but didn't want to get the bus or train; Lee couldn't take him until Tuesday. Curtis stayed but was a challenge and each time he would say 'you should have taken me back' Becky went for a walk with him and Curtis was sweet and kind and helped Becky up some steps; once back at the caravan Curtis became angry again. Curtis was negative about starting college. Curtis told Kaytlin that she will end up where he is, upsetting Kaytlin. Curtis shouts and swears, bringing up the past. I spoke with Kaytlin also, always a pleasure. They are having a day trip to Weston on Thursday. Agreed I would speak to Curtis, in a little while, to see if Becky, Curtis and I could meet to chat and resolve some of the recurring issues.

Detailed Notes	From: Maria Finlayson  Sent: 05 September 2016 09:22  To: Ian Harding; Jo Essex; Debbie Price; Ann James  Subject: Curtis Osborne Hi, I had several emails over the weekend from Becky, Curtis's mother. Curtis contacted Becky as his money has not been sorted out. I am guessing this is his benefits. He is worried he is going to be thrown out of Blenheim as he does not have the £80 that has been requested. Curtis is saying that his money from the LA has ceased but his benefits have not started. This was an action from Curtis's review in May ' Advance Benefit Claim to be processed six weeks prior to Curtis's 18th birthday ' and at his recent review. Can you let me know what the situation is with Curtis's benefit claim and what has caused the delay? It may be that all is in order but this has not been communicated to Curtis. Curtis's biggest concern is that he is due to start college tomorrow and is consumed with anxiety (which is an issue aside of this) about having no money and no home. I tried to reassure that the LA would not cease paying Curtis until his benefits were in place and that he would not be thrown out of Blenheim. Ann – I am including you as I can see Jo is away until the 15th. Thank you Maria Maria Finlayson

Detailed Notes	I met with Curtis. Curtis said that he emotionally okay and that he was fine. We discussed why he felt he was not able to attend SGS. Curtis said that he had gone on his own to the college three times. But felt that the class was too large for him, which raised his anxieties. Curtis said that he did not want anyone to think that he was being lazy, but would prefer a smaller class. I informed him that I had referred him to Ria Padya asking education and training worker. Curtis was pleased about that. We also completed his driving license and I gave him a copy of his birth certificate. Veronica Ralph informed me that Curtis will have to move on either to youth priority housing or home. Curtis presented as clean and tidy, but education and training remains a concern.

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Present Ian Harding PA, Debbie Price, Key worker, Angela Ryan Virtual Hope. Non attendee, kim Taylor employment, education and development officer. A media course was put to Curtis, which would of been a smaller setting than SGS college. Curtis did not feel this would be any good for him as it was not IT, which is what he wants to do. An IT apprenticeship was also put forward, this was again with SGS college, but work based apprenticeships. Curtis said he was interested in this and Angela Ryan was going to speak with the course leader. Other venues for IT were discussed such as Ashton park, which was not running as it did not have enough people. The Park and partnership west. The difficulties are that Curtis does not have any GCSE and a course will have to be found that allows Curtis to undertake his GCSE'S as well as practical training if he wishes to continue in It as a career.

Detailed Notes	What is going well?
	Curtis has previously been able to engage in education when there is a small class and he enjoyed access to music.
	His passport has arrived and he has applied for his provisional licence.
	What are we worried about?
	Curtis is still NEET. PEP was held on the 22 Sep as he didn't want to start SGS as college as he felt it was too big. He was offered smaller group focused learning life skills lessons but he has already completed this. Curtis does not want to engage with part time training/ work experience IT placement with Bristol City Council. Kim will visit in three weeks' time to try again to get him into college.
	Curtis not answering his phone to Ian. Ian will try writing to him and arrange a meeting with Debbie, Kim and Ian.
	Curtis is currently refusing to go to the GP about his anxiety as the pills he was previously prescribed made him sick.
	Scaling - : 4
	This score is based on a scale of 0 to 10 where 0 is that the young person is unhappy, unsettled and is not achieving their full potential. This may be due to difficulties with their accommodation, or education, employment or training or in their relationships with friends and family. They may have unmet needs in terms of mental or physical health, substance misuse, be at risk of going missing, offending or CSE and 10 is where the young person is happy, settled and achieving their full potential. They have settled accommodation, are engaged in education, training or employment, have positive relationships and are either independent or working towards independence
	Next Steps:
	Ian to arrange a meeting with Curtis to try and prepare him for education by exploring what helped him attend previous courses.
	Debbie {keyworker} to support him to go the GP.

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	What is going well? A meeting was held with Curtis, Kim, Debbie and Ian. The outcome was to enrol him on a computer training course in programming. Curtis tried the course but didn't like it and wanted to try fixing computers instead and enrolled on a training opportunity with Learn Direct. Curtis engages with Ian every month to review his support and pathway plan and works with his keyworker Debbie who will support him to manage his anxiety so that he can leave the house. His provisional licence has arrived. What are we worried about? Curtis mental health is concerning. He has been to his GP about his depression and was prescribed anti-depressants again although no additional support/therapy was offered. His Mum rings him early hours of the morning and criticises him. He doesn't feel able to ignore mum in case she stops him from seeing sister Catelyn. Personal Advisor Scaling - : 3.5 Using a scale of 1 to 10 where 0 is that the young person is unhappy, unsettled and is not achieving their full potential. This may be due to difficulties with their accommodation, or education, employment or training or in their relationships with friends and family. They may have unmet needs in terms of mental or physical health, substance misuse, be at risk of going missing, offending or CSE and 10 is where the young person is happy, settled and achieving their full potential. They have settled accommodation, are engaged in education, training or employment, have positive relationships and are either independent or working towards independence. Next Steps: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>1. Meet with Deb and Curtis to make realistic plan how to support him with depression &amp; moving on.</li> <li>2. Curtis to be advised to go to the job centre to review his benefits and discuss being switched from JSA to ESA. Ian to ring Debbie this week to advise and arrange for Curtis to be supported to achieve this.</li> </ol>

Detailed Notes	Up and around the house, have spent most of the morning with him, talking about his Interview this afternoon with 16-25 at 2pm. Curtis saying he is not sure if he is going to attend, I have explained that if he do not attend his choices will be limited i.e. Foyer or St Georges which Curtis is not happy about, as he was told he did not have to move out until he got his Home Choice flat. I have explained that there is now a 2 year time limit as I told him this before, and also the fact that he is not doing any ETE. Curtis says he is not going to the Interview as he do not feel well enough to go. I try and persuade him to go as it will be a good opportunity to find out what they can offer, Curtis not in a very good mood, so I leave him to calm down. I took a letter up to him a little later which Curtis was not happy about, he got angry, but I managed to talk through the letter and that Veronica is trying to help him. Curtis agreed to attend an Interview but not today asked if Veronica could change the appointment at 16-25 for another day.

	Hi, Curtis came in this morning and met with my colleague for his housing assessment. He is also requesting to be considered for a s/c flat. Unfortunately, the situation is the same at the moment in that we don't have void flats to offer and therefore it is very likely that Curtis will be offered a room in a shared house. This will give him experience of a higher level of independence in a shared house. It is low level support where there are no staff on site and he will be required to meet with his support worker every 2 weeks. He will also be responsible for paying service charge every week of £8.05. This seems to be a higher level of independence than his current placement and therefore will help him to prepare for independent living in his own flat via Homechoice. 1625IP also offer MOT (Move On Training) that I would recommend for both Curtis to attend if they are placed with us. It supports young people to understand and manage a tenancy/bills in preparation for their move on accommodation after they leave this service. The shared dispersed housing that we would offer both of them will be working towards preparing them for their own tenancy in a flat. Hope that helps. Sophie Cooper  Housing and Allocations Administrator 1625 Independent People          Kingsley Hall, 59 Old Market Street          Bristol BS2 0ER 3rd Party [REDACTED]

Detailed Notes
Analysis of Information

Action	Veronica Curtis placed regular bids during the bidding cycles from 24 January 2017 through to 5 March 2017. Then no bids were received until 4 May 2017 when he submitted one bid. He submitted one bid again during the cycle ending 14 May 2017 and has submitted 3 bids during the current cycle. Until this cycle Curtis has only been bidding on local authority properties. This cycle two of his bids have been on housing association properties. In regard to timescale Curtis's effective date within band 2 is 28 November 2016. The applicant who was offered the property that Curtis bid on in the cycle ending 14 May 2017 had an effective date of 13 April 2016. So the likelihood is that it will be at least a further eight months before he is rehoused. One bedroom properties are in very high demand due to both stock levels and the fact that the majority of applicants on the housing register require one bedroom accommodation. This period would be reduced if Curtis would bid on studio accommodation (bed sitting room). However as it's a choice based lettings scheme it is his decision which properties he bids on. I hope that this e-mail clarifies the situation. Kind regards Phil Phil George Team Leader HomeChoice Bristol (TS) 3rd Floor North Wing 100 Temple Street Bristol BS1 6AN

Detailed Notes	Arranged to visit Curtis this evening at 7pm, I took his mail over to him, he is expecting a couple of parcels but has not arrived at Blenheim yet I will let him know when they arrive. Curtis is complaining to me that he has been told he is not allowed any more money from his leaving care grant for saucepans and oven trays so he is unable to cook. Also he has no blind / curtains in his windows but he says he has been refused any more funds. Curtis says he has not been paid yet? from ESA and he should be entitled to money from his Social worker. Curtis also complaining about the amount of electric he is using, Advised him that we spoke about this when he was at Blenheim and how expensive it is to live Independently. Curtis is saying he is living in one room he do not use his bedroom, his living room/Kitchen is getting in a mess rubbish building up, although he says he do put his rubbish out. Curtis also complaining about his washing machine, as Jerry can not fit it until Wednesday, have advised him to use the laundrette whilst he is waiting for Jerry. Curtis also says he is not getting on with his mum at the moment so is having no contact. My visit to Curtis was him moaning about everything. I asked him if he had been out in the local area says he has been to the local shops, he has met one other resident in the building just to say hello. Curtis had his friend Oscar visiting whilst I was there, will arrange to visit Curtis one more time in a couple of weeks.

Detailed Notes	Dear Hetty and Andy, Just a quick update with regard to EET. I met CO on Tuesday 22nd and we talked about his plans to return to Access to Music college and do the Music Production Level 3 qualification. When we met three weeks earlier he seemed keen on the idea, but he was uncertain about whether his music was good enough and also anxious about the idea of being in a classroom with other students. When I met him on Tuesday he told me that the last date that ATM could offer him an interview would be on September 1st. He said that he was going on a family holiday in Cornwall/Dorset (Can't quite remember) from Thursday 24th through to September 4th. His concern was that he would be unable to attend an interview due to being on holiday. He gave me some names of people at the college, Matt B and Gareth. Then we went for a walk down to Wapping Warf and sat in the sun for a bit. When I returned to the office I contacted ATM and spoke to Matt B, who is the course lead for Music Production Level 3. He suggested that as long as Curtis made an online application for the course, then staff and Curtis could contact him to arrange an interview appointment on his return from holiday. I attempted to contact Curtis the following day, but he would not pick up. I went ahead and made the online application, on the grounds that this would, at least, give Curtis the option of attending an interview if this is what he wants to do. Hetty said that when she met Curtis in mid-week he told her that he was thinking about doing his Mathematics and English levels or applying for Open University. Curtis didn't say anything about his levels when we spoke, but we did talk briefly about OU. I suggested that if he look at the OU brochure that I printed for him, then we could contact them and ask about course-specific information. Obviously, with Curtis being on holiday for the next week, I don't imagine that we'll be making any progress with this. I will send him a text to let him know that we applied for ATM and suggest that we meet and talk about that when he return to Bristol. Can you please forward this message onto Curtis' PA and also onto Ros W? I have not migrated their email addresses from my Creative Youth Network account yet. All the best Kes KES ROBINSON Engagement Worker CREATIVE YOUTH NETWORK

Detailed Notes	Curtis had left a message for me yesterday asking for some advice about his sick note - I arranged to visit today - Curtis looked really well! he is usually in dressing gown when I visit and had new clothes on and had done hair. he had enjoyed his holiday to brean with the family. he showed me sick note - wasn't sure exactly who it should go to - last time he took one to job centre they said they did not receive it - I said I would take and scan and talk to andy about this. he had just had virgin wifi installed which he was really pleased about. also talked about sofa - he saved some of his back payment to pay towards this - Jo Essex had agreed he could use some of LCG so I said to email me the sofa and we would take it from there. has college interview next week that kez is taking him too- he is nervous but was happy to hear both his old tutors want to interview him. I said would be in touch about sick note

Starting college has highlighted to Curtis the need for him to work on his well being. Specifically around his sleeping, eating, mental and physical health. He has been extremely exhausted since starting the course and it has shown him that he needs to drastically change his lifestyle if he wants to pursue things again in the future. Me and Kes have discussed our on going support and I will continue to try and help Curtis build some stability around his routine and try and tackle the current sleeping and eating patterns whilst Kes looks for some different things to fill his time with. I was supposed to meet Curtis today but like you I haven't been able to get in touch. I don't know what his current benefits situation is and whether he made the change to income support or not but this needs to be chased up. Paul - as you make contact with him could you chase this please? I think it would be great for social services to do some form of handover with CO as I know he has had many transitions with workers, particularly as of late and it makes a significant impact when these are done well. Best wishes,  Hetty Graham

Detailed Notes	From: Vicky Cox [REDACTED] Sent: 30 October 2017 15:01 To: Paul Jefferson; Hetty Graham; Ros Wilson Cc: Clare Savill Subject: Curtis Osbourne - Concerns Hello all. I have met with Curtis Osbourne today and im left feeling slightly concerned about wellbeing. He states to me that he's been very unwell and feeling low / lacking motivation to go out and has not left his flat for some time now. I did ask if he has visited his GP and he said no but also quick to advise me that there is not much the GP can do. I tried to open up conversations on how this could change or what can he do to make a difference but he couldn't think of anything. My other concern, is the amount of rubbish he is hoarding inside his flat. I have raised this with him on my last visit and asked him to take it out to the bins (the bins are outside, through the back garden and the door to access this only opens up between the hours of 6p – 9pm) however visiting him today, I noticed he has not done this and his flat is looking very untidy / dirty. I have had a discussion with him about this and I felt he tried to use any angle to get out of it. I am aware that the bin situation at this scheme is not idea but the doors open every day at 6-9pm to allow the tenants to dispose of their rubbish. Can we all please remind him of the dangers this can cause (fire hazard) and the effect that can possibly be having on his wellbeing too. I'm aware that should the housing officer visit the flat, she may issue a warning because of this too. Paul – have you been able to meet up with him yet? Is there any support he can have in regards to tidying up his flat? Kind Regards Vicky Cox Support Worker WOE Young People Services

Hi Kes

Yes, I agree, I think that's a mistake. I met with him a couple of weeks ago now and he talked about working but at that time was still going to attend the Flowers Hill assessment. Give me a call when you're ready although I'm in supervision between 10:30 – 12.

Thanks

Dear Paul,

I met up with CO (previously with Andy P and Ros W) yesterday and accompanied him to a counselling session. This is really positive because we've been trying to set this up for a while. However, he told me that he recently decided not to attend a Flowers Hill assessment because he had made plans to start a delivery job. He told me that his benefit payments would be stopping imminently. Hetty Graham (Futures for Me) and I think that, despite his good intentions, Curtis will be really up against it to make enough money to cover his needs (and specifically his rent). I am going to contact Flowers Hill today to see if there is any way we can re-schedule his assessment, on the grounds of his poor mental health affecting his decision making about not attending the last appointment. Obviously we need to try and turn things around quickly or his arrears (rent) will mount very quickly. Hetty and I think that his poor mental and physical health will prevent him from doing much more than a couple of days work before it becomes too much for him. Please give me a call when you are available today. I will call you later on to discuss this and seek your advice.

I am using a personal email address because I am on outreach and I cannot access my 1625 Independent People account. Can you please reply to me at my work email address - [REDACTED]

Yours Sincerely Kes Robinson [REDACTED]

I visited Curtis on the 20th December and we called ESA because his payments had been suspended. They told us that the scanned support letter had been sent to the wrong place and the decision to suspend his payment had, consequently, been made without consideration of this. ESA agreed to expedite a Mandatory Reconsideration with the support letter. They said that ESA would call Curtis and then discuss the reconsideration. They said it was unlikely that this would happen before Christmas, but that it should happen soon afterwards. I don't know if Curtis answered that call. He isn't responding to my contact at the moment, so Jon (Future For Me) and I are going to go around there tomorrow morning. Jon visited Curtis at home on the 29th December, but Jon was unable to offer him any support because Curtis didn't want him to go into the flat. In fairness Curtis hasn't met Jon before, so some uncertainty is understandable. Hetty made a referral to NAOS Therapy/counselling to help Curtis with his anxiety and depression, and he has attended a number of weekly sessions since the start of December. The goal with this is to support his mental health first and then to address the drug use. I don't think that he is currently well enough to function without self-medication, although I completely appreciate that this is also preventing him from functioning with regards to his accommodation, budgeting and self-care. We are going to reinforce your message about the importance of cleaning his flat and maintaining his tenancy. Hello Kes.

Sorry for my delay in responding to your email.

Curtis did have a flat inspection as there are concerns regarding him managing the cleanliness of it and keeping on top of it. Concerns were highlighted to him throughout this meeting with the housing officer and a follow-up meeting has been arranged for Jan 2018 I believe and it's been asked for him to remove rubbish and boxes and have a general tidy up. There are health and safety concerns especially fire. He also informed us that because his bedroom is so messy and overcrowded with rubbish / boxes he is no longer using it and sleeps etc in the lounge. He also added to this, that because the cost of heating his flat is high, it's cheaper for him to just heat the lounge with a fan heater however when we were there, he had no money at all due to the ESA sanction and even the lounge was cold. I would like to add though, that he had made sure his internet was still working / been paid so I did have a discussion around his priorities and choosing to have internet over heating was his choice.

I dropped a food voucher to him a few days later, for him to go and collect from a food bank however his friend was in his flat and he was not keen on letting me into the flat so we sat in the corridor writing the voucher out. I can only assume that the strong smell of cannabis coming from his flat was the real reason he did not want me to go in. I then later saw him that day in ASDA with a friend and when I spoke to him few days later to check he had collected the food from the food bank, he said he had not done that.

I have concerns about him smoking cannabis which leaves him unmotivated and spending all day / night on his computer which again leaves him unmotivated to clean his flat or even attempt to do this. This in turn leaves him unable to manage his tenancy.

Unfortunately, failing to comply with actions from the inspection could put his tenancy at risk.

I hope this sheds some light on Knightstones concerns.

Kind Regards

Dear All,

I caught up with Curtis last week to accompany and support him along to his first counselling session with NAOS. He was very positive about this and has another appointment next week. Hetty has arranged for 24 sessions, so hopefully this longer-term support will give Curtis a solid chance to make some progress with his mental health.

Curtis also discussed his concerns about his flat and said that he had an inspection coming up. I strongly advised him to do as much as possible with this to avoid sanctions for mess/blocking exits etc. I spoke to him yesterday and he said that he thought he had done enough. Vicky, is this the case or will he have any follow-up inspections with need for further improvement?

Curtis also talked about his concerns around missing successive ESA assessment appointments because he had planned to start working for Deliveroo and felt that it would be deceptive to try and claim ESA. I explained that this type of plan should be discussed as the implications are quite serious (having benefits cut off). I feel that Curtis is not ready to sustain employment currently because of his poor sleep hygiene and his difficult mental health. After some discussion Curtis agreed that we should try to re-arrange an appointment with ESA to protect his income until he is able to demonstrate that he can sustain employment. After contact with Flowers Hill and ESA, we were advised to write a support letter explaining his absence. I did this with reference to Curtis' poor mental health and I gave it to him yesterday. He is going to take it to the Bedminster job centre today and get them to scan it and send it off to the assessors. I have attached a copy of this letter. ESA said that he is not in immediate danger of having his payments stopped, but that he does not to provide a support/explanation letter or he will be sanctioned.

I would write (type) more, but I have to leave as I have a day of outreach coming up. Please give me a call if you want any clarification or to chat about anything Curtis-related.

All the best Kes

Will be aiming to pick him up from his flat and take him to our office to do some cooking together. FYI here is the email exchange between myself and CO's NAOS therapists: "Hi Hetty Just thought I'd update you on CO.  Unfortunately he's only attended 3 out of our 8 sessions (most recently missed today's) and we're considering what's the best thing to do moving forward. It would be such a shame to end our sessions as I feel like he really benefits when he's here. The last few times I've seen him I've come away feeling quite concerned about his low mood and I think having a space to talk through things might be really helpful for him. Wondering if it might be worth you checking in with him to see if he still wants to come to therapy? Thanks  Lowri" ----- "Hi Lowri, Thank you for getting in touch. I've been meaning to message. I also think it would be great for him to continue. He has said that he's finding it beneficial. It would be great to have your professional input as we're finding it hard to work with Curtis. Would you be able to come to a multi-agency meeting (including CO) and share your input as to where to go forward with his support. My support with him will be ending in May and my colleague Kes will also no longer be working with him shortly due to the allocated time we have with him. We are all equally concerned about his mental health and drug use. Let me know your thoughts on this, Hetty Graham&gt; Future 4 Me Project Worker  1625 Independent People" ----- "Hi Hetty, Unfortunately we are unable to attend multi-agency meetings as it can impact and compromise the therapeutic relationship between clients and therapists. Lowri is currently on leave next week which Curtis is aware of. I would suggest Lowri has a conversation with Curtis on her return around the need for therapy sessions to be regularly attended to reap the benefits, to revisit and re-establish the therapeutic goals and invite Curtis to suggest ideas which would support him in making the sessions. We are able to send reminders of sessions the day before and on the day to support him in attending. We hope that the multi-agency meeting has some positive outcomes and do let us know if there are any other ideas around how we can support his attendance but also, as we all know the young people we work with need to commit to themselves to make change. Kindest Regards,  Nadinne" ----- "Hi Nadinne, Not a problem, I completely understand. CO has real trouble making it out of the flat during the day so we have similar problems in terms of his engagement. The only way we can engage him most of the time is if we go to his flat. I will update you both once we have the meeting, it would be great if Lowri could have that conversation with him. Will keep you updated on any outcomes that the meeting has. Best wishes, Hetty Graham  Future 4 Me Project Worker"

	Hi Paul, CO disclosed some information to me in one of our sessions which I feel is necessary to pass on to you and the wider multiagency. We've been trying to understand how CO has been sustaining himself with lack of benefits for a little while now. When asked about this in a session where I was trying to help him sort out his JSA, he told me that his friends were still helping out (which he has stated previously). When asked whether he owes them anything for the money and "free weed" that they give to him, he said no. I then asked whether he was doing anything for them in return and he then disclosed that he "helps them out by trimming a bit of bud to help with their harvest." I tried to challenge this in regards to risk and having positive peers in his life but he dismissed it and starting ranting about the benefits system. It seems that he sees them at night and then sleeps all day which would explain his poor sleep hygiene. I've spoken to Fran about what to do with this information and after checking our policies we don't need to action it as it is not in our property, or in his property and we don't have any other information about his associates or where exactly he is going. So I have just updated our risk assessment for him which I can send to you if you would like a copy. So, from our end it's more of a safeguarding concern around risk of him being exploited and increasing risk to himself from potentially dangerous associates. Fran has advised me to pass this on to you and the wider multi-agency so that you can action accordingly and are aware. Best wishes, Hetty Graham  Future 4 Me Project Worker          1625 Independent People          Kingsley Hall, 59 Old Market Street          Bristol BS2 0ER          reg no. 23964R  www.1625ip.co.uk

Chatted a bit about ESA & JSA, general welfare and tidying up the flat but I woke him up with my visit so only stayed for about 30 minutes. He was aware that the meeting was next week.

Hi all,

FYI: CO gave the job a go but didn't return the following day as decided it wasn't for him.

Not sure whether he would have been paid for that first day so worth checking in with him about that.

Vicky: would you mind having the conversation with him in your next housing session and maybe complete the change of circs. so that he doesn't fall into any issues with his HB?

Best wishes,

Hello All

Please be advised his HB claim is back in payment. However if now working, once he informs Hb the claim will be suspended again until they get wage slips

Vicky – can you please do an HB calculator with him to see if likely to have any entitlement going forward. Also please request 4 week run on if he is entitled (if he was in receipt of benefits for last 6 months).

He also has an outstanding recharge debt £138 for gaining entry after he forgot his keys, which he needs to start making payments for.

Regards

Detailed Notes

Housing - Spoke to Curtis about reporting his housing incidents to BHC&DS but he wasn't keen as he felt it made the situation worse. Found the following information on their website and emailed it over to Curtis.

From: Paul Jefferson
Sent: 04 July 2019 16:38
To: 'curtisosborne@protonmail.com'
Subject: Bristol Hate Crime & Discrimination Services

I've taken this from the website and the link is <https://www.bhcads.org.uk/>

How can BHC&DS help me?
Bristol Hate Crime and Discrimination Services can help you in a variety of ways; from practical and emotional support to legal advice, everything we do will be guided by you and only with your consent.

Our trained professionals will:

- Help you cope with the stress, fear and possible trauma caused by hate crime and discrimination.
- Listen to you, and give you emotional support and advice as your case develops.
- Engage with you and other involved agencies to find a resolution that works for you.
- Keep you informed about the progress of your case and what other organisations are doing to help.
- Provide you with legal advice (where applicable) and support you through the criminal justice system.
- Employ techniques such as mediation to resolve disputes and ensure a good outcome for you.
- Support you in making complaints against other organisations or agencies if you feel they have let you down.
- Get you the help you need, whether it is from us or by giving you referrals to other agencies.

This service is completely free and confidential.

Why should I report?
By reporting hate crime and discrimination:

- you will stop it getting worse
- you will stop it happening to other people
- you will help identify the offenders
- you will help make your community safer and fairer

You can report:

- as a victim
- as a witness
- anonymously (though this may limit our ability to help you)

Hate crime should always be taken seriously; no matter how low-level it may seem to be, the impact of hate motivated abuse at all levels can be extreme and long lasting.

If lower level incidents aren't dealt with or people are allowed to get away with such offences, the situation can escalate, become more serious, and victims can give up on reporting.

Action should be taken regardless of whether the offender is under the influence of drugs or alcohol; is a child or an older person; has mental health issues or a disability: there is no excuse for hate related abuse.

If the offender is vulnerable or there are mitigating factors, this can be taken into account when the case is investigated.

Detailed Notes	From: Paul Jefferson  Sent: 05 September 2019 18:11  To: Tanya Baker-Gill  Cc: Ken Lewis  Subject: 35 Spartley Drive, Bedminster Down, Bristol BS13 8DQ Hello Tanya I'm just writing to you with my concerns for Curtis Osborne at the above address. I am aware you spoke to Curtis's mum earlier and I spoke to her shortly afterwards. I do have some serious concerns about Curtis, particularly for his wellbeing at this time. As you are aware there have been a series of incidents between Curtis and the resident downstairs. As I understand it this conflict has widened recently to include another neighbour and other people from the surrounding area. Curtis has told me about several incidents where he has suffered verbal harassment, his gas supply being turned off and one incident where he found someone urinating through his letterbox (who returned into the downstairs flat). There is also some suspicion about whether the house is being used for illegal business. I have worked with Curtis for the past two years and my colleague worked with Curtis for the two years prior to this. Both of us find it extraordinary that Curtis has become embroiled in a situation like this and we cannot believe that he could possibly be an instigator for this situation. Curtis wants to live quietly without bothering anyone and work calmly towards returning back into education or employment. He was very pleased to be moving to the area of his flat when he was successful through HomeChoice and made positive plans to explore his local area with his dog but now feels trapped in his home. In fact Curtis currently feels trapped out of his home. Curtis's mental health was a consideration before he moved to the flat and the flat's location near to the edge of the city was one of the factors that encouraged him to take it so he could benefit from the open spaces nearby by walking his dog. Since moving into this flat there has been no improvement in Curtis's mental health and in my personal opinion I believe his mental health has declined. He has made threats of suicide and self-harm and I am extremely concerned that he may carry out these threats. Whilst Curtis has reported these incidents to housing and the police he feels that this has not helped the situation. When housing workers or police officers tried to resolve the difficulties with the downstairs neighbour, the anti-social behaviour would increase immediately after the worker or officer had left the area. I am confident there have been more incidents than have been reported to housing and the police but Curtis has been reluctant to report them for fear of reprisal. Curtis feels that the concerns he has expressed to the police in the past have been dealt with inadequately and that he is now being treated as a nuisance problem himself and discouraged to report any further incidents. With an increase in anti-social behaviour occurring after each report I can empathise with his reluctance to do so. It has been said that the police cannot support any reference to the house being unsafe for Curtis to live in unless he enables a prosecution of the neighbour downstairs. Due to threats from other people linked with the downstairs neighbour, Curtis is justifiably concerned that further reprisals and anti-social behaviour is likely to occur should he support a prosecution. Curtis is a vulnerable young person who was taken into the care of Bristol City Council. As a Bristol City Council Care Leaver the responsibility for ensuring that care leavers achieve good outcomes lies across the whole of Bristol City Council. Children in care and care leavers are amongst the most vulnerable children and young people in our city and as corporate parents, it is our role to ensure that they are safe, happy, and given every opportunity to achieve their full potential. As part of our Local Offer to Care Leavers we pledge that we will find Curtis somewhere safe and suitable to live and I'm confident his current accommodation does not fit this description. As his corporate parents could we help to keep Curtis safe by making a managed move to another, safer property somewhere away from the close and evident dangers he is currently living with. This feels similar to me to a recent high profile case in Bristol with the occupant making repeated calls about harassment to Police and Housing which culminated in a tragic death. And as the Multi-Agency Learning Review stated in that case "there was insufficient emphasis on problem solving and the risks of harm that were evident were not adequately assessed or addressed". Thank you for hearing my concerns and I look forward to a reply Regards  Paul Jefferson  Personal Advisor  Through Care Team 8 3rd Party

Detailed Notes	Accommodation TCF Curtis's Mum - She informed me that Curtis was in a bad way and had disappeared from his home. The ASB from the downstairs neighbour had continued and Curtis was currently staying elsewhere. The incidents had now widened to include people from the surrounding area and a neighbour from the adjoining flats. She also said that Curtis had been discouraged to make further complaints about his neighbour to the police and it was said that he had been threatened with making nuisance calls should he continue. This is an allegation, I didn't hear the evidence. Curtis has also said he thinks the house is being used to distribute drugs and local young people are delivering drugs around the area from this address. TCT Nick - Spoke to Nick and discussed ways to help Curtis. Nick felt that the housing record wasn't entirely clear what they had done so spoke about starting a 'Community Trigger' Both agreed that this should be mentioned to Curtis. TCT Curtis - He was ok but not keen to return home. He also agreed that a community trigger sounded good and he was going to start it with his mum.
Analysis of Information	Curtis has been suffering harassment for some time from the downstairs neighbour and now feels unable to return. If what Curtis's mum has said is true about the police response this is very concerning.
Action	Curtis to start a Community Trigger.

Curtis calling stating that he is in need of accommodation. Curtis stating that he has a flat however he has had numerous threats of violence and harm from neighbours so has been living with mum and friends for the past 2 weeks but they can no longer help him and he needs somewhere tonight for him and his dog otherwise he will be street homeless.

Curtis states that housing are aware and his social worker but no one is believing him and the police have not helped.

I asked Curtis if his mum had said that he could not return tonight. Curtis said his mum is frustrated and blaming him for not doing anything about the situation. Curtis stating that he has done all he can, he is waiting for his social worker Paul to call him so he can give police references to start the community trigger.

Agreed with Curtis that I would call his mum tonight and make her aware of situation and see what he can do tonight.

Detailed Notes	From: Ken Lewis Sent: 11 September 2019 14:22 To: Nick Hampson Cc: Paul Jefferson; Tanya Baker-Gill; Housing Advice Subject: RE: EDT - CURTIS OSBORNE INFO ONLY, NOT PLACED - 10/9/19
	Hi Nick for your information both myself and Tanya have held a number of discussions with in the main Curtis's mother in the past couple of weeks. We have been aware that he was staying with his mother in Brean in a Caravan. Housing and the Police have exhausted their investigations regarding this case. I have made it clear as has Tanya to Curtis's mother that both ourselves and the Police would be able to help Curtis by opening a dialogue with Curtis's neighbour and giving them the necessary warnings. I would also suggest that we could also get a mediation process started between Curtis and his neighbour. At this moment in time Curtis is not prepared to take any of these steps, this option has repeatedly been put to Curtis and his mother. We have discussed the case with the Police on a number of occasions the last time being yesterday at Broadbury Rd Police Station. They do not feel that Curtis would be placed in significant risk should he return to the property and as far as I am aware there have been no offences committed against Curtis that the Police have been able to take action against. There is a suggestion that Curtis's misuse of cannabis may be having an effect on his own thoughts regarding the matter. Curtis has also recently presented here at Temple St, has been seen by a duty Housing Officer and has been advised of the above. I am not sure at the moment that there is any point Curtis re-presenting here at Temple St as we would continue to give the same advice as I have stated above in this email ie allow ourselves and the Police to approach his neighbour on his behalf and if possible start up a mediation process and/or warn his neighbour regarding their future behaviour and return to his flat. I can also advise that when I last spoke to Curtis and his mother on 30/8/19 Curtis had been having suicidal tendencies and had been attended to by the Police in St Phillips on 27/8/19. I repeatedly asked Curtis's mother if he had seen anyone from the medical profession which she could not answer nor did they have a plan at the time to do so, I advised them of my concerns regarding this at the time and that he should do so as soon as possible. I would be interested to know whether Curtis has since seen anyone such as his GP. I am open to holding another meeting with Curtis however I must stress that this would not alter any of the above, we would only be advising Curtis all of the same above and therefore I am not sure how productive this would be for Curtis. The most important thing at the moment I would suggest is whether Curtis has seen anyone from the medical profession regarding his depression/anxiety, this question has still not been answered despite what occurred on 27/8/19 and would suggest this is the first subject that anyone should be discussing with Curtis should they manage to speak to him. Regards,  Ken Lewis  Supervisor  Estate Management Service

Detailed Notes	Spoke to Curtis re recent incidents. Mental Health - Curtis spoke about going to see his GP but said that he didn't have any mental health issues, any mental health issues were being caused by his housing situation and could be remedied with a move. Accommodation - Curtis was going to stay at the caravan in Brean over the weekend
Analysis of Information	Curtis feels that the untidiness of his flat is caused by a lack of readiness to live independently and if he could step back into supported housing he would be ok. My opinion is that it is more than this. When he lived in supported accommodation, he had a very untidy flat then too.

Detailed Notes	Curtis asked if we had 'sorted something out' for him and said that we have a duty to house him until he is 25 years old. I tried to explain that it was difficult as he has a tenancy and lots of housing options close down when someone is given a tenancy. Curtis said last night he stayed at the caravan. He managed to de-escalate arguments with his mum and managed to get her to agree that he could stay. He said he can probably stay there for a few more days. I asked if we could call his mum to explain things, he said no there is no point as she doesn't believe him or professionals. Regarding his mental health he said he feels everything that has happened has been blamed on his mental health and the fact he smokes weed but this isn't the case, that anyone in this situation would be struggling. I explained it was important he get help for his mental health as he is having a difficult time and needs the support, he agreed. I also said it shows everyone he doing what he can to help the situation. I offered to call his GP to see if we can get an urgent appointment for him, he said he cannot make an appointment as he is in Brean and there is no point coming back to Bristol unless he is moving to housing here. I told him Paul would be in later and would give him a call.

Subject: Complaint about PA/Social Worker

I'm writing this email to complain about my Social Worker Paul Jefferson. I'm writing this email because of the incompetency displayed by my PA/Social worker over the last few months, but specifically over the last week when dealing with my situation about becoming potentially homeless.

For the past 4 months I've been reporting to my PA issues about verbal harassment and threats made by my neighbor at my council property. I've told him that my living situation has become unbearable many months ago but he continued to ignore this results in my mental state rising to the point where I've been suicidal now for quite some time. He has ignored his duty of care multiple times and has left me feeling helpless in times of desperate need. He has also been postponing any efforts to help me recently as he explained to my Housing Tenant Support Worker "Nick Hampson" that he was to have a meeting with his colleagues and managers on Monday just gone. (16/09/2019) However when I called him about this, he denies any knowledge about having a meeting.

It was also discussed with him about a potential alternative accommodation option of "lodging" and that he was going to look into it, and then when I follow up and ask him questions about lodging and if he's looked into it, he doesn't even have a clue what "lodging" is. This is very frustrating when I am currently left homeless with a flat, because I am not able to return to the flat without danger of extreme violence from the neighbor.

Paul also said he was in liaison with duty worker "Mike" and it was promised to me that in extreme need, I would be able to rent a hotel and I would be fully reimbursed for the cost because I'm currently overstaying my stay at my parents where there has been high tensions because I've had to stay here for so long. After speaking with him today (19/09/2019) he confirmed that it was said that I would be able to get a hotel and reimbursed but it was now not possible. I asked him why and he could not give a answer, I then continued to question him about what would have happened if I took his word previously about getting a hotel, would I have been reimbursed then? And he confirmed that he had previously lied and if I had gotten a hotel when him and Mike had stated it was okay to, I would have NOT been reimbursed. This is simply stupidity when I can barely get by day to day as it is on the current money I'm receiving for Universal Credit and would have left me in a very awkward position of not only homelessness but being moneyless to. Nick Hampson can also confirm I was promised at least a night in a hotel where I would have been reimbursed as it was stated to Nick on the phone that this would have been possible.

The overall efforts of my PA/Social Worker helping with my case has been minuscule and I need someone to actually help with my case and form suggestions and ideals for temporary accommodation like I've been trying to. And I need someone who I can trust as I've lost faith and trust in Paul due to his lies, incompetence and unhelpful argumentative personality, relating to the facts that he's just my personal adviser and he can do is advise, when in fact I'm actually the local authorities responsibility till I'm 25. People can now stay in care up to the age of 25, meaning that there is some duty of care for people all the way up to the age of 25, whether they chose to save the government money by leaving the care system to go into shared housing. (Was forced into this as Foster carer used to lock the food cupboards and fridge restricting all access to food and become servery underweight because of this). If i cannot get any response soon I will be going to various Bristol newspapers to publish about the complete neglect of care from both Social Services and the Bristol City Council.

Yours faithfully
Curtis Osborne

Analysis of Information

I've told him that my living situation has become unbearable many months ago but he continued to ignore this results in my mental state rising to the point where I've been suicidal now for quite some time - Curtis has been advised to report incidents to police and housing which he has been reluctant to do due to the fear of reprisals. We have spoken about going to the GP and as late as this week Curtis said he didn't feel he needed to see his GP as any mental health problems were caused by his housing situation.

he was to have a meeting with his colleagues and managers on Monday just gone. (16/09/2019) - This was not a formal arranged meeting but a suggestion by Mike Stiles that I could speak to Branch Out.

he doesn't even have a clue what "lodging" [Lodging] is - I wasn't clear what he meant but a few seconds of chat cleared up that he was talking about Branch Out (Supported lodgings Scheme).

Paul also said he was in liaison with duty worker "Mike" and it was promised to me that in extreme need, I would be able to rent a hotel and I would be fully reimbursed for the cost - Speaking to Mike Stiles, this was an option that was discussed with Nick (Tenancy Support Officer) that may be possible in dire emergencies. It wasn't a promise. Curtis had already said earlier today that he was going to return to his flat.

he confirmed that it was said that I would be able to get a hotel and reimbursed but it was now not possible - I did not confirm that it was said that he could get a hotel.

he confirmed that he had previously lied and if I had gotten a hotel when him and Mike had stated it was okay to, I would have NOT been reimbursed - I did not confirm that I had lied. I agreed with Curtis that if he had got a hotel that night he probably wouldn't have been reimbursed for it.

So now whilst it may take up to a week for them to write this letter and I've done what was requested of me, I'm wondering what you can next do regarding my housing situation next? Thanks Curtis Osborne

I will put in an application to Bristol Charities for flooring funding and Curtis is keen to use his remaining LCG on a sofa. Health - Agreed that we would make a referral to Bristol Wellbeing Therapies for access to first line counselling. Also I will ask Adult Social Care to re-assess Curtis now he is in his new accommodation for help with his living needs. Housing Officer reported that his flat is very untidy.

Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Curtis requested some money for some help to buy additional food items. I advised it was unlikely that I would get anything as he was over 21 but would try. Spoke to duty manager who said it couldn't be done and rang Curtis back to let him know. Signposted him to food bank and Crisis fund but he wasn't interested in those.

Reason for Contact	TCF Curtis re. Health services
Regarding Assessment
Detailed Notes	Ind . Living Skills - Curtis requested to be taken off the food hampers as he wasn't eating much of them any more. We also spoke about doing a referral to Adult Social Care for continuing support but Curtis felt he was managing fine. He is intending on tidying up his spare room so was asking about recycling boxes. Currently they can't be delivered so he is using bags to clear the room. It is mostly paper and cardboard so he should be able to send it out with the general recycling. Health - I have a referral form for AMHS and sent a copy to Curtis. He is going to have a look and complete it and then send back his ideas to me.
